DONOVAN IN BOX POUNDED TO DEATH

Mullin Sent In, but Is Helpless When It Comes to Stemming the Tide.

SCORE:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	8	8	0
Detroit	0	6	2

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—The Pittsburg Pirates won the baseball championship of the world for 1909 after a sensational series of seven games by taking today's game by the overwhelming score of 8 to 0.

The grounds were jammed with excited fans, intensely interested in the outcome, saw Pittsburg take the final and seventh game after a week in which the score was again and again tied by the Detroit Tigers.

The game began at 2:30. Manager Jennings sent in Donovan, who was pounded out of the box. At the end of the third with the score standing 2 to 0, Mullin was sent in in a vain attempt to stem the tide, but failed to do so, the Pirates getting six runs off of him.

First Baseman Abstein, whose suspension was announced by Pittsburg for disobedience of orders previous to the game, was sent in when Byrne was disabled in a collision with Moriarity.

It is estimated that no less than $200,000 of Detroit money will leave this city tonight in the pockets of the 6000 Pittsburg fans who were in attendance today. By winning today's game the Pittsburg club is entitled not only to the championship of the world, but to 60 per cent of the gate receipts, which have amounted to over $180,000. The score by innings: Pittsburg 0 2 0 2 3 0 1 0—8 Detroit 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

WALSWORTH IS FOUND GUILTY MANSLAUGHTER

Jury in Celebrated Murder Case Returns Verdict of Manslaughter—Case Will Be Appealed.

WALSWORTH WILL BE SENTENCED NEXT WEEK

Law Provides Penalty of Imprisonment From One to Fifteen Years—Jury in at 5:30 P. M.

Charles N. Walsworth is guilty of manslaughter, according to the verdict of the jury, returned Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock after six hours of deliberation, for the shooting of James Mankins nearly two years ago. Judge Hanna will pronounce sentence next week.

The case will be appealed to the supreme court. Norval Walsworth, who is also implicated, will be tried next. The jury finding the verdict was composed of J. C. Carnahan, E. E. Gore, H. H. Taylor, H. G. Meyers, Jeff Neil, F. Y. Allen, N. D. Brophy, Welborn Beeson, Marion Hartley, Jesse Hodges, W. T. Vincent and R. P. Little.

The shooting affray which resulted in the killing of James Mankins a year ago last Christmas was one of the bloodiest affairs in the annals of Jackson county.

The Walsworths were at that time residing in a cabin upon a piece of land owned by the Mankins, and the trouble grew out of an attempt to eject the Walsworths from the land.

Henry Mankin went to the Walsworth place in company with a witness to serve a notice to vacate on the elder Walsworth, and became involved in a quarrel with the latter. During the altercation James Mankin came over and, it is charged, took up the quarrel of his brother Henry. In the meantime, Carrol Mankin, another brother, being attracted by the loud noise, came hurrying to the scene, armed with a large stick Walsworth, noticing the latter's approach and mistaking the stick for a gun, ran to the house, crying "it's guns you want, is it?"

Up to this point Norval Walsworth, who had taken no part in the affray, called to his father that it was not a gun, but a stick.

The elder Walsworth, upon reaching the house, came to the door with a rifle and, as he claims, fired a shot in the air for the purpose of frightening away the Mankins.

Belle Mankin, a sister of the belligerents, upon hearing the report of Walsworth's rifle, hurriedly brought a shotgun and later a rifle, and then followed a duel in which a number

BILLY BOY PUTS END TO CHASE

Blows Out His Brains With Last Cartridge and Foils His Pursuers.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 16. Billy Boy, the Piute Indian murderer, is dead. With his only remaining cartridge he sent a bullet through his brain and died in the granite fortress where he made his last desperate stand against the sheriff's posse last week.

The Indian's body was cremated on a hastily constructed funeral pyre by the officers who ran him to death on the Colorado desert, the sandy home of his Indian forefathers.

SECRETARY OF WAR MAY RESIGN POSITION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—There is a strong possibility that J. M. Dickinson, secretary of war, may shortly resign from the Taft cabinet, his eldest son has just suffered a serious attack of heart failure, coupled with the recent death in his family, it is said to prompt Mr. Dickinson to this thought.

Mr. Dickinson is now at Belle Mead, Tennessee, where hastened to his son's bedside today. Nobody here seems to speak authoritatively on the question of his resignation, but members of the cabinet circle would not be surprised if Mr. Dickinson should make the announcement shortly after his return to Washington.

President Taft's earnest desire to strengthen the republican party in the south would naturally prompt him to name a southern man in Mr. Dickinson's place, but no names are yet mentioned.

GRAND JURY INDICTS DETROIT BALL PLAYER

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The grand jury yesterday returned a true indictment against Tyrus Cobb, the sensational fielder of the Detroit Tigers, for stabbing Watchman George Stanchfield at the Euclid hotel during a series of games in that city with the Cleveland Naps. The authorities have not announced what action they will take to apprehend the Georgian cracker.

of shots were exchanged, James Mankin being fatally wounded and the elder Walsworth receiving a serious wound in the head from a rifle ball and a number of gunshot wounds about the head and arms.

It appears that the shot which killed Mankin was fired by Norval Walsworth from the rear of the house, it being his claim that he thought his mother was in the house at the time and that her life was endangered by the Mankins firing through the house.

WEALTHIEST BOY IN WORLD IS WATCHLESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—John Nicholas Brown, ten years old, reputed to be the richest boy in the world, has arrived on the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse accompanied by his mother, Mrs. N. B. Brown.

The boy was looked after by a nurse, who also served as maid for his parent. He played about the ship on the way over, and the only fact he seemed to bemoan was that he did not have a watch.

It appears that more than long watch had been entrusted to him recently but he had invariably broken them in throwing off his coat to take some violent exercise, of which he is very fond. Finally his mother shut down on watches.

FRUITS WILL BE MADE PERMANENT EXHIBIT

Southern Oregon fruits are to become a part of the permanent exhibit of the Portland chamber of commerce and to that end a shipment of Tokay grapes is now being prepared by Colonel A. W. Miller. The grapes will be placed in a solution of formaldehyde, which will preserve their fresh appearance, but destroy them for eating purposes, as the chemical is rank poison. The fruit was grown on the farm of Dr. W. G. Poffe, the hill road to Jacksonville, and of unusual size and rich dark color. A shipment of apples and pears will be made later on.

Mrs. E. J. Wells, who has been visiting with friends in Ashland, has through her efforts, by way of Ashland, where she lives.
