"THREE WEEKS IS SOCIAL STUDY

Moral Question Is Uppermost in Play
Which Will Be Presented This Evening at Opera House.

Popular books as a rule make a very poor material for plays, because they contain so much of the incident that must be, or necessity omitted. The notable exception, however, is Elinor Glyn's story "Three Weeks," which has been so widely discussed on both sides of the ocean. Since the original copyright performance in England, in which Miss Glyn appeared herself, the play has been revised and reconstructed to such an extent that it is said now to be a powerful love tragedy. It will be presented in its revised form at the Medford on Tuesday with a special cast of players, headed by the distinguished actress Miss Beryl Hope, and Harry C. Browne, who will play "The Lady" and "Paul" respectively. Others in the cast will be Miss Lillian Rhodes, Miss Caroline Lamar and the Messrs. Frank J. Kirk, Sydney Price, William C. Chatterton, W. T. Hayes, W. J. McConnell, R. H. Thomas,

Charles Monerief, William Casey and Albert Duall. The play will be mounted with special scenery, the two notable effects being the lawn before the hotel at Lucerne and the Boggia of the Palace of Venice, where the "Feast of the Roses" occurred.

Miss Glyn has a great motive in her book which was purposely or otherwise, misinterpreted by a host of readers; but, in her own dramatization of the story, she has left no room for doubt. The moral strength and object lessons are obvious to all.

The play begins with a prologue, showing the home of the Queen at Sardinia and introduces the character of her drunken and vicious husband, thus supplying a plausible motive for all that followed in her life. The sad story of this queen is of particular interest to women, who have comprehended and understood her better than men. They have wept with sorrow at her misfortune and sympathized with her in her great love. The Queen had a glorious motive for her sin which cannot be attributed to Marguerite, Sappho, Zaza, Camille or Lady Isabel. And to almost all her readers her character is superior in every respect and it may be truly said of her that "there is no joy but bitter tears will come to easter like a fallen angel forth."

Apples, more than 2,000,000 of them, including every variety, are to be seen among the horticultural exhibits in the different buildings at the Seattle exposition.

AUTOS RUNNING INTO LAKEVIEW

Plenty of Travel Between Klamath Falls and Lakeview for Two Auto Cars.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., July 13.—Lakeview is going to have a plethora of automobile lines and if the service is not just what the traveler desires it will not be the fault of the enterprising gentlemen who are engaging in the business. Last evening the first automobile arrived here from Lakeview. It was what is known as the Lambert car, the present stage contractors. This car left this morning for the county seat of Lake and will make the round trip every alternate day. Mr. Lambert left the car and will go to Lakeview for the purpose of arranging the schedule. At Lakeview connection will be made with the Alturas auto, so that it will be possible to travel from this city to Alturas in twelve hours.

The second auto to enter the field is one headed by W. L. Clapp. He left this morning for Lakeview, and will also cover the route every other day. It is quite possible that an agreement may be reached between him and the Lambert company whereby their cars will not leave on the same day. If this can be done, then it will afford a daily service between this city and Lakeview.

The plans of the Lambert company have not been fully matured. It is possible that Mr. Cross of Bly will place a machine on the run between Bly and Lakeview. In that case the Lambert will operate only between this city and Bly. In that case then, this company would give a daily service.

The Lambert car was driven by Phil Cross. He was accompanied by H. T. McKnight, who is to travel on the train between Weed and this city and make arrangements for the transportation of Lakeview passengers.

It is the intention of the auto people to make the run between the two cities in seven hours.

WHY JEFF DAVIS DIDN'T ATTEND TAFT'S DINNER

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Senator Jeff Davis has written a letter to the President telling him why he did not attend a recent dinner at the White House to which he was invited. He explains that it was due to the fact that he was compelled to look after his twelve-year-old son, and not to any intentional discourtesy. "On the evening of the dinner," he writes, "I allowed him to go to Fort Myer with a little companion to see the airship. He did not return until such a late hour that I became very much alarmed about him and went to look for him. I did not return until it was too late to be present in obedience to your kind invitation."

The senator writes wab6. Agi... The senator states further that his letter owes its origin to newspaper criticisms. He says he writes in the fear that some of these may fall within the President's observation. He says he does not want to be considered rude.

DES CHUTES RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION CAMP OPEN

GRASS VALLEY, Or., July 13.—The Twoby Bros., railroad contractors, of Spokane, have established headquarters at this place and have rented six office rooms. They also secured a warehouse for a commissary and have it filled with supplies for the men and teams. They have built a large cellar for storing powder, have rented a large livery stable for teams and have 20 head of mules here now.

They have also established a camp on the top of the Deschutes hill and have 150 men at work there building a wagon road down the hill so they can establish camp on the river.

So life-like appeared the wax figure on the operating table and the wax hospital surgeons standing nearby, in the marine hospital section in the Government building at the Seattle exposition, that a woman fainted as soon as she looked at them.

SALEM BEER

SALEM is the most popular beer in Northern California and Southern Oregon. It is acknowledged to be the equal of the very best eastern product. All beers are good, but some beers are liked better than others. The proof for this assertion lies in drinking Salem beer. If you wish to be convinced, ask for Salem beer and drink it.
