A MARVELOUS PRODUCER.

Under the caption "A Pointer for Doubters—What One Little Cherry Tree Does on the Bayfield Peninsula," the Bayfield County Press of Bayfield, Wis., publishes the following news item:

Wednesday last Mrs. Julius Forsberg finished picking the cherries on one cherry tree in the yard at her home on First street, and reports a total output from this one tree of 100 full quarts, exclusive of all that had been picked and eaten from the lower limbs. This tree is over 30 years old, and from personal observation of the writer he knows that it has been a bearing tree for 27 summers. This tree has had no especial care, stands in a grass plot and is to all appearances as sound in trunk and perfect in limb as it is possible for a tree to be. Yet, in the face of such evidence as this, you will occasionally run across one of those wisecrackers who will sneer at the statement that fruit raising here can be made a financial success.

One hundred quarts of cherries!
 And from one tree.
 Marvelous!
 And still the Rogue River valley has a few records in the cherry line. For instance, there is a tree near Eagle Point which this year produced 98 gallons or 392 quarts. Likewise there is a tree near Gold Hill which produced 200 gallons or 800 quarts.
 Affidavits will be furnished upon request.

SHIPS SIX MILLIONS OF FRUIT IN SIXTY DAYS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—"California has shipped $100,000 worth of fruit a day for the last 60 days. That means $6,000,000."—Senator Charles B. Bills.

Senator Bills was not merely romancing when he said this last night at the chamber of commerce. The senator is a big shipper of fruit himself. Through the Pioneer Fruit company with which he is affiliated, and he ought to know.

"It is simply astounding," he ruminated. "Think of it, one hundred thousand dollars a day, seven days a week, for eight weeks. Three million dollars a month, six millions for two months! and still going on! The record to date is 5542 cars for the season."

"Best of all," Senator Bills reflected, "all but a very small portion of the money finds its way back to the hands of the people of California through Sacramento channels. The banking operations carried on via the banks here. This is the clearing house for practically the returns from the eastern sales of deciduous fruit."

Senator Bills went on to say that the record will be surpassed next year when California begins to ship apples and celery, two products that growers will find profitable to raise in large quantities. Apples are scarce now and bring $1.50 a box. Celery is a vegetable this end of the state has not paid much attention to heretofore, but farmers on the lower Sacramento are beginning to wake up to its advantages as a marketable product and bread winner.

SOLDIERS MOWED DOWN BY MAHOUT IN MACHINE

LONDON, Aug. 12.—A heavy automobile near Salisbury dashed around a turn in the road into a company of soldiers and killed seven and injured 20 before it was ditched. Many were injured and will die. The soldiers attempted to escape, when the driver lost his head, forgot to apply the brakes, and the machine continued to plow through their ranks.

PRETTY WEDDING IS CELEBRATED IN A PHOENIX HOME

At the home of the bride's parents, Phoenix precinct, August 11, 1909, at 6 p. m., in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, Miss Maud Vandorphy, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vandorphy, was united in marriage to Mr. Bert O. Lockwood of Medford, Rev. W. L. Black of Medford officiating.

The bride looked very pretty, gowned in a very dainty dress of sky blue silk, trimmed with white satin and lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride, who was the favorite of a large circle of friends, was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents.

The bridegroom is one of Medford's popular contracting carpenters.

After the ceremony was performed a bountiful supper was served to the guests assembled, who extend to them their best wishes for their future happiness.

Opening of the Wigwam on tomorrow night. Corner Seventh and Oakdale.
