ISSUED BY—
West Side Publishing Company

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1892.

RIDDLE.—One Friday night I saw a light, which caused me to admire; I saw the land rolled up in sand all in a flame of fire. Answer: A brick kiln on fire.

MONEY TO LOAN.—On good improved farms only 10 cents from $500 to $5,000 at six percent per annum. C. P. Wells, three miles south of Independence.

FUR SALE.—Two small tracts of land near Independence mostly set to fruit trees; also one ten acre tract with good building, hop yard, and orchard. Inquire at this office.

FINE MONUMENTS.—Louis Helmick purchased of Gilmore & McAdams this week a $250 monument to place at the head of his father's grave in the Monmouth cemetery. Also, Dr. T. J. Lee has ordered one that will cost $450 to place at the head of his daughter's grave in the same cemetery. These are certainly valuable tokens of love and respect for the departed ones.

A NEW LODGE.—Mr. R. P. Heard, of Portland, was in the city last Friday and Saturday in the interest of the "Improved Order of Red Men," a secret order having a wonderful growth on this coast just at present. Twenty-five pale faces signed a petition for a charter, and the new tribe will be instituted in Independence in about two weeks. As soon as the charter arrives the "Great Inchoance" and a large number of "Red Men" from Portland and Salem will be on hand with their scalping knives.

JOIN THE WOODMEN.—Young people, and especially those who have little ones growing up who are dependent on father and mother for support and education, should take warning lest they should be suddenly taken away and these loved and innocent ones left without means of support in this cold, cold world. A mere trifle placed occasionally with a beneficiary order would leave these precious ones beyond danger from want. Join the Woodmen of the World and thereby provide for your family in case you should fall otherwise. It is safe and reliable.

BASE BALL.—The rub game between the Independence and Seio teams last Sunday was won by the latter with a score of eight to seven. There was a good crowd out and the game was unusually interesting, the tallies standing very close all the way through. Both teams had a few bad errors on the part of the home team, which they have not been indulging in lately, they would have beaten their opponents. However, they will have another chance a week from next Sunday, July 31st. The Independence nine will cross bats with Lafayette next Sunday at the Talmage grounds.

THE NEW PRINCIPAL.—Prof. C. A. Hitchcock and wife arrived in Independence last Friday. The Professor is the principal of the Independence Public school, and comes from Cleveland, Ohio. We are much pleased with Prof. Hitchcock's views on methods of public-school work so far as we have been able to see, and we are of the opinion that a hearty co-operation upon the part of the directors and patrons will secure to us a school of which we may all be proud. The Professor occupies one of Mr. W. F. Cressy's houses. Let all extend a hearty welcome to the Professor and his wife.

THE BASE-BALL SUPPER.—In consequence of the Independence and Monmouth business men's base ball game resulting as it did last Friday, viz, thirty to eighteen in favor of Monmouth, Independence was stuck for the twenty-dollar supper, which was to be given in Monmouth for forty persons. The feast was spread at Mr. Jordan's hotel, where the above-mentioned number of men partook heartily of the abundant good things the landlord had prepared, and we must say that it was more than was expected for the amount expended, and a jolly good time was had. Some of the boys say they wish they would play again.

THIRSTY! THIRSTY!—Yes the festive day. The marshal some days ago gave official notice to all property owners to cut down all the thistles about the premises and in the streets. Did you do as ordered you? Of course you did not: you are not built that way. You are the same fellows that shouted so loud for the row ordinance to pass. Now if the old town cow did not keep your part of the town clean, this little city in six months would be a "snell to Heaven." For good ness sake, cut down your thistles and clean your streets, remove to the mountains. The marshal will attend to this business himself in a few days, however.

RETURNED.—Last Monday morning's train brought back Blair Miller from his visit of nearly two months to his parents in Keytesville, Mo. He met with no serious accident on his entire journey, but perhaps avoided some only by occupying the seats on the upper side of the car while rounding some of the great curves of the Rockies, as his enormous aviridopsis exerted quite an influence on the train. Upon alighting, he was given three cheers by the boys, who several in number had secured plug hats, and for a short time converting themselves into a twelve-hour train, drew one of Damon & Cook's finest carriages to the depot for his special conveyance to the hotel, but ere he had reached his destination he had escaped his escort, Wayne Williams, who like Sheriff Kelley, was more interested in the fun than in the prisoner. Thus he returned to almost his identical starting point amid great pomp and splendor. During his absence he visited several sections of the country, and gave California some special attention, but found no place which weighed carefully in the balance, all things considered, that would tip the beam over this. He also stated that the money market was in a very stringent condition in the East as well as on this coast, but looked for better times soon. He had a pleasant trip and we welcome his return.

