DEER SEASON OPENS SALMON SEASON CLOSES
The deer season opened Sunday and a large number of local sportsmen were out in the hills awaiting the opportunity for the annual slaughter. Deer are plentiful this year and successful huntsmen are already distributing venison among their friends.
At the same time the deer shooting began, seine-slaughter of fish ended in the Rogue, it being closed season until November.

BARNUM'S METHODS.
The Showman Always on the Alert For an Advertisement.
One morning the newspapers announced that grave fears were entertained for the safety of an agent of Barnum's big show who had gone to Africa to seek attractions for it in their native lairs. News had come, it was said, that he had last been heard from in a predicament from which escape was practically impossible. It was a very sad piece of business altogether.
Mr. Barnum was at a hotel in New York city at the time, and there a relative of the unfortunate agent found him entertaining a squad of reporters with a most interesting version of the African tragedy. The caller knew his man and waited patiently until the interviewers had departed. Then he anxiously asked for news.
"Oh, don't be worried," said the showman. "I've just got intelligence that he's safe and sound and will be back here in a few weeks."
"But he has a great many friends here," objected the visitor, "and this report of his death will cause them much sorrow."
Mr. Barnum looked solemn for an instant, and then he chuckled, "Well," he exclaimed cheerfully, "just think of this—they'll be all the happier when he gets back here alive."

WIFE KEPT LONELY VIGIL IN CAVES
Remained Four Hours Alone With Dead Husband in Marble Caves.
GRANTS PASS, Aug. 2. (Special)—Frank Ellis and bride of two months and Arthur Vineyard and bride of a week, went to the Oregon Caves a few days ago for an outing. In exploring the caves Sunday Ellis was in the lead, and on going up an incline passage from No. 2 to No. 3 chamber, he slipped, discharging an automatic revolver which struck him in the eye, discharging struck him in the eye, spattering his brain against the wall.
Vineyard and wife left Mrs. Ellis with the dead body of her husband for four hours, while they went to secure assistance and telephone here for the coronor and a physician. Some blame is attached to Vineyard for having left the wife alone at such a time, but the real motive has not been learned.
The remains and the rest of the party was brought back here today. The widow is naturally grief-stricken, bordering on hysteria.
Ellis has been a popular clerk in the National Drug Store. Vineyard is connected with the Southern Oregon Supply Co.
It is reported that both Ellis and Vineyard had heard stories of these being some bad men in the vicinity of the caves, and prepared themselves with revolvers in case they should verify this on going in. This would account for Vineyard's hasty exit, and the lone vigil of Mrs. Ellis with her dead husband in the darkness of the caves for so long.

COW EATS LUNCH AND FISH ROD COVER
Interesting Experiences of Medford Anglers—Chas. Young's Sunday Clothes Stay in Brush Over Night.
Medford anglers are telling interesting features connected with Sunday fishing excursions. Joe Whitney and party had a busy day with his auto, which persisted in becoming excited at Joe's catching a six-pound steelhead, and blowing off steam every few moments, necessitating frequent halts and liberal use of cold water to calm it. While the anglers were whipping the stream, a cow climbed into the auto, badly scratching it with her horns, ate all the lunch and one of the rod case covers, and when caught was rolling a bottle of fish-bait around on the ground, trying to get at it.
Charles Young and Count Hall ran into a hoodoo streak when young the stream, a tire burst. Mr. Young put on his fishing togs to do the repair work in, carefully secreting his Sunday clothes in the brush to be called for on the return trip. It was late when they finished fishing and they couldn't find the clothes, having forgotten the place of concealment. After an hour's search, they left them to be hunted for Monday. In the meantime all of the liquid refreshments had been broken by accident.
"BEN'S KID"
Talk of the Town.
"Good morning, have you seen 'Ben's Kid'?" Many a greeting like the above was exchanged this morning, all because "Ben's Kid" is at the Savoy. Let me tell you, the Kid is the center of attraction, too. He will make you laugh until your sides ache, for he plays the principal part in a breezy western comedy drama, bristling with humor, thrills and action. "Ben's Kid" should not be missed by anyone. You cannot conceive of the funny situation "the kid" causes, unless you see him.
It stands to reason that the Southern Oregon Tea and Coffee Co. can give better grades and prices on tea and coffee than others, owing to their buying in bulk, direct, instead of in small lots from the wholesale houses. Phone 3303.

$1500 IN FROM GAME LICENSES
County Clerk Kept Busy Issuing Licenses to Hunters and Fishermen—Will Break Record.
Over $1500 has been collected so far this year by the county clerk for fishing and hunting licenses, and the demand for hunting licenses has hardly yet begun. Nearly 700 fishing licenses were taken out and over 100 combination hunting and fishing. Owing to the fact that a large number of licenses have been issued by the game wardens and deputies of Mr. Coleman which have not yet been reported to that official, it is difficult to determine the exact amount.
The clerk took in during 1908 the sum of $1614 for hunting licenses alone, and this mark will probably be passed this year. So far 689 fishing licenses have been issued, 573 hunting licenses and 133 combination licenses. During the past few days the demand has been heavy for hunting permits.
MAN WANTED HERE CAUGHT IN INDIANA
George Phevers, Wanted in Medford, Nabbed Back East—Will Be Brought Back
Sheriff Wilbur Jones has been advised by the sheriff of White county, Indiana, that he has in custody Geo. Phevers, wanted in this county on a charge of grand larceny. District Attorney Mulkey has applied to the governor for requisition papers and it is probable that Phevers will be brought back.
Phevers stole a traction engine belonging to D. P. Rosey, of Ashland, and sold it to Daniel Hilkey, who resides in Northwest Medford, on June 21. The engine had been rented by Dr. J. F. Reddy for grading purposes on the Pacific & Eastern road. Phevers was employed as engineer. After working a few days he drove the engine to Medford and sold it, and skipped out. He has been arrested in Montecello, Indiana.
