

THE WEST SIDE.

ISSUED BY West Side Publishing Company

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1892.

Lost.—One small gold pocket, containing small pictures of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McLaughlin.

LANDFORSAL.—Ten acres of finely improved land, with good buildings, young orchard and hop yard.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY.—The Democratic primary for North Independence precinct will be held at the school house in North Independence, Friday, April 8th.

PRESBYTERY.—Pursuant to adjournment, the Presbytery of Willamette will hold its regular spring meeting in the Calvary Presbyterian Church at Independence, Oregon, commencing on Tuesday, April 12, 1892.

TWO CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.—Many people throughout the state are not yet familiar with the fact that Oregon is composed of two congressional districts.

FINE PAINTINGS.—W. O. Cook finished painting in a very large gilt frame and placed in the show window of his furniture emporium.

THE CONTEST.—The literary contest by the students of the normal school in the chapel last Saturday evening was indeed very entertaining and edifying.

KILLING MEN IN BATTLE.—How a Soldier Feels When He Kills an Enemy in Battle.

They do not call it murder when men meet to slaughter each other in battle, they simply report so many dead, wounded, and missing.

As True as Gospel.—Major Stem, of Tacoma, because his stepson has been arrested for seducing a young woman whom he met at the rink, wishes to abolish the rink.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

THE CRADLE.—JOHNSON.—Born to the wife of E. J. Johnson, of this place, Friday, March 25, a boy, weighing seven and one-half pounds.

NOTICE.—The board of school directors of district No. 20 will hold their regular meetings in the director's room of the Independence National Bank.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Child, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

LOCALS.

Gloves at the Basket store.

Call at the Basket store and examine the large stock of gloves.

A large display of ladies' and gents' gloves at the Basket store.

More rain this week, which brings forth vegetation very luxuriantly.

The low prices on stoves at R. M. Wade & Co's house will surprise you.

Read the great bargain offered by B. F. Burch jr. in this week's issue.

The Ladies' Aid society will give a dime social at the residence of Rev. Mr. Peart, on D street, next Wednesday evening.

A. S. McDonald has purchased the Silverton Appeal from Messrs. Warlock and Parish.

We acknowledge receipt of cards from Senator and Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mattie Elizabeth, to the Duke de La Rochebeaucourt.

We notice three new houses going up between here and Monmouth this week.

The following from the Corvallis Times is applicable to Eugene: "The city council passed a number of ordinances last night, and they became laws."

"Beauty" may be "only skin deep," but the secret of a beautiful skin is pure blood.

"Gentle spring" loses many of its terrors when the system is fortified by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A movement is on foot at Monmouth and Independence to construct a one hundred foot boulevard between the two places.

There is no danger from whooping cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given.

They do not call it murder when men meet to slaughter each other in battle, they simply report so many dead, wounded, and missing.

Here is a brigade of us in battle line across an old meadow; our right and left join another brigade.

They are going to charge us. The guns cannot prevent that. Orders run along the line, and we are waiting until every bullet, no matter if fired by a soldier with his eyes shut, must hit a foe.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Fully Four Hundred Teachers in Attendance.

BOTH PLEASURE AND PROFIT.

Papers and Discussions on Matters of Interest to Teachers, Interspersed with Music and Literary Exercises.

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday evening the teachers' institute of the Third judicial district was called to order by State Supt. E. B. McElroy.

The evening's exercises were opened with a selection by the orchestra, after which Prof. P. L. Campbell and the editor of the West Side delivered the addresses of welcome in their usual pleasing styles.

The Monmouth choir and Glee club rendered selections in a worthy manner.

Prof. Garland, of Brownsville, delivered a very appropriate response to the address of welcome, instead of Supt. Russell, of Linn county, who was necessarily absent.

The piano duet by Misses Bruce and Butler, and the octette by four young ladies and as many gentlemen were highly appreciated.

Prof. Wm. S. Gilbert, president of the Philomath college, was introduced, and delivered a very able address entitled "Something or Nothing, Which?"

His remarks upon character, purpose, and knowledge, as the three elements which contribute to make a man something, were very edifying to all present.

The vocal solo by Miss Grant was indeed well executed.