LOCALS.

See the new parlor suite at F. Anstine's.

Harvest hats and gloves at Shelley & Vanduy's.

Cotton pants for harvest wear at Shelley & Vanduy's.

The ball game the coming Sunday promises to be of much interest.

Remember Shelley & Vanduy's great reduction sale in clothing.

A Rev. Part will hold divine service in the Evangelical church next Sunday morning. All cordially invited.

A letter from Hon. E. T. Hatch says that they are all well and getting along nicely. It also reports fine weather in Alaska.

Do not go home without first getting one of those ice-cream buckets full of ice cream at Mrs. W. H. Whiteaker's, next door to the postoffice.

O'Donnell & Irvine have the contract for furnishing the grangers of the county with binding twine. Farmers will please make a note of this.

The fisherman to the brooklet his. And for the troutlet lies in wait. When he returns to our surprise—Just as before he lies in wait.

The besting medicine is a dose or two of St. Patrick's pills. They not only purify but cleanse the whole system, and purify the blood. For sale by all medicine dealers.

I have a new parlor suite, six pieces, carved oak frame, silk tapestry and plush, latest style and colors. If you want a parlor suite you will do well to see this one before you buy. F. Anstine.

Of course you want to be well posted on the tariff question. The issue of the coming campaign will be the tariff. Send us a two-cent stamp and we will send you the only complete work on the tariff question ever issued.

A lady whose hair came out with every combing, was induced to give Ayer's Hair Vigor a faithful trial. She did so, and not only was the loss of hair checked, but a new and vigorous growth soon succeeded that which had gone.

Do not be discouraged about eczema till you have given Ayer's Sarsaparilla a persistent trial. Six bottles of this medicine cured the complaint for George S. Thomas, of Ada, Ohio, when all other remedies failed to afford any relief.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the ice-cream social, given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Evangelical church, was not very largely attended. Nevertheless a very social and pleasant evening was enjoyed by those present.

Macaulay & Robertson wish to call your attention to the following item: All those knowing themselves indebted to the firm to call and settle up, as the firm dissolves partnership the 1st of August, and all accounts must be in before that time.

"Your husband," said the caller sympathizingly, "was a man of excellent qualities." "Yes," sighed the widow, "he was a good man. Everybody says so—I was n't much acquainted with him myself. He belonged to seven secret societies."

While the thermometer is hanging around the boiling point in the East, and people there pass most of their time in the surfer or in ice houses, here in Oregon it is cool enough to make a fire morning and evening conducive to one's comfort.

The institute and summer school convened in Monmouth last Monday with a fair attendance. Good work is being done, and it promises to result in much profit to the teachers. A synopsis of the work being done will be given next week.

Mistress "Eliza, this is a strange state of affairs. Four o'clock in the afternoon, and the kitchen in this state of confusion with nothing ready." "O you see, ma'am, your daughter was in the greater part of the day helping me with the cooking."

Miss Cora Small very pleasantly entertained a few of her young friends at her home Wednesday evening at a loquacious. This is very entertaining if close attention is given. After indulging in this amusement for a couple of hours, delicious refreshments were partaken of. The party then tended their obligations to the amiable hostess for the pleasant evening's entertainment, and took their good-night leave.

On the coming Sunday morning, July 24, 1892, there will be preaching services at the Christian church, conducted by Rev. D. V. Poling. The pastor will sing a solo, which will proceed the sermon. In the evening a program of sacred song, consisting of anthems, by the choirs of the Christian and Evangelical churches, assisted by others, will be rendered. Rev. and Mrs. Poling will also sing a duet. The public is cordially invited to attend and participate in these services.

There is luck in odd numbers and combinations. There are 9 letters in the name of each candidate on the democratic ticket and the letters 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, and Cleveland stands "level." Drop 1, 2, 9, and Stevenson is "even so." There are "leven," "land" and "lea" and a "clean" great "deal" besides in "Cleveland," there are seventeen "sons," "sons" of "veils," "noes," "nets," a present "tense" and "no nonsense," "rest notes," and "even tones" of "votes" in Stevenson, and with both of them "in election" the ticket.

