

TOLD IN SIDEHEADS.

SELECT SCHOOL.—Mrs. F. M. Gates, a lady who has the best of recommendations from the East will open a select school for small children, provided she can find a suitable school room.

GOER TO SPOKANE.—Mrs. J. H. Hooser left on Tuesday's train for Spokane Falls having received word of the death of little Theodore, the oldest child of her daughter Mrs. D. Maloney.

AN ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last the seven-year-old son of Curt Cooper, while passing through the washshed fell on an axe and quite severely cut one of his knees. He is not dangerously hurt.

WONG DIXIE.—Mr. M. Merwin addressed a lecture at B. Burch, Dixie, last January, and it went to a Dixie in Washington county and was not received by Mr. Burch until last week. The proper address was Ricksall. The town is called Dixie, but the post-office Ricksall.

RECOVERED.—A. N. Halleck, who has been on the sick list at Monmouth for the past six months, has recovered and was seen in his accustomed place last week, on the Monmouth stage. To still further gain strength he left on Monday to visit his sister, Mrs. Rexford in Benton county, and his son Taylor Halleck will "hold the reins."

HAVE ARRIVED.—Tuesday afternoon we dropped in at the grocery store of Burns, Dalton & Co., and found all hands busily engaged in unpecking a large invoice of those oil paintings, which are given as premiums with the goods purchased. The pictures are made of them now displayed for the first time and those to whom pictures are due would do well to come and get first choice. The ladies are delighted with the idea of having something with which to ornament the home.

FROM NEBRASKA.—Charles Irvine, of this city, opened a sack of Nebraska cornmeal for a customer and in doing so found an open pocket knife among the meal. It is of Rogers make, has a tone handle, is well worn, and evidently lost by some person who resides in Nebraska. The owner can get property by proving ownership. Until that time Mr. Irvine will use his "Nebraska knife."

BEST ON THE COAST.—Messrs. Cooper & Williams and Wm. Wells, of Buena Vista, made a shipment of some hops last fall to an Eastern firm, and are much gratified to learn that they are the finest in quality of any hops shipped by them to London. Since our rich bottom lands are destined to be the producers of much wealth, it is of public interest to know that the quality as well as quantity, is first-class.

TEACHERS' AGENCY.—Messrs. Goodnight & McCulloch, of Salem, with characteristic energy are pushing their newly established Teachers' Agency. They propose keeping track of the wants of every school district in Oregon, and also the qualification of every teacher in Oregon, and supply the school with the proper grade of teacher for a small charge. If managed energetically much good may result both to the teacher and the patron.

COULD NOT AGREE.—Away back in 1880 the Dallas Register in its June 4th issue contains this as one of the arguments against Independence being the county seat. "They fight among themselves. The town is divided into old town and new. They are partly incorporated and partly not. They are divided on schools, light over schools and doctors, agree on nothing, so far as I can hear, except saloons and the county seat." How far this was true ten years ago, we know not, but it is not true to-day.

STANLEY'S BOOK.—Mr. T. H. Scudder of this city has received the agency for the new book just published. "The explorations and adventures of Henry M. Stanley in Africa." This is a book of over eight hundred pages and two hundred engravings, is bound in cloth and gold, and sells for $2.50 a copy. With it is a life size engraving of H. M. Stanley, 15x20 inches in size on heavy paper suitable for framing. Mr. Scudder will call on the residents of this vicinity soliciting orders, and can also be found at his home in North Independence.

Too HIGH.—Some people are always crying down a town and community in which they live, and particularly discouraging themselves from investing on the grounds that prices are too high. About one year ago a certain gentleman was offered the half block near the public school buildings for $700. A few months later the Polk County Land company bought the two inside lots for two hundred dollars each and the two corners were sold for two hundred and fifty each making nine hundred dollars. Now that half block will readily sell for $1900, and some people said $700 was too high one year or so ago.

SOCIAL.—Invitations are out for a grand ball at Buena Vista on Friday night, March 28th, and on Saturday night the brass band of this place will give a concert at the opera house. Admission 25 cents. On Saturday evening a number of the friends of Miss Esie Robertson honored her birthday anniversary by calling at her home in a body. On Tuesday evening the friends of Miss Mollie Merriman assembled at the residence of A. J. Goodman to say farewell. She left on Wednesday for Portland where she will attend business college. She has a position as a stenographer and type writer already promised her.

FARMER'S INSTITUTE.—On Thursday evening the opening exercises of the Institute were held in the opera house, but as we go to press on that evening, it was too late for any account of the proceedings in this issue. The Institute is of great value to the farmers. While the practical part of farming is in grooves and channels, the theoretical parts is undergoing constant change. Most farmers are too poor to extensively experiment, but all are willing and even anxious to profit by the experiments of others. This is what an Institute helps the farmer to gain. We hope a large attendance will make the season here of much value.

LOCALS.

Fine weather. Pay your taxes. The big saw mill. Farmers Institute. National bank statement.

Charles Bills, of Suver, was in town Tuesday.

J. S. Cooper returned from San Francisco this week.

B. F. Smith, of Lewisville, was in town Thursday.

H. Simpson, of Kings Valley, was in town Tuesday.

Miss Eva Locke visited friends in Corvallis last week.

Mrs. Ida Vaughn returned from San Francisco on Monday.

The race course near town is to be systematically improved.

The West Side is printed by steam power every Thursday night.

The democratic state convention is called to meet April 19, 1890.