The vacancy in the programme caused by the absence of Mrs. M. R. Brown, of Albany, whose name appeared for a reading, was supplied by Miss Collins in the recitation, "The Sorrows of Robah," which was recited in a manner certainly deserving of special mention.

Misses Grant and Longacre rendered a vocal duet in a superb manner.

The institute then adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The institute was called to order by Supt. McElroy.

First on the programme was an instrumental trio, by Mr. Sebring and Misses Estes and Lee.

An address, "Results to be Aimed at in School Instruction and Discipline," by Prof. B. F. Mulkey, of Bethel, was next in order.

Prof. Hatcher's paper concerning the same subject, I believe, he said, that we should so teach that our pupils will acquire a thirst for knowledge.

A vote of thanks was extended to Prof. Gilbert for his kind assistance in the institute work.

The O. S. N. choir pleasantly rendered the song, "The cows are in the corn."

The subject of industrial drawing was then taken up by Miss Lena Butler, of the Dallas public school, who uses as a foundation for her system of drawing the "dot" system.

Remarks were made by Mrs. Garland, of Brownsville, concerning the opposition of parents against the introduction of drawing into the public schools.

Miss Smith, of the Monmouth public schools, followed with remarks on the same subject.

The subject of corporal punishment was here taken up, and a warm discussion followed.

A song by the O. S. N. choir. An interesting paper on number music by Mr. Sebring's amateur orchestra, from Independence.

Promotion in public schools, by Prof. L. W. McAdams.

Discussion, by Prof. W. J. Spillman, Mrs. L. C. Faubus gave an excellent outline on the study of authors and of text work, under the head of Literature. She spoke of the history of different authors, and paid eloquent tribute to Shakespeare, Milton, and others; also, the results of different lines of thought shown by comparing the thought of American writers to their fate in life.

THE WEEK.

MARCH 24.

Whitehair Reid, ex-minister to France, will sail for New York next Saturday.

The Democrats of North Dakota send a delegation to the national convention favoring Cleveland.

Emperor William, of Germany, is, it is intimated, crazy, and there is already talk of a regency.

Senator Dolph announces that he will support the measure excluding Chinese from the United States.

The two men who recently assaulted and robbed Father Metayer, a Catholic priest of Albany, were each sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

To-day was set for the vote on the free-coinage bill, but friends of the measure were unable to bring it to a vote.

Indeed, a motion to lay the bill upon the table carried by a vote of 148 to 147, but Speaker Crisp exercised his right to vote, and defeated the motion by making the vote a tie.

It is doubtful if friends of the measure can again succeed in bringing it to a vote this session.

Georgia Democrats are opposed to Hill.

Russian Jews have been forbidden to pass through Germany.

Henry J. Smith, a stonecutter, recently from Spokane, cut his throat to-day in San Francisco.

Mrs. Fannie Schade, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, shot herself five times, the last time through the brain.

A family of ten, in Dubuque, Iowa, were poisoned by eating beef affected with lumpy jaw. Two may die.

The last thing the Missouri legislature did before adjourning yesterday, was to endorse Cleveland for the presidency.

A movement to consolidate the packing houses of Chicago, Kansas City, and Omaha, is on foot. English capitalists are interested.

A syndicate is being formed for the erection of an immense sugar refinery in Philadelphia, to work independently of the sugar trust.

J. W. Bickett, of 213 Oak street, East Portland, shot himself through the brain. No cause assigned. He leaves a wife and five children. He has lived in Portland ten years.

Unemployed workmen of Sydney, Australia, are parading the streets bearing banners inscribed, "Work, or bread for our starving wives and children."

The tone of the English press evinces a disposition on the part of the British government to back down from the position taken on the Behring sea matter.

Wait Whitman, "the good gray poet," died to-day at Camden, N. J.

Both houses of the German parliament will be disbanded next week.

The Chicago grand jury has found indictments against nine aldermen.

Governor McKinley was defeated for the chairmanship of the Ohio state Republican convention to-day.

Dr. M. Hughes, a prominent physician of San Diego, California, was accidentally killed while hunting.

Over 2,000 negroes have left Memphis, Tenn., since the lynching there three weeks ago, and the exodus shows no signs of abating.

Astoria will erect a factory with a capacity sufficient to furnish all the cans used on the Columbia river. The city will pay the taxes on the plant for five years.