The managers of the Portland exposition are exerting every effort to induce exhibitors to place on exhibition at Portland such samples as they intend to display at Chicago in 1893.

Successful competition at Portland will be of great advantage in such cases, and particularly in the case of canned goods the time intervening will be a safe guaranty against defective sealing. These exhibits will be carefully stored in the exposition building free of cost until such time as the exhibitors desire to forward them to Chicago. These articles will be ready for delivery, when all demands can be supplied. These brick are of excellent quality and will be sold at reasonable prices.

ON FIRE.—J. R. Cooper's brick kiln is now burning, and contains 500,000 brick. In about ten days these brick will be ready for delivery, when all demands can be supplied. These brick are of excellent quality and will be sold at reasonable prices.

The purchasing agents of the United States Government have ordered nearly one hundred thousand pounds of Dr. Price's Baking Powder in the first five months of this year, 1892.

The government exercises great care in selecting its supplies of all kinds, rejecting everything that is not of the best, and the very fact that it has adopted Dr. Price's Baking Powder is proof that it has found it the best of all the baking powders. Dr. Price's is peculiarly adapted for export, as neither long sea voyages nor climatic changes affect it, this brand keeping fresh and sweet for years while other baking powders deteriorate rapidly.

It is guaranteed to the government to be a pure cream of tartar powder, free from ammonia, alum or other harmful substances, and is also the only baking powder prepared by a physician of high standing.

OREGON SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The Census of the Several Counties Upon Which Distribution Will Be Made.

The state land board will meet in a few days to make the appropriation of interest on the state irredicable school funds for distribution among the school districts of this state. The per capita last year was $1.45, but no estimates have been made on the amount of school fund on hands in the state treasurer's office it cannot be conjectured what the per capita will be until the board meets. Last year the total number of school children in the state was 106,622, as against 111,770 this year, which is an increase of 6,148. Below is given the number of persons between the ages of four and twenty years residing in the different counties:

Professional Teachers.

The fact that teaching in the public schools is rapidly rising to the dignity of a profession, if it has not already reached that position, is shown by the large number of students who are seeking professional training in our state normal schools. The attendance at Monmouth last year, the largest perhaps in the Northwest, was made up of representatives from almost every county in the state, besides a good aggregate representation from Washington, Idaho, British Columbia and Alaska. The average school director is beginning to demand well-trained teachers, and sees clearly enough that a good teacher at $60 is an immeasurably better investment than a poor teacher at $30. He looks now more to results than to wages. The school at Monmouth is rapidly increasing its facilities for work and bringing up to the highest standard its course of training. New members have been added to the faculty and new apparatus supplied in all the departments. There is a rapidly growing demand for the graduates of the school and in every way its prospects are of the brightest.

Base Ball at Seio.

The Seio Press is evidently not pleased with the manner in which the Seio boys played their last game of ball. In reference to the game it says: "Last Sunday the much-talked-of game of ball between the Independence and Seio clubs took place on the latter's ground in this city. For some reason the Seio boys played a very ordinary game, especially in the third inning, when they allowed the visitors to score six runs, owing to several rank errors made by the Seio's. Perhaps the home team put up the best ball they could, but the audience did not think so, and a good many think that the Seio boys purposely threw the game. When a game is advertised, the ball club in effect to play a contract with its audience to play a good game, and when they fail to do so they are guilty of obtaining money under false pretense and injure the future property of the club, so far as gate receipts are concerned. If ball playing in Seio is to be a success as an amusement, different from that perhaps this last game was the correct thing. Independence won by a score of ten to six."

SEALED BIDS.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the filling of Main street at the southwest corner of fractional block No. 2, (opposite Goodman & Doty's store.) The first deposit can be filled in with either gravel or dirt at the option of the contractor, but the last sixteen inches must be of gravel, the top layer to be covered to the depth of six inches with fine gravel only. Bids received until twelve o'clock m., July 29th. The city council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. By order of the city council.

J. T. FOND,
Dated July 22, 1892. City Recorder.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder Supplying the Army, Navy and Indian Department.

(Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

The purchasing agents of the United States Government have ordered nearly one hundred thousand pounds of Dr. Price's Baking Powder in the first five months of this year, 1892.

The government exercises great care in selecting its supplies of all kinds, rejecting everything that is not of the best, and the very fact that it has adopted Dr. Price's Baking Powder is proof that it has found it the best of all the baking powders. Dr. Price's is peculiarly adapted for export, as neither long sea voyages nor climatic changes affect it, this brand keeping fresh and sweet for years while other baking powders deteriorate rapidly.