R. F. Baker, of Newport, is here looking after his landed interests.

Miss Laura Elkins is assisting Mrs. Estes in her dressmaking parlors.

Two families from Iowa, friends of A. Nelson, arrived in town this week.

Hon. J. D. Lee, Ira Smith and J. J. Brown, of Dallas, were in town this week.

Mitchell & Bohannon have the foundation laid of their new planing mill.

The lumber and timbers to build the new saw mill will come from Winlock, Wash.

A reunion of students took place at Monmouth this week. It was important.

Dolly, the two-year-old daughter of J. M. Crowley, of Crowley station, died on Wednesday.

The Willamette was on the rise last week, but has returned to its normal height again.

Mr. John Fluke has the frame up of a neat one story dwelling near the Presbyterian church.

J. L. Rexford, the accommodating Monmouth stage driver, has gone back to Benton County, his home.

Misses Clara and Eva Lee and Lizzie Jakes, of Salem, passed through town from Monmouth on Tuesday.

Mrs. O. D. Rennie is learning, under the instruction of her husband, to set type in the West Side office.

Mr. Dr. Young, of Portland, is occupying the position which Miss Merriam filled in the public school.

Miss Nell Ebbert, who has been teaching in Douglas county, Oregon, is visiting her parents at Monmouth.

Lumber and machinery for the new saw mill is arriving daily and soon an active stir will be made on the river bank.

We inadvertently omitted the name of Miss Laura Elkins who was one of the participants at Miss Williams party last week.

Attention is called to the order for the sale of the Merwin property on the 5th of May by Marshal Merwin, administrator.

Hon. E. T. Hatch and J. H. Hawley, of McCoy, and J. W. Paulson, of Washington county, are in attendance at the Institute.

The Misses McMahon, of Coldwell, Idaho, students at the Normal, were called home this week through the sickness of their mother.

H. B. Tholien, the engineer, engaged to survey the motor line to Monmouth arrived Thursday morning and will commence work at once.

Mr. B. S. Clark, has sold his general merchandise store to Mr. D. Cade, recently of Nebraska, who takes immediate possession at Suver.

The county court of Polk county at the last meeting, voted an appropriation of $10,000 to the Salem bridge and agreed to maintain one half the bridge.

The attention of school teachers, also of school directors, is called to the advertisement in this issue of the Capital Teacher's agency. Send for a circular.

Ice cream is easily made this kind of weather and tastes just as well in summer. Mr. Buster favored us with a very fine sample of the article this week.

Mr. T. Fennell, left for his old home in Iowa, this week. He will remain about three weeks. Tom is unmarried, but that new dwelling will be about completed when he gets back.

S. A. Paker, the architect, expects the lumber next week from Winlock and will commence building a $1200 residence on the corner opposite Dr. T. J. Lee.

Commissioner McBee, was in town Wednesday looking after our bridges. He was welcomed by the residents here. Mr. C. W. Leonard, the supervisor, is sick.

A state Sunday school convention is called to meet at McMinnville to commence April 15th and last two days, W. N. Hull, of Corvallis, is secretary.

J. C. Bair, of San Francisco, who owns several hundred acres of land opposite Independence is looking around for some one to plant him a field of hops. It is good land.

From this time forward, until further notice the hours of meeting at Presbyterian church on Sunday and Wednesday evening services will be at 7:30 instead of 7 o'clock.

This week Mr. L. L. VanNortwick branched out as a speculator by purchasing eight acres of land of W. W. Percival, paying six hundred dollars for eight acres. The land is this side of Monmouth.

Mr. Jasper Kennedy will run his omnibus to Buena Vista the night of the ball provided he can engage a load. All persons wishing to go please leave word at the stable. Fourteen persons can be accommodated. The bus is warm and easy riding.

The Heppner Gazette comes to us this week bright and new as ever, and containing as a supplement an excellent written description and illustrated pamphlet describing Heppner and its surroundings. Such enterprise has its effect on the people of a town.

Miss Belle Ebbert is here on a short visit to her parents. Her little nephew accompanied her.

TOLD BY CORRESPONDENTS

LEWISVILLE ITEMS. Why don't you let it snow. They stand, one of Monmouth's students, Sundays here with his parents.

At our annual school meeting H. Staats was elected director and J. C. Frink, clerk.

A few acres of the late sown grain around here will have to be grown on account of the high water.

F. M. Smith intends putting in a large amount of tilling this spring to drain his low land of surplus water.

Miss Blanche Brouson started last week to attend the agricultural college at Corvallis where her sister Hattie has been since last September.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

Miss Blanche Brouson started last week to attend the agricultural college at Corvallis where her sister Hattie has been since last September.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

LEWISVILLE ITEMS.

Why don't you let it snow. They stand, one of Monmouth's students, Sundays here with his parents.

At our annual school meeting H. Staats was elected director and J. C. Frink, clerk.

A few acres of the late sown grain around here will have to be grown on account of the high water.

F. M. Smith intends putting in a large amount of tilling this spring to drain his low land of surplus water.

Miss Blanche Brouson started last week to attend the agricultural college at Corvallis where her sister Hattie has been since last September.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay the market price for the wheat stored in the house any time they wish to sell.

John Burns, our popular mill man, will have this spring a large warehouse built in connection with his mill. J. M. Staats, the contractor, will take charge of the building, and when the weather will permit will rush the work to completion. This will be a great benefit to the farmers, as Mr. Burns proposes to pay