THE NEW BOARD OF REGENTS.

The course taken by the Board sure will, receive it." Public con but investigate this question they fidence is greatly increased in the will see that it needs reforming. future of the school.

You will generally find that when the newspaper tells a plain lation of the length of a rafter. The the blow comes the hardest, the nearer the truth it is. A man can get the sympathy of a commuity in his sharp practices, if the criticism of a paper is more than the occasion deserves; but just telling the 7-12 nearly. truth and letting the public enlarge If | pitch, multiply by on the offense cuts the hardest.

With some people political power is one of the greatest of reformatory nearly. influences, hence in the promulga tion of a new principle of reform, the first step is to get the party it represents in power. The people of to day may flock to the cave. If the result is not an even cultural states to force a reduction of standard of the heralder of reform length, a few inches will make but little McKinley taxes on the necessaries of ideas but go back to the old parties when voting time comes, because power is as liable to be abused in the hands of one party as another, and we are apt to most trust an old and tried friend, in preference to an almost stranger.

We Americans are apt to think ourselves the ac plus ultra of political shrewdness. We think that postal telegraph and postal railroad brains and that no other nation can approach us in boldness of execution. The truth is that we are a slow nation in political action. We do an immense amount of talking and the talk culminates in an experimental law. In that respect we are conservative. Freedom of speech gives freedom of undividua action, but where it comes to uni ted action on any subject public opinion must be consulted, and i takes time to mold the opinion of the public. See how we have felt our way in tariff legislation, and gradually we legislate on the silver question. We are slow but we are some coloring is absolutely necessary if a marketable article is to be had. Of the various substances used in coloring butter, we think that carrots (of the deep yellow variety) give the most natural color, and most agreeable flavor. Annatto is, however, principally used with most satisfactory results. If carrots are used, take two large-sized ones, clean them thoroughly, and then with a km e scrape off the yellow exterior, leaving the white pith; soak the yellow part in boiling milk 10 or 15 m.inutes; strain boiling hot into the cream; it give the cream the desired temperature, colors it nicely, and imparts a sweetness to the butter.
