ASHLAND, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 2, 1895.

EDITORIAL.

"What are the wild winds saying?"
She asked in the college crowd.
"I cannot tell," her lover said,
"The Normal colors are so loud."

We respectfully call the attention of our city council to section 8, article 4, page 346, of the special laws of our city's charter.

It is with much satisfaction and pleasure that we publish a complimentary article from the Gold Hill Miner, on first page. It shows that people outside of our own town appreciate our efforts.

We thank you, Bro. Roberts, for your notice.

One of the base disgraces of our city that should be stopped,—if such a thing is possible,—is the habit, among our boys and young men, of drinking intoxicating liquor. If this thing is allowed to continue, the coming generation will be represented by a lot of drunken, broken down men.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Sheriff Patterson was in town yesterday.

The Grant's Pass Silver Cornet Band will furnish music for the Central Point Fair which opens October 8th.

W. P. Squires, formerly of Ashland, came up from Santa Rosa last evening.

If you don't read the ADVERTISER, you don't get half the news. Subscribe.

G. Y. Heaton and Virgil Wright started on a hunting trip yesterday.

Five dollars from the Society and a pair of kid gloves from D. R. & E. Mills, of Ashland, for the best two pounds of butter at the Central Point Fair.

Walter Denny's injured foot is rapidly improving, and he can now walk without the aid of crutch or cane.

Wm. Patterson came over from his mine yesterday.

There are over 50 horses now on the Central Point Fair Grounds in training for the races which commence October 8.

The arches that were constructed across Main street for the encampment, are being removed to-day.

It pays to advertise in the right journal; this paper is the one. Try it!

Henry Wirth returned to his home in Central Point Monday.

Five dollars from the Society and a fine hat from O. H. Blount, of Ashland, for the best exhibit of peaches at the Central point Fair.

From the present outlook, the Fair at Central Point will be largely attended this year.

Chas. Boomgardner went to Portland Monday.

Why pay two dollars a year for your local news when you can get the same news for twenty-five cents? Moral: Subscribe for the ADVERTISER.

Frank Grieves came over from Siskiyou on Monday evening's train.

Fifteen dollars in cash from the Society and a gold heart chain from T. K. Bolton, of Ashland, is the prize that the best Lady Equestrian will receive at the Central Point Fair.

DIED.—At his home in Ashland, Monday morning, October 1, 1895, J. H. Russel, aged 72 years, 5 months and 26 days. Funeral to-morrow afternoon.
