FEELING INTENSE OVER INJUNCTION

Medford Citizens Generally Aroused Regarding Injunction issued Friday Restraining City in Laying of Water Main to Intake.

The issuing of an injunction blocking the laying of the gravity water system across the Hanley premises on Little Butte Creek has aroused the most intense public feeling in this city, and on all sides are heard offers of subscriptions to a fund, if needed, to fight the case to the end. The feeling in the city is that Hanley has had a fair and impartial hearing before a jury and was awarded a just amount of damages, and that the case should therefore have been settled. The loss to the city through the delay will amount to a great deal and the prevailing sentiment is that Hanley is trying a hold-up game on the city, and that thousands should be spent for defense but not one cent for tribute.

Another matter that is adding to public indignation is the fact that Circuit Judge Hanna promised City Attorney Neff that he would not grant an injunction without first notifying Mr. Neff, and yet Judge Hanna violated that promise, and the first that Mr. Neff knew of the injunction was when Attorney Reames notified him over the telephone.

It is probable that a subscription list will be circulated and money subscribed with which to fight the case to the end. Medford has her scrapping blood up, and now wants no peace without honor.

PLANNING TO NEW SYSTEM PROTECT CUT OVER PIPE TONIGHT

Pipe Has Now Been Laid on Gravity Water System Line 4000 Feet Beyond the Bradshaw Drop.

WILL REACH HANLEY LINE IN ABOUT SIX WEEKS.

Pump Will Probably be Installed at That Point to Keep Pipe Full of Water to Protect It.

Steps are being taken by the city officials to protect the pipe line during such time as the city is held up by Hanley from entering upon his premises on Little Butte Creek. The line has now been laid for a distance of 4000 feet beyond the Bradshaw drop, or to Fiddler's Gulch. The work is progressing along the hillside above Brownsboro at the rate of about a mile a week. It is thought that the Hanley line will be reached in about six weeks.

The present plans of the city officials for the protection of the pipe line consist of installing a pump just this side of the Hanley ranch and keeping the pipe line full of water. In all probability the contractors can be induced to stop shipment on the two miles of pipe so that it need not lay in the sun without protection.

WORK PROGRESSING ON SARDINE MIRES

L. A. Carter came down from the mines owned by he and his sons on Sardine Creek, Sunday. He says there is considerable activity among the miners of that district and that the prospects were never better.

The Gray Eagle people are opening up some good ore and now have a 10-stamp mill on the way, which will shortly be installed. The mine is looking well and the company has quite a bunch of good ore in sight and a lot on the dump beside.

At Drummond Gulch J. D. Adams, who recently acquired the property from W. L. McClure, has completed the road to the mine, built cabins and is now at work opening up the mine. Mr. Adams is an experienced miner, knows a good thing when he sees it, and is more than satisfied with the Blackhawk mine.

Hayes & Howell are doing good work on the Lucky Bart, and the probabilities for the resumption of active work on this famous mine are good. The Lucky Bart has produced many thousand dollars in the past and is by no means exhausted yet, in fact the surface has barely been scratched. Carter & Sons have suspended development work on their mine in order of commence work on the Kamea Creek line kiln, where they expect to make some substantial improvements during the next few

NEW SYSTEM CUT OVER TONIGHT

Medford Citizens Will Awaken Sunday Morning to Find Much Better Phone Service in Operation.

NO NEED AFTER TONIGHT TO TWIST THE OLD CRANK

System to Be Up-to-Date and Will be Further Improved by Installing New Phones.

No more twisting of cranks to ring up central after tonight. Its goodbye to the old system and hello to the new, for tonight the local phone system will be cut over to the new switchboard, and then by simply taking down the receiver central will get the waiting and you will get the old "Number 2."

For the past six months the Pacific States Telephone Company have been at work installing the new switchboard and making many other improvements in this city. After cutting over the switchboard new phones will be installed throughout the city and wiring put in.

ALFONZO IS AGAIN FACING CIVIL WAR

500 Revolutionists Shot Down on Outskirts of Madrid. Quiet of Past Few Days Only Calm Before the Storm.

MADRID, Aug. 7.—Alfonzo is again facing a civil war in spite of the quiet of the past few days. Today mobs are parading the streets of Madrid in spite of summary methods employed by the authorities in quelling the riots.

In a pitched battle on the outskirts of the city early today over 300 revolutionists were shot down by the soldiers. The mob, for the most part, were armed only with clubs. No soldiers were killed.

From all parts of the kingdom reports are drifting in of disquietude and the authorities are very much alarmed.

The friends of the young son of Don Carlos, the former pretender to the throne of Spain are doing all in their power to keep the revolt stirred up, trusting that they will be able to place the young man upon the throne.

