DEUEL-KENTNER COMPANY

And Still They Come

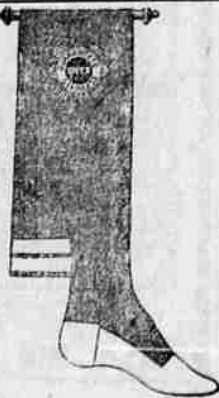

Early in the year we were convinced that this season would be an extraordinary one from the ladies' clothing standpoint, and as we believed, made ample preparations to care for it; but for once the unexpected has happened, and even our most sanguine expectations have been more than fulfilled, compelling us to increase our already liberal orders, and we have just received by express a shipment of the very latest LADIES' FALL SUITS, which now await your inspection. These suits are strictly hand tailored and are made in such weaves and colorings and styles that appeal to the really correct dressers and are selling at prices ranging from
