ELECTION RETURNS.

Ashland Annual City Election Held Tuesday,
December 17, 1895.

A great Republican landslide. The most contention was manifested over the marshalship. C. P. Jones, without the use of a drop of liquor or the purchase of a vote, despite the trickery of his enemies, gained a victory of over two to one over his rival, whose "life lease on the marshalship" seems to have most ingloriously expired.

Following is the vote by wards :