Since the riots of a few days ago, executions of mob leaders have been of an almost daily occurrence. The most summary measures have been adopted by the authorities.

A strict censorship has been placed upon all of the channels of news throughout the kingdom, including that which has been sent out. At no time during the quiet of the past few days have the authorities relaxed their vigilance.

PARTY BAGK FROM VISIT TO THE LAKE

C. H. Snyder Has Much Praise for Crater Lake—Also Visited in Klamath Falls.

After driving 236 miles in a little "one-lunger" Cadillac, C. H. Snyder, Col. F. L. TouVelle and R. S. Luther returned Friday evening from a trip to Crater Lake and Klamath Falls. The trip was made in less than four days, the party leaving this city at 11 o'clock last Tuesday night. The machine was packed high with their camping outfit, but throughout the entire distance no accident occurred.

All of the travelers were entranced by the beauties of the lake and much impressed by what they found in Klamath County. They tarried along the way, seeing all the sights among which was the natural bridge, the Rogue River falls and the Mill Creek falls. They went down to the water in Crater Lake and fished.

"The trip is a splendid one to make," said Mr. Snyder, "and must say that with even all I have heard of the beauty of the lake that the half has not yet been told."

BOURNE CLOSE FRIEND TO TAFT

Senator from Oregon Said to Be The Closest Friend President Taft Has.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Who is the closest man to President Taft? Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon. So cried the President's chauffeur, so answers the President's caddy; so reply the Secret Service guards, the Military Aids, and the newspaper men assigned to the White House.

No one venturing to deny the statement, it may be accepted as Gospel. But why is Bourne close? Ah, that's the question just now agitating the breasts of a great many worthy persons.

Why is Bourne? Is it because he took off his coat, and his waistcoat, and his outer shirt, and his undershirt during the campaign and worked like the mischief to land Taft in the Presidential chair? Well, hardly. Bourne kicked like an Oregon steer against the very name of Taft. He staked his reputation, spent his money and moved all his friends to tears in the frantic effort to throw T. Roosevelt back into the White House against T. Roosevelt's will.

"But what is Bourne after?" they ask. "What's his game?"

"He's after nothing; he has no game," is the truthful answer. He is the one gameless Senator, the one axeless Senator. Strange as it may seem, Bourne has never yet taken up a single matter of business with President Taft at a golf game, on the road, or at any other moment of recreation. He talks about everything else but business. Probably this is one reason why the President likes to have him around. When he is with Bourne he can forget that he is President of the United States, with several thousand jobs at his disposal, and can not feel just like any other healthy American citizen who is diverting himself by rubbing up against nature.

MERLIN CAPITALIST PLEASED WITH VALLEY

Visiting Medford Looking Over Valley—Reports Big Peach Crop in Merlin.

Chas. E. Short, of Merlon, who has the reputation over in Josephine County of being something of a booster, is spending a couple of weeks in this city, "trying to imbibe some of the Medford Spirit," as he expresses it. For the past three years Mr. Short has been the owner of the Merlin townsite, but has recently given an option on his property to a syndicate who are planning extensive improvements, and he is looking for some place to light. While expressing great confidence in the future of Merlin, he recognizes Medford as the metropolis of Southern Oregon and the coming capital of Siskiyou, and says that even though the prices of land in this vicinity are very much higher than in his district, he believes there is still room for profitable investment.

"There is a tone to these paved streets and extensive municipal improvements that makes one feel as though it would be nice to live here," said he, "and as I dislike the idea of leaving this delightful Rogue River climate, I am apt to become one of your permanent citizens."

He reports an enormous peach crop in the vicinity of Merlin, the first shipments of which will begin in a few days, and that the yield of apples and grapes is above the average.

BOXING MATCH ON FOR NEXT WEEK

Noted Athlete Will Tryout With West and Ralston of this City Some Time Next Week.

Dan Sullivan, of Montana, a noted athlete, wrestler and boxer, is visiting in Medford, and will box W. H. West and Earl Ralston, local champions, three rounds each, some night next week.

It is a long time since Medford has seen a first-class boxing match, and lovers of the sport are anxiously looking forward to the event.

Sullivan represented America with more or less success in the wrestling events at Athens four years ago, at the Olympic games. He has not been in the ring for more than a year, is 23 years of age and weight 158 lbs. His only real battle of importance was in beating McConnell, instructor of the Multnomah Club.

At the Portland fair he was second in the 100-yard dash, won the pole vault and hammer throw. Last winter, after a contest lasting 3 hours and 42 minutes, he defeated Julius Johnson, the Seattle wrestler.
