

SECRET SOCIETIES.

A. O. U. W. - INDEPENDENCE LODGE Masonic hall. All adjoining brothers invited to attend. W. P. CANNAWAY, M. W. - BLAIR MILLER, W. Secy.

VALLEY LODGE NO. 22, I. O. O. F. - Meets in Masonic hall every Thursday evening. All old fellows cordially invited to attend. W. H. CRAYNE, Secy.

LAVON LODGE NO. 28, A. O. U. W. - Meets on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Masonic hall every two weeks thereafter. G. W. SMITH, W. M. W. P. CANNAWAY, Secy.

HOMER LODGE NO. 8, K. O. F. - Meets every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Masonic hall. W. H. CRAYNE, Secy.

PHYSICIANS - DENTISTRY.

DR. J. K. LOCKE, Physician - and - Surgeon, Buena Vista, Oregon.

LEE & BUTLER, PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, -ALSO- U. S. EXAMINING SURGEONS.

DR. J. B. JOHNSON, Resident Dentist, All work warranted to give the best of satisfaction.

ATTORNEYS. GEO. A. SMITH, ATTORNEY AT LAW.

WILL practice in all state and federal courts. Abstracts of title furnished. Office over Independence National Bk.

Jos. J. Daly, J. E. Sibley, H. C. Kahin, DALY, SIBLEY & EAHN, ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

We have the only set of abstract books in Polk county. Reliable abstracts furnished, and money to loan. No commission charged on loans.

A. M. HURLEY, Attorney and Counselor at Law, Office Next Independence Nat'l Bank.

B. F. Bonham, W. H. Holmes, BONHAM & HOLMES, ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

Between State and Court, SALEM, OR on Commercial St.

MISCELLANEOUS. Mitchell & Bohannon, Manufacturers of SASH AND DOORS.

ALSO SCROLL SAWING. Main street - Independence.

BATH AND BARBER SHOP. E. T. HENKLE, PROP.

Two experienced workmen in attendance.

BANKS. Commenced Business March 4, 1889. Established by National Authority.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, of Independence, Oregon.

Capital Stock, $50,000.00. Surplus, $10,000.00.

J. S. COOPER, L. W. ROBERTSON, President, Vice President.

W. H. HAWLEY, Cashier.

DIRECTORS. J. B. Cooper, L. W. Robertson, Lewis Helmick.

G. W. Whitaker, W. W. Collins.

A general banking business transacted. Buys and sells exchange on all important points.

Deposits received subject to check or on certificate of deposit. Collections made. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

THE INDEPENDENCE National Bank!

Capital Stock, $50,000.00.

H. HIRSCHBERG, President. ABRAHAM NELSON, Vice President.

W. P. CANNAWAY, Cashier.

A general banking and exchange business transacted; loans made, bills discounted, commercial credits granted; deposits received on current account subject to check, interest paid on time deposits.

DIRECTORS. Joshua McDaniel, H. H. Jaspersen, A. J. Goodman, H. Hirschberg, A. Nelson, T. J. Lee, L. A. Allen.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF OREGON.

POLK COUNTY BANK, MONMOUTH, OR.

A. MACHIN, President. P. L. CAMPBELL, Vice-Pres.

IRA C. POWELL, Cashier.

PAID CAPITAL, $25,000.

DIRECTORS. L. A. Macrum, P. L. Campbell, I. M. Simpson, J. B. Butler, J. B. Stimpert, F. N. Powell, Joseph Craven.

A general banking and exchange business transacted; loans made, bills discounted, commercial credits granted; deposits received on current account subject to check, interest paid on time deposits.

Office hours, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Farmers and Merchants Insurance Co.

Capital Stock, $500,000.

W. F. READ, President. G. F. SIMPSON, Vice President. J. O. WHITMAN, Secy. and Mgr.

J. L. COWAN, Treasurer. M. NELSON, Asst. Secretary. E. A. MILLER, Cashier.

Hon. R. S. Strahan, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; Hon. John Burnett, ex-Adj. - Gen. Justice of the Supreme Court; Hon. J. K. Weatherford, Attorney, State Senator.

Hon. J. I. Cowan, President Lane County National Bank; W. F. Read, Merchants' & Farmers' National Bank; Hon. J. G. Writman, Capitalist; I. Foley, Physician.

Premium receipts since organization, Losses paid since organization, Surplus as security to policy holders.

KIRKLAND & GIBSON, Local Agents, Independence, Oregon.

CALL AND SEE US.

We buy for cash, and we buy to sell. We buy direct, and we buy in quantities.

You will always find our stock complete. We sell at one price, and that the lowest.

We treat you courteously. A satisfied customer is our best advertisement.

Our constant aim is to give you the best goods at bottom prices. We make your interests ours.

Your child will be served as cheaply and politely as yourself. A comparison of our styles and prices will convince you that you should trade with us.

L. KELSO, Independence.

THE PIONEER DRUG STORE OF BUSTER & SHELLEY.

Our Jewelry Department, of which Mr. O. A. Kramer has charge, is full and complete.

