FARMING'S BUSINESS SIDE DISCUSSED

Pamphlet Issued Which Will Be of Great Aid to Farmers of the State.

"The Business Side of Farming" is the title of a recent publication from the Oregon Agricultural College press. The bulletin is part I. of the general subject and is devoted to farm records. It is written in a clear, simple style, and will be easily comprehended by any farmer. It is handsomely illustrated by 20 full-page engravings. Future bulletins on rural law and rural economy are promised. Like all the college and station bulletins, it is published for free distribution.

It is gratifying to note that the state college is taking the lead in this important subject. No phase of agricultural education is more important nor more generally neglected. The shortcoming of the American farmer in this respect has been revealed repeatedly. President Roosevelt and the rural commission have remarked on more than one occasion that this is one of the defects in rural education. The lack of correct business methods has not only ruined countless farmers, but it often drives the boys off the farm. The present census is emphasizing statistics on farm finance more than usually, but it is feared that little reliable information will be given.

Professor Bexell, the author of the bulletin, says in his introduction: "It is a truism to say that the financial side of farming is of the utmost importance. But the fact remains that this side of the world's greatest industry is almost entirely neglected by both the farmer and the schools. Professor Bailey says on this subject: 'In visiting practically every farm in one of the counties of New York, we did not find one man who knew how much it cost him to produce milk or to raise any of his crops.'"

The edition will not cover the entire station mailing list, but the bulletin is mailed to anyone on request. Questions on the business side of farming will be cheerfully answered. Address Professor J. A. Bexell, Oregon agricultural college, Corvallis, Or.

Prepaid Railroad Orders.

"Something which is of considerable interest to the public generally and which is perhaps not generally known is in effect between stations of the Southern Pacific company and all points in the United States. By means of this system tickets may be purchased at Medford from any place in the United States and mailed or telegraphed direct to the party wishing to come here. Sleeper accommodations and small amounts of cash in connection with these tickets may also be forwarded at the same time."
