

The Ashland Advertiser.

Published Every Wednesday.

Monarch of the Amateurs.

W. Y. CROWSON, } EDITOR, . . .
PUBLISHER,
PROPRIETOR.

— TERMS. —

Subscription, One Year, . . . . . $ .50.
" Six Months, . . . . . . . . . . 25.
Sample copies mailed freely.

Advertising rates, } Made known upon
Discounts, . . . . . } application.
Terms to Agents, }

All ads., notices, etc., when not paid in advance, run until ordered out.

Entered at the post-office at Ashland, Oregon, as second-class matter.

L. P. FISHER, NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING Agent, 21 Merchant's Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. The ADVERTISER is kept on file in his office.

The "ADVERTISER" has the Largest Circulation of any Amateur Newspaper in the World.

ASHLAND, . . . . . WEDNESDAY, OCT. 14, 1896

For the Young People.

"Am I doing my best?" will be the topic at the C. E. meeting in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath evening at 6:30 o'clock. The Missionary Committee will have the meeting in charge.

The topic for the Y. P. S. C. E., of the Congregational church next Sunday evening is "Are we doing our best?" and is found in Matt. 5:13-16; 25:14-30. Leader, Miss Lucinda Spencer. The meeting commences at 6:30 o'clock.

Normal School Notes.

One hundred and eight students this week.

Prof. Miles is experimenting with a new kind of complexion beautifier.

Seven chickens for Sunday's dinner at the dormitory. The question is "where did they get them?"

"Oh Max!" she screamed, "my neck!"

"What's the matter?"

"There's a pillar-catter!"

"What—?"

"A taperkiller!"

"What in the world do you mean?"

"Oh dear," she moaned, as she clutched him frantically, "a kitterpaller, you know, Max, a patterkiller."

"Oh!" said Max, with evident relief, and he proceeded to brush a caterpillar off Ada's neck.

Prof. Berry must have had poor luck on his bird hunt. There seem to be plenty of birds left to assist in the chapel exercises. As President says: "There's no woodchuck like an old woodchuck, for noise."

We wonder how the young man is getting along who was injured so seriously by being stepped on last Sunday evening while the bus was being loaded after church. At last accounts he could hardly walk. R. E. PORTER.

First Class Accommodations.

+++

Second Class Prices.

+++

NO CHINESE EMPLOYED.

$1.00 a Day

Ashland House

Ranse Rouse, Prop'r.

Boarding by the Day, Week, or Month.

MEALS 25 CENTS.

FRESH BREAD.

CENTRALLY LOCATED.

FREE BUS TO AND FROM ALL TRAINS.

LOCAL SQUIBS.

If you don't read the ADVERTISER, you don't get half the news. Subscribe.

BORN.—In Ashland, this Wednesday morning, October 14, 1896, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Million, a daughter.

Try Hevener's fresh Eastern Sorghum 65 cents a gallon.

Mrs. W. N. Luckey gave a nice supper to Messrs. Clarence Lane, Alfred Ahlstrom, Ralph Hutch and Jay Taylor Monday evening, in acknowledgement of a serenade last Friday evening.

Everything to suit the traveler, at the Ashland House. First class accommodations.

A free membership to the Library for one year will be given to the person guessing the greatest number of "Books" at the "Book Social" Oct. 16.

Hard wood for sale. Leave orders at the ADVERTISER office.

Try the Ashland House for a good square meal.

MARRIED.—In Jacksonville Monday, October 12, 1896, Mr. —, —, Patrick and Miss Glenn Mills, both of Ashland.

The young couple left for Colorado Monday evening.

Fresh creamery butter at Wm. Hevener's Grocery.

Some good road work is being done on South Main street. All the low places are being filled up with stones.

Wanted to Rent.—A piano. Inquire at the Ashland Hotel.

Yesterday the ADVERTISER received a new supply of leads, brass rule, border, quads and spaces, etc., and we again wish to call your attention to the fact that we turn out the best job printing in Ashland.

Arrangements have been completed for the publication of the "Students' Intellect," a monthly magazine for the benefit of the "Poor Students' Fund" of the Ashland Normal. The publication of the paper is a worthy movement and its requests for support have been liberally responded to by our leading merchants and townspeople. L. Leo Hopkins has assumed the responsibility of Editor in Chief, with Percy Newton and Miss Ida Pearl Thomas as assistants. The publication will appear about the first of each month, with an average size of sixteen pages. The first issue is now in press, and will be out November first.

Remember us for JOB PRINTING.

A "Book Social" will be given at Granite Hall, Oct. 16th, for the benefit of the Ashland Library. Every one is cordially invited to add to the pleasure of the evening by representing in costume the title of a book. An interesting program will be rendered. Admission 15 cts. Refreshments 10 cts.

Hon. Ben Butterworth.

Never before was a political speech in Ashland as largely attended as was that of Hon. Ben Butterworth, of Cincinnati, Ohio, in the Chautauqua building last Monday evening. The building was crowded full, people from all parts of the valley attending. Mr. Butterworth is a loyal McKinley man, advocating protection and sound money the only way to prosperity. His speech appealed to the honest consideration and judgement of every true American, free from every degree of prejudice, and was the most affecting address delivered in Ashland during this campaign. McKinleyism takes a fuller breath to day than it ever did before.

The free silver men are working hard to maintain a spirit of Bryanism in Ashland, but are losing ground steadily. As the Hon. speaker expressed it: "Whether she will or nay, Oregon will be blessed with returning prosperity next November because the people of these United States say 'protection and sound money' must prevail."

Col. W. S. Crowel.

County Judge Wm. S. Crowel, of Medford, a local democratic politician who claims to be working for the best interest of home people,—so much so that, according to one of his own party, he sends our county printing to Portland at a cost of twenty-five per cent more than local offices ask for superior work—delivered a speech in the Chautauqua building last evening. Half a dozen selections by the band had the effect of drawing a crowd half as large as attended Hon. Ben Butterworth's speech the evening before, which speech the Judge made the basis of his remarks. He accuses the Hon. Butterworth of "being a bimetalist," an accusation to the credit of every republican—showing that the Judge and most of his "click" are ignorant of the difference between republican soundness and popocratic emptiness—no wonder they want free silver and free trade. Mr. Crowel's address was composed entirely of prejudiced remarks, and if a few more speakers will come here and advocate Bryanism, McKinley will have a handsome walk-over.