CONSERVATION NEEDED.

It is to be hoped that President Taft retains Gifford Pinchot as chief forester and carries out Roosevelt's conservation policy. If Secretary Ballinger, who evidently represents the commercial reactionaries, is successful in his efforts to remove Pinchot, it means a setback to conservation and a turning over of the few remaining natural resources to exploitation by the timber baron and water power trust.

The recent eruption of Assistant Secretary Ormsby McHarg of the department of commerce and labor, in which he grills the policy of forest preservation, power and mineral conservation, indicates that President Taft has surrounded himself with reactionaries and that only his personal influence can prevent the opening up to exploitation of the few natural resources left to the people.

McHarg's active efforts to overthrow the will of the people of Oregon and re-elect Fulton to the senate showed that he was a faithful adherent of the Aldrich-Cannon regime in the national government and the special interests they represent. The "people be damned" policy of the old line politician is the McHarg policy.

Whatever there was distasteful and disagreeable about Roosevelt, his conservation policy was sound and approved by the people, and for the best interests of the nation. It was Roosevelt's greatest work, and attempts to discredit it will not meet popular approval.

Ballinger and McHarg and others who are endeavoring to use the administration for the benefit of special interests should be dismissed unless they fall in line for the conservation policy.

SERMON TO START BASEBALL GAMES

New Stunt Arranged in Chicago for Benefit of Baseball Fans.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Fearing that the national game of baseball is making too great inroads into the attendance of regular church goers on Sunday, ministers in Chicago have begun a movement by which they will go to the ball games for their parishioners.

President Charles W. Murphy of the local National league team and Charles Comiskey of the "White Sox" have declared that they are willing to allow ministers to preach for a short time before Sunday games on their grounds.

Other major league managers have been questioned concerning the matter, and if it is possible it is intended to have a regular corps of preachers of different denominations assigned to all ball parks where Sunday games are played. The intention is to have 10 or 12 preachers attend each Sunday game and preach a short sermon to the fans as they settle back in their seats and munch popcorn before the umpire says "Play ball!"

SAN LEANDRO MAY BE OFF AUTO MAP

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 1.—San Leandro bids fair to be taken off the auto map—all because Town Marshal Geisenhofer has been too active in arresting speeders.

The newspapers and proprietors of the Estudillo House have received numerous letters from automobilists in which they protest volubly against the methods of Marshal Geisenhofer and the rapid fine process of Justice of the Peace Frank. Among those who have written letters are A. A. Moore Jr., attorney of San Francisco; A. D. Pritchard, wealthy manufacturer, and H. J. Hayward. The majority of the protestants come from San Francisco and Oakland.

"We cut out Morgan Hill in Santa Clara county for a similar reason," Hayward writes, "and we will do the same with San Leandro."

Hayward asserts that business will be hurt if automobilists quit visiting this place. Some of these letters will be read before the town trustees at their next meeting.

Many residents stand back of Geisenhofer. Some believe a little speeding would not hurt the town. Others have nothing to say because they own automobiles themselves.
