THE WEST SIDE

E. C. PENTLAND, ...er

FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1890.

Our county is safe, thank the Lord for that!

Hurrah for the people and our commissioner, Simpson!

And now for improvements in our city and our county. For at least two years we need not fear a heavy tax,

We have no rooster to crow, cannon to fire, nor lungs with which to shout ourselves hoarse; in the election of Simpson as county commissioner for the taxpayers of Polk county are the ones as much interested as we, and all feel that the result is just and right.

Election is over and yet work will not stop on the motor line nor any other enterprise now under way in this city; on the contrary more important ones are being planned and will be carried into execution. No false promises will be made, but the progress will be no less sure.

Now that the election is over what shall we talk about? Our advice for one thing is, do not talk at all but just sit down and write to some friend about the future possibilities of Polk county and try and bring him here. Do not try and think of some one away off in Europe, or even the Eastern States, but some one right in Oregon. You will have more influence.

Unflenchingly and without fear the WEST SIDE has stood by the people in the contest just closed and has advocated honest methods, and what it believed to be right and proper. This is not a victory upon which Independence can congratulate itself alone, but all of Polk county is the gainer. Calm judgement of the matter will convince all of the justice of your position now that it is all over.

Mr. Simpson is elected commissioner of Polk county. While individually Dallas would have been benefited by Mr. McBee's election, all of Polk county will be benefited by Mr. Simpson's election. The money for the bridges will be paid without depreciating our credit. These are burdens which we cheerfully bear. Polk county has grown and will now grow faster than ever. A time will come when a court house can be built and not burden the taxpayers. We should prepare for that day in advance.

Sylvester Pennoyer has been elected Governor of Oregon. One of the most significant facts about his election is that he was elected in a republican state, which gives Binger Hermann probably 10,000 majority, by from 3000 to 4000 and also while being opposed by that mighty paper, the Oregonian. Mr. Pennoyer is the people's friend, if any one can be, and as such he was elected. If he proves untrue to his professions, his future is not so bright as his present. He will now be a prominent candidate for vice president of the United States

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Vox Populii, Vox Deii.

The voice of the people is the voice of God and never in the history of Polk county has this truism been more fully illustrated than in our recent election. We stated the issue squarely before the people; we told them time and again, it was court house or no court house; that it was in no sense a county seat fight and now we have won the day by an overwhelming majority and we still say, once for all, the issue was plainly on the court house question, and leave the Dallas press to explain to its friends the way it put the issue in the face of their defeat. Yes, we hail the coming prosperity of Polk county with joy. We are proud of our record because we have been vindicated. And now to one and all we say, we have nothing to take back. We felt that we were right before the election and we are right after the election. We will in the future devote the columns of the WEST SIDE to the upbuilding of the whole county and not to any pet scheme of a few ringsters wherever they may reside.

THE RESULT.

The election is over and victory has perched upon our banners—the cause of the people of Polk county is in the ascendant. Not only have we that to congratulate ourselves upon; but also we can look every man in Polk county squarely in the face and say that it was gained fairly, honestly, and for the common good. We can say that Mr. Simpson's majority was not obtained by illegal ballots, boughten votes, or through a pervasion of facts. Independence can congratulate itself on the fact that while the local issue of court house or no court house was ever uppermost and a solid vote was cast against a heavy tax that no one on either the republican or democratic ticket was slaughtered for the local ticket. In fact in all things in this election the utmost fairness and liberality has been shown. No intimidation of any kind was used, and if those who voted for McBee in this precinct thought it to their own and the county's interest to vote as they did, no ill feeling should be held against them. Mr. Simpson can congratulate himself upon the character of the vote which elected him, based as it was upon intelligent and backed by the bone and sinew of the county. The fight is now over and let peace reign within our walls.
