(The Herald.)

Wayne Leever and Vern Magruder left Sunday evening for Seattle to take in the fair for a few days.

T. C. Law was in from Willow Springs Monday and had his name entered on the Herald list for a year.

The fine residence of Councilman Robert Kyle on the east side is about completed and is one of the largest and best appointed dwellings in the city.

Grandma Mann and her three grand-daughters, Misses Eda, Florence and Mabel Mann, have returned from a pleasant outing at McAllister Springs.

H. J. Gardner is building a substantial residence on his lots on Laurel street between Fourth and Fifth.

Mrs. Randall has commenced the erection of a handsome cottage on her lot on the east side of town.

John Albert is building two dwellings in the Pattison addition on lots recently purchased there. That part of the town is building up rapidly this summer.

Mrs. Lyman and her son Ernest of Rogue river spent Friday in town buying supplies and visiting friends.

Ben Little and Vern Pendleton left Saturday afternoon for a two weeks' camping trip in the Dead Indian country. They expect to ascend Mt. McLaughlin before they return.

Mrs. J. Upton was seriously injured in a runaway accident on the road between the Upton home and town last Saturday. Mr. Upton and Miss Upton were also in the rig, which was overturned, pinning all of the party beneath it. Mrs. Upton, however, was the only one seriously injured.

Ben H. Charles of St. Louis, Mo., spent the day here Monday, the guest of his uncle, J. B. Holmes. Mr. Charles is a prominent attorney of the Missouri city and at present holds the responsible position of city counselor. He is interested in a valuable water power location on upper Rogue river which he visited while in this section.

While driving home from town Saturday evening Mrs. I. C. Wilson, residing on the Agate road, met with an accident whereby her buggy was smashed, but fortunately she was not seriously injured. A runaway horse collided with her rig, partially wrecking it, but the fact that her horse was gentle and did not run prevented a serious accident.

Rev. J. E. Day, Presbyterian minister of Woodville, will preach in the Baptist church here next Sunday morning and evening. Subjects: "The Revelation of Jesus Christ" and "Can a Man Carry His Religion Into His Business and Succeed?"

Holbrook Withington, who was employed by the town some time ago to look after the legal work incident to the water bond issue, was in town Monday preparing an abstract of the proceedings of the town council leading up to the bond issue, to be forwarded to the buyers in Chicago. Henry Maury and sister and Mr.

and Mrs. Will Stewart expect to leave next week for Seattle, where they will spend a few weeks visiting the fair and enjoying life amid the cooling breezes of the sound.

Masters Floyd and Elmer Kyle have returned from an enjoyable visit to their former home at Lebanon, Linn county. The boys made the trip alone and enjoyed every minute of their vacation both at Lebanon and en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiley left last week for Salem and other valley points, where Mrs. Wiley will spend several weeks visiting relatives and enjoying a trip to the coast. After spending a few days at Salem Mr. Wiley expected to continue his trip to his old home in Illinois, where he will spend a few weeks with relatives.

J. F. Hopkins, proprietor of the up-to-date nursery, near this city, reports the sale of 5000 choice pear trees to Dr. Piekel of Medford for use on his famous 401 ranch east of town. Dr. Piekel has planted a large number of trees grown on this nursery in the past with such a high degree of success as to make him a permanent customer.

A. L. Aikins of near town and Frank Dickey of Ashland left yesterday morning for a camping and hunting trip in the mountains. Mr. Dickey is a well known passenger conductor running out of Ashland on the Southern Pacific and he and Mr. Aikins are old cronies in the hunting and camping line. They left with the avowed intention of having the time of their lives, and the bear, deer and trout would better look a "feetle out."

W. H. Norcross and family returned Friday from a pleasant outing on upper Rogue river, during which they camped for three weeks at the natural bridge, making side trips from there to Crater Lake and other points of interest. They made the trip in their White Steamer car and found it an ideal machine for mountain work. Mr. Norcross drove his car to the rim of the lake without trouble and was the first to cross the new automobile bridge over Union creek. While at the natural bridge Mr. Norcross and his son were fishing one day when two magnificent buck deer walked down the bank to drink within a few feet of them, and after surveying the party carefully and deciding that they were not dangerous they amused themselves for a while in polishing each other's horns and other deer play when they slowly moved off into the brush. This happened a day or two before the open season came in and when the fishermen were without guns. After the season opened, however, Norcross says he could fish all day without being molested by game animals. It took hunting to find them after August 1.