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Cutlery, Silverware, Canes, etc.

Repairing a specialty, and dispatched with promptness and satisfaction.

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Druggists' Sundries, Books, Stationery, etc.

Prescriptions Carefully Compounded.

Remember, our motto is Quick Sales and Small Profits.

BUSTER & SHELLEY, INDEPENDENCE.

NEW DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT

In compounding a medicine a part was accidentally spilled on the hand and on washing after it had dried it was discovered that the hand was cured of the eruption. It is a simple and powerful preparation, and is the only one of the kind that has been discovered in the world since the discovery of the cure for the eruption. IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS AND SO SIMPLE ANY CHILD CAN USE IT.

Trade Mark. The hair over and under the nostrils for a few minutes, and the hand will be cured of the eruption. It is a simple and powerful preparation, and is the only one of the kind that has been discovered in the world since the discovery of the cure for the eruption. IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS AND SO SIMPLE ANY CHILD CAN USE IT.

H. M. LINES, FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND UNDERTAKER, INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.

A full and complete line of Funeral goods Always on Hand.

Luther Grounds Dealer in Hardware, queensware, tinware, stoves, and other miscellaneous articles, calls the attention of the public to his fine stock of the above articles now on hand.

His prices will compare favorably with prices in any other locality. Come and see us and you will be satisfied with price, quantity, and quality.

MONMOUTH, OR. BEATTY'S ORGANS at bargain prices. For catalogue address Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey.

A. B. CHERRY, WATCHMAKER and JEWELER, With Patterson Bros., Independence, Oregon.

Pills? NO!! If you take pills it is because you have never tried the

S. B. HEADACHE AND LIVER CURE. It works so nicely, cleansing the liver and kidneys; acts as a mild physic without causing pain or sickness, and does not stop you from eating and working.

To Try it is to become a friend to it. For sale by your druggist.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Two Bottles Cured Her. VI

Case No. 18, July, 1892.

I was suffering for years from shocks in my head, so much so that I could not sleep, and I took medicine from many doctors, but didn't get any relief until I took Pastor Koening's Nerve Tonic; the second dose relieved me and a bottle cured me. R. W. FEICK.

Headache than Ever. San Marcos, Cal., October, 1890.

It is very unusual for me that I have not sooner written you how good Pastor Koening's Nerve Tonic has done for me. I must say that every painful attack, and gives me refreshing sleep, and I feel better and healthier than ever before. Accept my heartfelt thanks. M. ARKIZ.

FREE - A Valuable Book on Nerve Diseases sent free to any address. This medicine free of charge. This valuable book, published by the International Health Co., of New York, N. Y., since 1886 and now prepared under his direction by the ROEHLIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill. Sold by Druggists at 50c per Bottle. 50¢ per Doz.

MONMOUTH'S New Grocery!

W. J. MULKEY, Prop.

Satisfaction guaranteed in prices and goods. Stock fresh and bought for cash. Fair dealing and good bargains.

FREE DELIVERY at the hours of 9 to 11 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m.

PLEASE GIVE ME A CALL.

F. H. MORRISON, ARCHITECT and SUPERINTENDENT

Charges reasonable, and first-class work guaranteed. DALLAS, - - OREGON.

Claggett's Ferry.

The public is hereby notified that the undersigned has bought the ferry at Independence and will be ready to receive the traveling public at the most reasonable rates. J. C. GAGGARD.

THE - Willamette Real Estate Co., Independence, - Oregon.

Transacts a general Real Estate Business, buys and sells Property, effects Insurance and does a general Conveyance Business.

Parties having Lands for sale will find it to their advantage to

List Their Property

With this Company, as they are daily sending lists of land east, thus placing desirable property before the residents of the East.

JAMES GIBSON, President. J. W. KIRKLAND, Secretary.

BRICK YARD. J. R. COOPER

Of Independence, having a steam engine, a brick machine and several engines of finest clay, is now prepared to keep on hand a fine quality of Brick, which will be sold at reasonable prices.

The New Holton House.

M. A. Dudley, Prop.

Cor. Fourth and Alder streets, PORTLAND, OREGON.

Centrally located. Newly furnished and repaired. Free from dirt and from all nuisances.

THE JEROME & CO. GREAT MUSEUM OF ANATOMY

107 West 1st St. St. Louis, Mo. Catalogue sent free. Goods made and how to avoid them and diseases. Museum will give you with thousands of new objects. Admission 25 cts.

NEW FISH MARKET. Geo. Slaughter, Prop'r.

All kinds of fresh fish kept constantly on hand

OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE. MAIN STREET, - INDEPENDENCE.

JAPANESE PILE CURE

A new and Complete Treatment consisting of suppositories, ointment in Capsules, also internal, blind, or bleeding, itching, chronic, recent, or hereditary piles, and many other diseases and female weaknesses. It is always a great benefit to the general health. The first discovery of a medical cure rendering an operation with the knife unnecessary hereafter. This remedy has never been known to fail. It is given with a box to contain the money if not cured. Send stamp for sample. Guaranteed by W. H. H. Co., 107 West 1st St., St. Louis, Mo.

