Put off a Southern Pacific Train.

The passengers on a Southern Pacific train a few days ago tell of a disgraceful scene that occurred in one of the cars, near Albany.

The conductor, H. T. Streit, being too eager to merit the paltry reward of five dollars, offered by the R. R. Company for the discovery of each scalped ticket, accused S. Hart, a Minneapolis merchant, of having a ticket of the objectionable character, and demanded that the remainder of the fare be paid in cash. Upon Mr. Hart's refusal to comply with the demand, the conductor attempted to put his baggage onto the car steps, preparatory to putting it off at Albany. To this proceeding Mr. Hart objected, and the conductor then pitched onto him, and, with the aid of a brakeman, succeeded in putting him off the train at Albany.

The directors of the Ashland School District No. 5 have called a special meeting to be held in the City Hall at 4:00 o'clock January 29th 1896, to vote tax to support the schools for ensuing year.
