HAD $10,000,000 LEDGE YET DIED A TRAMP

COLORADO SPRINGS, Cal., Aug. 17.—Robert Womack, famed as the discoverer of Cripple Creek, died here in poverty muttering to the last of new fields. He hoped yet to find a mine to replace the $10,000,000 claim he sold for $500.

Womack was the son of a "Forty-niner," Herbert Womack, Sr., who in the latter eighties left to his son the heritage of a dream—that the gold which the father had sought in vain for 40 years would be revealed near Cripple Creek if the son kept up the search. The father died; young Womack took his place as a prospector, and in spite of the jeers of others, ranged close about the Creek country with shovel and divining rod—for 20 years.

One day in 1901 he hit the yellow ledge. His friends told him it was "fool's gold;" his brother-in-law and partner took it to the nearest assay office only after five days of protest. He came back with a government certificate to show that the "find" averaged $1100 to the ton.

That news made Bob Womack one day and broke him two days afterward. For, after staking out every claim throughout the length and breadth of the gold lead, he went to town, spent all his nuggets over a bar and at a nearby roulette table, sold all his claims for $500 more in order to make a final wager on the red—and a week later was digging gold with a shovel for the man who had bought his rights to one of the greatest mines the world has ever known.

For the last five years of his life Womack had been too decrepit to work. For two years he had lain bed-ridden in a little lodging house cared for by an elder sister.

BROTHER GIVES UP OUTLAW WHO ASKED FOR SHELTER

HARRISBURG, Aug. 17.—Alfred Kinard, a Perry county outlaw, lies seriously wounded in the Harrisburg hospital as the result of a desperate battle in a small mountain settlement north of this city, where he yesterday morning attempted to rob the store of Lewis Myers.

Holding up the entire hamlet at the point of his revolver, Kinard entered the store, but was interrupted by Oscar Heisley, who opened fire on the desperado. Kinard fell after half a dozen shots had been exchanged, and was up and away into the thick underbrush before his pursuers could capture him. He was badly wounded in the left thigh, but managed to hide himself until the chase was abandoned and then crawled over the mountains and through the woods to the home of his brother, Ames Kinard, several miles distant.

Bleeding and almost unconscious, he begged his brother to take him in and hide him. The brother took him in, but immediately sent for an officer and Kinard was hurried to the Harrisburg hospital. The physicians say he cannot recover. For years he has been noted for his daring lawlessness and is wanted on a score of charges.

Granulate Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I brought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by Leon B. Haskins' Pharmacy.

TO SURVEYORS AND OTHERS.

I have complete field notes of all donation land claims and a large portion of the government surveys in Jackson county. These notes may be copied in my office for 50c a claim or section. Complete maps of Medford, Talent, Central Point, Tolo, Gold Hill, Eagle Point, Woodville and Butte Falls. Surveys, maps, blue prints and descriptions of lots and tracts made.

THE ETERNAL QUESTION

How Many Trips Over the Washboard?

THAT question worries you when your nicer things begin to show the wear and tear of rubbing. But rubbing is bound to be hard on clothes—it wears away the board in a year!

Throw away your washboard!

Treat your clothes right!

Try the Coffield Power Washer. It washes entirely without rubbing. No imitation washboard inside, like other machines. Nothing to wear or tear your clothes. Pays for itself many times over by the saving on the clothes.

Let us put it in your home and do your washing for you. Examine it. Examine its work. You won't let us take it back after that.

City water runs it while you rinse and hang out.

If you are still doing your washing by hand, wasting your energy and strength, or are using one of the old style washing machines, we would suggest that you call at once and inspect

Coffield Power Washer

You will find a pretty good cut of it in this ad, but it does not show the beauty and simplicity of the motor which operates the machine.

No Labor on Your Part

It washes while you rinse and hang out, and the expense is less than 5 cents a week. Sent on free trial if desired.
