EDITORIAL.

Many kind letters have been received since our reappearance, congratulating the ADVERTISER on its typographical appearance and its contents.

The citizens of Ashland had better wake up to their interests if they want the creamery, or our enterprising neighbor, Medford, will get it before we know it.

We want one hundred agents in Ashland and vicinity to solicit subscriptions for the ADVERTISER. Forty per cents commission. For further particulars call at this office.

The weekly ADVERTISER was granted a certificate of admission at the second class rates of postage last Friday.

We regret greatly that we did not meet Harry Morris as he passed through on Friday evening's train, but his letter announcing his coming was not received until the day after he passed. We trust that we will meet him when he returns in September.