BEATTY'S ORGANS For catalogue, address Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey.

L. L. WHITE, DENTIST. S. E. Cor. 1st and Taylor, PORTLAND, - - OREGON.

POETRY.

Oh, mistress, whom the birds have called their mate, These chaotic inspirer of their choicest lay - Thus to accept this little gift, I pray - Unworthy, yet the grace will not refuse - Unbosom, and yet thy lips still may use - The offering smaller hearts would cast away - Divided homage prayer must pay - It working as a temple it must choose - And words and words must be mingled there - The incense blending with the fragrance, And busy hours be interspersed with prayer - And sufferings and sorrows in one stroke, Must stay the victim and the food prepare - Finding their surpluses in a laborer's cloak - -William Rice Sims in New York World.

ELSIE

I was practicing medicine at the time in Rotherham, a large struggling town six miles south of Sheffield, in Yorkshire, England, in the heart of the South Yorkshire coal district.

It is a rough class of people with whom a general practitioner generally has to deal in such a district, though there are some very big swells in the neighborhood to be sure. Still, as is always the case in life among the rough and most unlovely, one sometimes finds a gentle flower.

Such a sweet exception was little Elsie Underhill, a Scotch girl, I was called, professionally on the evening of Nov. 23, 1873. It is a long while ago, and I don't much if any of the persons connected with the little story I am about to tell (should any of them still be surviving) will remember Dr. Newman. At any rate, not one of those who knew me will be hurt, and the one person against whom I shall have much to say is a mean and contemptible in my opinion that I care little for his.

It was a poor little home I was called to in Church street, where Elsie's parents lived, but very different from the dirty, carelessly kept cottages and small houses in the vicinity. But I am not going to wear my nose out in describing to you what I met by the door, old, kindly faced mother at the door, before taking me up stairs to the tiny room where lay her suffering daughter, she told me something of her history.

Elsie was only just turned nineteen, but she had already made herself a reputation which was honorable and enviable. The years before, when just turned sixteen, being a pretty and well developed girl, with more than the average amount of intelligence, she had obtained an engagement at the local theatre, where she had appeared in the character of Jennie Deans in Andrew Halliday's adaptation of Sir Walter Scott's novel, "The Heart of Midlothian." She had attracted a great deal of attention. The local correspondent of a London theatrical paper, The Hornet, then the property of Stephen Pinks, had spoken highly of her, and more than one London manager had visited Rotherham to see her act. There were stock companies in those days.

Among the many young fellows who had become infatuated by her beauty was one Horace Willington, the son of a physician in Sheffield, a very rich man. This young man's attentions were very marked. He obtained an introduction to the young girl, and through her to Elsie. And then he began a serious courtship.

In every way his manner and apparent object were decidedly honorable. Only one thing he omitted - he did not take her to his own home.

In order to be near the man who had captured her heart, she refused more than one lucrative offer to go to London, where she would have to accept an engagement at the Sheffield Theatre Royal, which being close to her own home she could reach very easily. Here her opportunities were unlimited, and she was to receive more than she could have in any other town in the north.

Then came a proposal from a great London manager which was so good that Elsie could not resist it. Her aged mother and her father, who had accepted an engagement at the Sheffield Theatre Royal, which being close to her own home she could reach very easily. Here her opportunities were unlimited, and she was to receive more than she could have in any other town in the north.

She had a month later her health entirely gave way and she found it necessary to throw up her engagement and return to her home to the little home in Rotherham in which she had breathed her earliest breath.

So much her mother told me, then took me up to see her daughter. Did I say just now that she was suffering? That was hardly the case. She was dying of rapid consumption. She was too weak to suffer much physically, but the broken heart was giving her exquisite torture.

Such a lovely girl I have rarely seen. Brown curling hair swept back from the sweet face and long dark lashes shaded the blue gray eyes that were all intelligence and had been wont to fill her audience with blind enthusiasm.

The little room in which she lay was filled with delicate feminine knick-knacks, reminiscences of her favorite friends, souvenirs of her professional friends, all arranged about the room with gentle, thoughtful love by her stricken mother. But most interesting of all was a rather curious thing hanging above the pillow on the bedpost by a narrow blue ribbon. It was something that would attract the attention of the least observant.

A large gold split ring, elegantly chased and evidently of antique manufacture, to which was suspended a common copper English penny piece. The combination was so incongruous, so ludicrous, that I could not refrain from taking it in my hand to examine.

"Oh, please don't touch that," exclaimed the dying girl, "it is all mine." Then I had prescribed a simple palliative for the racking cough and had given instructions for other simple treatment. I went down stairs again with the mother.

"You saw the penny and the ring, doctor," she said, "and you wondered. Is it not so?"

I confessed that I had felt a little curious to know its history. And here is what the old woman told me:

The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon it as a sort of heirloom, and had carried it with her as a sort of talisman since childhood. One day, after she had known Mr. Willington a few months he proposed to her and she was married. The old gold ring had belonged to Elsie's great-grandmother. It had once been a thumb ring. Elsie looked upon