MAY START ALFALFA MILL IN VALLEY

San Francisco Firm Has Representative Here Looking Over Valley With That End in View.

For some days Summer & Company of San Francisco have had a representative in the valley looking into the feasibility of establishing an alfalfa meal factory in the valley. It is reported that he is so pleased with the outlook and surroundings that the project may be carried to a successful termination, providing that contracts can be made for a sufficient quantity of alfalfa to warrant the size mill they contemplate erecting. The establishment of such a mill in the valley would quickly lead to the fostering of other industries along these lines.

STEEL PLANS REUNION OF ENTIRE STEEL FAMILY

Will G. Steel of Portland is promoting a scheme for the forming of the Steel family of the United States into an organization. All the available members are to meet in the Oregon building at Seattle, August 26, to form the first reunion and take steps for permanent organization. Annual gatherings in some portion of the country will be arranged for at the meeting, and a general family era of good will and sociability will be ushered in.

PILES MAY NOT RUN AGAIN FOR SENATE

SEATTLE, Wash., August 10.—Rumors are once more current that United States Senator Samuel Piles will not be a candidate to succeed himself. He has changed his mind about going to Europe on government business, largely because of his recent illness. Washington dispatches say he is coming home to rest and politicians are beginning "to see things." Should Senator Piles decide to retire, there are many willing to don his toga. Among them is Charles F. White, one of the wealthiest lumbermen in the state, who is now traveling in Europe. On his return announcement is expected, if the situation looks favorable. William Pitt Trimble is not wholly deaf to the siren and may yield to the demands of his friends, if there is any hope. Judge Thomas Burke was introduced as "our future senator" at a recent dinner given at the A. V. P. exposition, and there may be more truth than poetry in it for the eloquent clubman.

AGE INDIAN'S BODY IN KLAMATH LAKE

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., August 10.—The body of Sammy Andy, one of the oldest Indians on the Klamath reservation, found in upper Klamath lake, appears to have been in the water for several days. It is not known when the old Indian disappeared or how he came to his death. The supposition is that he was accidentally drowned. Sammy Andy was more than 80 years of age. He belonged to the old Link river tribe, which lived at the head of Link river when the first white men came to the Klamath country. He was always friendly to the palefaces and bore a good reputation.

The Lion Tamer at the Savoy.

"The Lion Tamer," now being produced at the Savoy, is the talk of the town. This feature film is a hair raiser, full of thrills from start to finish. No circus in the country shows a lion taming act as thrilling and exciting as the one shown in this picture. Tonight will be your last opportunity to see "The Lion Tamer." Follow the crowd to the Savoy, "Adventures of an Amateur Detective" is just one bundle of laughs and hilarity gives you time to catch your breath between explosions. The other features are of unusual merit. Entire change of program tomorrow night. Remember Wednesday is "dish night" and that the Savoy is cool and cozy. One dime.

Catching Big Steelheads

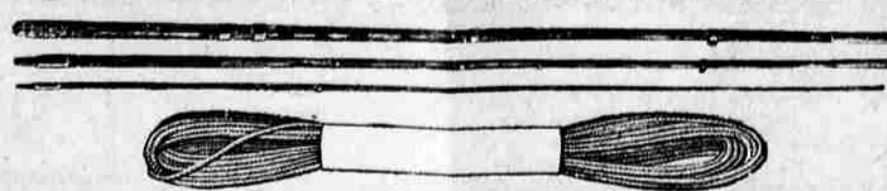

Is not much of trick with our special Rogue river flies. They are doing the work---luring the king of trout and holding him fast. No broken hooks or snapped leaders. Every fly guaranteed and especially designed for local streams. Our rods and lines are also the best made.

Prize for Anglers

Rod costing $50, and best reel and line made goes to the successful angler who lands the biggest steelhead on one of our flies.

If possible, the trout must be weighed. After it is dressed, at our store.

The angler must make affidavit to catching it on one of our flies or bring two reliable witnesses to the store to verify his statement.

$80 OUTFIT Given away to the angler who lands the biggest steelhead on one of our special flies. Read the conditions of contest.

Don'ts For Contest

Don't bring your fish out up in sections. Don't make your claim on live weight, but dressed weight.

Don't try to claim prize on fish caught on spoons or other makes of flies.

Don't make claims you cannot substantiate.
