The Eternal Feminine. It would seem that the six-year-old daughter of a Washington official is at times harassed with doubts touching his own future conduct of life. "Father," said she, "I'd like to have your advice about something." "Well, daughter," answered the father, with the solemn air and speech he affects at such times, "upon what point am I to be taken into your confidence? Whatever it may be, I promise that I shall give it my earnest consideration." "It's this," said the child. "When I get through school, what would you advise me to do while I'm waiting to get married?"—St. Louis Republic.

Love. Properly there is only one verb for love. It is not "amo." It is not "aimer." It is not the softest Italian verb. No printed language of man knows it. But the violin knows it, and the wild bird knows it; even the sea knows it. The rose is it, and the moon is it, and the look of a man's eyes into a woman's is it, and the look of a woman's eyes back again is it. But no man or woman can say it in any language that endures.—"Love Letters of the King."

Defying Death. There is no use of reading any more tales about how to live a long time. An old lady 100 years old has eaten New England doughnuts all her life.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Official Goat. "Your wife doesn't seem to care much for that friend of yours." "No. He's the man I lay the blame on when I'm detained downtown."—Philadelphia Post.

A RARE COMBINATION

in which LUXURY and ECONOMY join hands to the ultimate profit of the wise housekeeper, allowing her to add two of the latest modern conveniences to the equipment of the home and costing less to have these comforts than to be without them. This effects this wonderful combination.

Two Indispensable Luxuries

First—A hot water apparatus which furnishes very hot water every minute of the day and night—a hot water system equal to the most expensive that money can buy.

Second — A perfect fireless cooker which really cooks without fire and delivers the food hot and ready to serve—a fireless cooker which contains hot ovens all day and all night—the only hot fireless cooker in the market.

Two Sources of Economy

First—By preventing the radiation of heat while the boiler is being heated and by conserving the heat within the boiler after it is heated, there is a saving of more than 60 per cent in the cost of heating water for domestic use.

Second—By using the fireless cooker several hours each day instead of burning wood, coal or gas, there is a large daily saving of fuel.

JUST THINK OF IT

Can be fitted to any boiler regardless of size. Hot water "on tap" at all hours of the day or night. Pays for itself in short time by reducing fuel expenses. No cost to operate. Use either coal, wood or gas for heating purposes. Provides a hot water system equal to any on the market costing $100 and upwards, at less than half that cost.

Instead of burning fuel needlessly and standing over a hot kitchen range for hours at a time, the housewife may place the food, which has been brought to the boiling point quickly on the gas plate or range, into the Fireless Cooker, where it will simmer for hours until thoroughly cooked, and when removed it will be found hot and ready to serve.

While the cooking process is going on in the Fireless Cooker no care or attention need be bestowed. If she so desire, the housewife may go shopping, calling, or receive callers.

There is no escape of food fumes into the kitchen from the Fireless Cooker on account of the fact that the lids of the cooking pots fit very tightly and the doors of the cooking compartments are sealed tightly when closed.
