The First English Bible.

The first complete Bible printed in English was issued in 1535 without any publisher's name on it. It was thus only partly original and in that part just a

TERRORS OF THE JUNGLE.

The Mosquitoss of Africa Are Worse Than the Lions.

"The African mosquitoes intoxicate They inject so much polson into on that you are dazed, your eyes roll and you stagger and speak thickly. In a word, you're drunk," said a misdonary.

"In the Nyassa country I'd aiways tart getting ready for bed and the mosquitoes an hour before sunset. I'd set up my mosquito net with the utmost care. I'd clamp down its edges with vallees and boxes. I'd light inside it three green wood fires, filling it with a bitter smoke that all insects are supposed to loathe.

"Finally I'd get in myself. I'd smoke big pipes of the black native tobacco, and I'd long miserably in that hot, smoky atmosphere for the dawn. "Despite all my precautions quite 200 or 300 mosquitoes would get side my net as soon as darkness fell. They were like a whiriwind in there. It couldn't have been worse. Their noise and their nipping made me feverish-made me really delirious at

"At last, in exhaustion, I'd get a few hours of troubled sleep, awakening for breakfast drunk from the poison injected by hundreds of tiny needles into my velas.

You unite in your lovely person that peculiar magnetism which lays audiences at your feet. Your genius, shining through all the deficiencies of stagecraft, enables you to triumph over every obstacle. So supreme are you that you have the right to rise above all conventionalities, to marry, to love, to discard whom you please, and no one will dare to criti-cise. Your work will live. You are the very personification of the highest art. United with this your perfection of beauty gives you the just title to a tasting fame."

"Is all that true?" she asked softly. "Absolutely. Would you have me say more? What more could I say?"

"You might," she answered, "have mentioned my clothes and my figure."

ROBERT ADAM.

He Created a New Era in English

Architecture. Robert Adam (1728-92) was to English architecture what Benvenuto Cellini was to that of Italy. He was ar-chitect to the king, beloved at court, a member of parliament, and it was said of him that he "could not help adorning all that he touched." Those of the English people who dwell in Adam houses prize them as rare lew-

Adam introduced into English ar-chitecture a lightness, delicacy of touch and charm of proportion which it had never before possessed and which gave his name to that spiendid period of architecture the style of which lasted over a century. Everything in a house, from the panel in a ceiling to the vases and glit wood tri-pods and branches for lights, from hangings at the windows to a wom-an's hairpin holder, Adam designed

Adam got his rich, beautiful and distinctive style from the ruins of the Emperor Diocletian, at Spalato. As a finish to interiors he conceived the idea of using figures in relief upon walls, colored and adorned according to Raphael's Stanze painted flat upon the walls of the Vatican. His idea was as hold as its result was beantiful. He also adopted Pompelian styles of decoration.

"Adam was arrist as well as architect, and his walls, cellings and interior adornments are marvels of har-monious colors," says an architect. "He employed no less personages than Angelica Kaufman and Zucchi to paint many of the panels and medallions let into his ceilings, and it was his habit to have carpets woven to match the pattern overhead and harmonize with the color there employed. The key-note of Adam's style is 'movement,' combined with perfect artistic fitness, and it is peculiar for its grace and stateliness."-New York Tribune.

By gorry, boys, but that was a fog, an' no mistake! Why, it was so thick that when I went out to the barn one night to feed the animals I had to git three o' the farm hands to come along behind me an' push me through it."

"Yans," said Hiram Wigiey, the egg king, "that was some fog. I remember that there seventy-nine affair very well, but it warn't a marker alongside o' the two we had in seventy-eight, when me an' Joe Sillsbee had to take a plow to cut our way through to the henhouse, an', by ginger, when we got there we found the hens a-settin' on it instid of on their nests, an' some of 'em laid eggs right on to it like as though it was made o' hay, b'gosh!'

Seems to me I ain't seen no fogs sence that time that we could make snowbails out of. Have you, Bill?"-Chicago News.