It is guaranteed to the government to be a pure cream of tartar powder, free from ammonia, alum or other harmful substances, and is also the only baking powder prepared by a physician of high standing.

OS FIRE.—J. R. Cooper's brick kiln is now burning, and contains 500,000 brick. In about ten days these brick will be ready for delivery, when all demands can be supplied. These brick are of excellent quality and will be sold at reasonable prices.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. James Gibson went to Portland yesterday.

H. Hirschberg was a metropolis visitor this week.

County Judge S. T. Burah was in town Wednesday.

Irene Clagget was on the sick list a day or two this week.

Miss Clara Fisher, from Corvallis, is visiting in this city this week.

T. Fennel and family and Mrs. Hooser departed for Newport yesterday.

Miss Mabel Adair, of Salem, is visiting friends in this city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vanduy are on a visit to friends and relatives here.

D. B. Taylor and wife and Miss Prince Belt went to the bay Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank of Albany, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Goodman, for a few weeks.

Miss Omaha Smith left for Dufer last Wednesday to spend a few weeks visiting relatives.

Mr. Julius and Miss Sophie Wolf, of Silverton, spent a few days in town this week visiting friends.

George W. Dodder, wife and little son, of Albany, are visiting with friends in Independence this week.

Miss Miss Hulst and her grandmother, of Salem, were visiting Mrs. Bell, of this place, last Tuesday.

Mr. Gibson is representing the Independence lodge in the Grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. in session in Portland this week.

Miss Ella Shupp went to Albany Saturday, where she will visit friends for a short time, when she will return to her home in Portland.

Miss Bessie Butler accompanied Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cooper when they returned to their home in Harrisburg yesterday. She will visit Eugene before she returns.

Miss Cora Robinson, who has held a position in the Good Samaritan hospital at Portland for some time past, has charge of the hospital in Paris, Texas, where she went last Saturday.

J. Carl Billingham, special agent for Chambers' New Encyclopedia, and works of several renowned authors, is now canvassing this town and Monmouth. When he calls upon you, give him a hearing, as he has some fine books.

Arthur Spaulding, who is well and favorably known in this city, died in Corvallis Wednesday, of consumption, and was buried in Buena Vista, yesterday. His many friends in this section will greatly regret to hear this sad intelligence.

Dr. E. J. Young, veterinary surgeon and dentist, of Newberg, is now in our city and will remain some time in our midst. The doctor is highly spoken of where he has been practicing, and all persons having horses needing his attention will do well to give the doctor a call.

T. M. Stiver is home from his trip of two or three weeks through several of the southern states. He brings back the news that there are splendid prospects for a good crop in that section this year, and that though financially at present money is scarce almost everywhere, times will no doubt present a brighter appearance ere long. Politically, he thinks everything is all right. After further investigation he thinks Texas will undoubtedly go for prohibition, his dispatch to Hon. F. A. Patterson to the contrary notwithstanding.

Clever, Was n't It.

Bell, DeGaw, and I, went to a Japanese theater. It was similar in many respects to our own European vaudeville, or variety shows. There were juggling, matches, sword combats, and wrestling. Bell, as usual, was accompanied by his parrot, as he feared if he let it go it might be stolen, and he prized it very much.

After each performance my friend would remark: "Was n't that clever? Wonder what he'll do next?" He kept saying it over and over again till we were tired of hearing it.

Finally a Jap did an act which consisted in keeping about a dozen lighted torches spinning around in the air. To enhance the interest of the spectators, I suppose, there was a small keg of gunpowder on the stage, and the flaming torches fluttered over it. Well, the Jap made a mistake for the first—and last—time in his life, and dropped a torch fairly into the gunpowder. He went out by way of the roof, with the blazing torches surrounding him like a halo. The audience, including ourselves, was blown almost through the door into the street. Well, we were ready to leave by that time, anyway.

But poor Polly was missing. We couldn't bear to leave her behind, so we braced up our courage, we made our way into the wrecked theater. There sat Polly on a piece of wreckage, looking over her shoulder, and wondering, apparently, what had become of her fat fathers. When she heard our approaching steps she turned toward us and remarked in tones of almost painful interest: "Was n't that clever? Wonder what he'll do next?"

Revenge, Sweet Revenge.

