

SCHOOL BEING RAPIDLY BUILT

Large Modern School Building in Woodville Would Be Credit to Much Larger Community

Work is rapidly progressing on Woodville's modern six-room brick school building. It will be completed within the next month. The building is modern in all respects and will be one of the finest rural schools, if not the finest, in the county.

Work on the new bridge has started. As soon as this is completed the residents of that section will petition for a free rural route from Woodville to Grants Pass on the north side of the river and back on the south side. Rural telephones are rapidly being installed.

HALF MILLION CIRCULARS TO ADVERTISE OREGON

PORTLAND, Aug. 27.—Half a million circulars have been printed for the use of the Commercial Club in advertising the resources of Oregon and setting forth the inducements for newcomers. These are of convenient size for inclosing in letters to friends and can be procured of the club by those who will use them.

The circulars speak of "Harriman and Hill competing for Oregon business in a manner that bids fair to place even the most remote localities in the state in touch with the outer world by lines of railroad;" of the opportunities for the settler to obtain a farm for almost nothing, of the billions of feet of standing timber awaiting the ax of the lumberman to turn it into channels of trade; of the excellent market Portland offers for all kinds of produce, which can be raised with little effort in the region tributary to the city; of the immense opportunities for fruit farming, dairying, poultry raising, woolgrowing, mining, as well as of general farming.

BALLINGER SAYS WAY WILL SURELY BE FOUND

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 27.—Secretary Richard Ballinger, of the department of the interior, has given practical assurance that the government irrigation projects now under way will be pushed to completion as soon as possible. He said there was now available to complete reclamation projects $11,000,000, whereas $27,000,000 was needed. He said, however, that he believed congress would make a way for procuring the funds needed to complete the work now in hand. As for undertaking any new projects at present, the secretary said he believed it would be had business policy.

A MISER'S END.

Meanness of M. Vandille and the Way He Hastened His Death.

M. Vandille was chief magistrate at Boulogne and by miserly habits left a fortune of $4,000,000. His usual diet was bread and milk. The bread cost very little, and after eating his loaf at home his habit was to become his own public milk inspector, whom as chief magistrate he had the right to appoint. And so, as he declared, to protect the inhabitants from being imposed upon by an inferior quality of milk he took his walk immediately after eating his loaf and demanded to taste the milk of every salesman he passed, thus saving himself from purchasing any. Misers are generally strong men—they have to be so in order to live a life of privation—but eventually Vandille, like other misers, was seized with illness, and the surgeons had to be called in. In those days they bled their patients. The surgeon asked Vandille half a live for the operation, but the millionaire ordered him at once out of his sight and sent for the apothecary. The apothecary refused to cut the price down, so Vandille sent for a poor barber, who undertook to open a vein for three sous a time.

"Aye, but," said this worthy economist, "how often, friend, will it be necessary to bleed me?" "Three times." "And what quantity of blood do you intend to take each time?" "Eight ounces." "Well, but why can't you take the whole twenty-four ounces at once? You want to make a job of me, you scoundrel! Here, sir; there are your three sous. Take the twenty-four ounces immediately." The barber was generous to obey. M. Vandille lost the twenty-four ounces of blood and died in a few days, leaving all his vast treasures to the king, whom he made his sole heir.—Strand Magazine.

The Oldest Bridge in Paris.

The Pont Notre Dame is the oldest bridge in Paris. It was first built in 1413 in the reign of Charles VI., but it was carried away, together with the houses which lined it, by ice floes when the frost broke in 1499. A new bridge was begun at once under the direction of Jean Joconde of Verona and was ready for traffic in 1507. On that bridge stood the famous picture shop of Gersaint, which had a sign-board specially painted for it by Watteau.—Westminster Gazette.

Jolting Him.

Basifful Youth—Miss Bella, does your mother object to my coming here so much? Fair Charmer—Oh, I think not! I heard her telling papa the other evening that you merely came to pass away the time; you didn't mean anything serious.—London Tit-Bits.

The Division.

"What!" exclaimed Mrs. Flatleigh. "You don't mean to tell me you pay a girl $10 a week for cooking?" "Oh, no!" replied Mrs. Urbanville. "We only pay her $2 a week for cooking. The other $8 is for staying."—Chicago News.

The Stone Houses of Easter Island.

The remarkable stone houses of Easter Island are built against a terrace of earth or rock, which in some cases forms the back wall of the dwelling. They are built of small slabs of stratified basaltic rock piled together without cement. No regularity of plan is shown in the construction of a majority of them. The average measurement is as follows: Height from floor to ceiling, 4 feet 6 inches; thickness of walls, 4 feet to 10 inches; width of rooms, 4 feet 6 inches; length of rooms, 12 feet 9 inches; average size of doorways—height, 20 inches; width, 19 inches.

RICH CONVICT GIVES UP HOPE FOR PARDON

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Aug. 27.—William J. Bradbury, the aged millionaire convicted of perjury and sentenced to one year in San Quentin prison, after a conference with his attorney today, denied himself to all newspapermen. This is taken to mean that he has about given up hope of securing a pardon from Governor Gillett, and desires to begin his term in prison as quietly as possible. Bradbury's attorney has been attempting to secure a pardon from the governor.

A SUMMER RESORT ON KLAMATH LAKE

That is Unsurpassed in America

This is a sporting proposition for men of wealth—it is not a farm. Unequaled Trout Fishing—June to November. Deer Hunting on the premises, August 1 to November 1. Duck Shooting superior to any in the state, over thousands of acres of wild celery and rice, September 1 to February 1. Grouse and Pheasant Shooting on the place October 15 to November 15. Best starting place in the county for a Bear hunt. The Crater Lake Automobile road will run through the place for a mile and a quarter. Navigable water to the property, unsurpassed drinking water, and power to develop the property. More bottom land and fine garden land than any place on the lake. Thousands of Pine and Fir trees and thousands of Quaking Aspens. More varieties of wild flowers and natural grasses and vetches than any place in the county. If you develop this property as it can be developed, there is no resort in the county that can compare with it. No amount of talking will describe it—let us show you. We have been offered more than twice what it cost, but have a price at which you may take it—below which we will keep it.