A man with a painful expression of countenance sat on a dry-goods box. "Are you ill?" someone asked.

"No."

"Have you lost anything?"

"Never had anything to lose."

"What's the matter, then?"

"I'm sitting on a wasp."

"Why do you not get up?"

"That was my first impulse, but I got to thinking that I was hurting the wasp as badly as he was hurting me, and I concluded to sit here awhile."—Irish Times.

A Safe Investment.

THE WEAVER, DEATH.

THOMAS GEORGE RICHMOND.

Startling was the announcement about 11:30 Friday last, says the Dallas Transcript, that a messenger had brought into town the intelligence: "Tom Richmond is dead. He fell and broke his neck, down at his farm." Dr. Stanley was dispatched to the scene, and foot-footed steeds bore the wife of the unfortunate man to the doctor. But, alas! the word brought proved to true. Mr. Richmond was dead. Without a moment's warning he had been plunged into eternity, and his spirit had taken its flight to the God who gave life.

The accident that caused his death, as given us by those with Mr. Richmond, was about as follows: In company with Surveyor Butler, James and George Magers, Henry Zumwalt, his son George, and Mr. Orchard, Mr. Richmond was helping to run the north line of his farm between his land and that of Mr. Orchard, about six and a half miles north of Dallas. He was climbing a five-board fence, and threw his weight on the top board, which broke, letting him fall backwards to the ground. He fell on his head and shoulders. Withering hands raised him and laid him tenderly on a grassy bed a few feet from where he had received the death-blow; but he never spoke a word, merely indicating in an indistinct whisper that he wanted water. This was all; and his eyes closed in death. As to the immediate cause of his death there is a difference of opinion—some claiming that his neck was broken and others that some of the main arteries leading to the brain were ruptured. Be that as it may, he fell, and the result was his death. His remains were brought to his home in this city and laid in state until Sunday at 2 p. m.

Mr. Richmond was a member of Jennings Lodge, Ainsworth Chapter, A. O. U. W. It was his request before death that he be buried by the Masonic order, and it was so; but through invitation of the Masons the Odd Fellows lent their presence in the procession. The procession that accompanied the remains to Odd Fellows cemetery was said to have been the largest that ever turned out in Polk county. Eighty-four Masons and seventy-six Odd Fellows headed the procession, which was about one mile in length, there being 132 carriages following. Besides these, seventy-two vehicles were already at the cemetery. Rightly estimated, about 2,000 people were in attendance to witness the beautiful and touching Masonic funeral ceremony and to pay their last respects to one who had so long been a neighbor and companion.

Thomas George Richmond was born in Kentucky, in 1829; went to Illinois when seven years old, and remained there until 1850, when he came to California; from there he came to Oregon, in 1852, and came to Polk county about thirty years ago, where through good management he has amassed considerable wealth. Mr. Richmond was widely known throughout the northwest, having for years been one of the leading spirits of the State Agricultural Society, and a great lover of good stock.

He was the father of six children: Nettie, wife of J. R. Ellis, (deceased); Alice, wife of J. H. Townsend, Mamie, wife of Otto Williams, Minnie, wife of J. M. Holman, and two sons, George and Eddie. The last five remain with the mother to mourn the loss of a loving husband and affectionate father.

We but voice the expression of this community when we say: Good bye, kind neighbor, generous brother, and hospitable friend. Hall and farewell.

MISS ELLA ASHBAUGH.

Sunday morning, July 17th, 1892, at 8 o'clock, Miss Ella Ashbaugh died at the home of her parents on Mill street, this city, and while her death was unexpected, it cast a gloom over the community. For some months past she had been confined to her bed, and continued to grow worse from day to day, though loving hearts and tender hands sought to cheer the progress of the craft that was bearing her down the stream of time toward death's door. Ella Ashbaugh, was born in Logan county, Ohio, and was aged 25 years, three months and 13 days. With her father and mother and brother John she conducted the funeral services, and she came to Oregon in 1873, and most of the time has resided in Dallas, where her noble traits of character and amiable disposition have won for her the love, respect and esteem of a large circle of acquaintances, who so sadly bereft of the companionship of a loving daughter and sister. Her death was felt by all who knew her, and her loss is deeply mourned. Her remains were deposited in their last resting place in Odd Fellows cemetery. Ella is gone, but her noble qualities will linger in the memory of many to remind them that the world is better for her having lived in it.—Dallas Transcript.
