ISSUED BY— West Side Publishing Company

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1932.

MONEY TO LOAN—On good improved farms only in sums from $500 to $5,000 at six per cent per annum.

STRANGE—W. P. CONWAY showed us quite a freak in the cereal line. On a full-grown head of wheat there is a full-grown grain of wild oats.

PHENOMENON—Just on this side of the river at Hall's Ferry, on the summit of the bank as you rise from the ferry, to the right coming this way, there was discovered this week a small stream of clear water pouring from a tree, about seven feet from the ground.

THE RACE TRACK—There are now about twenty horses in training at the race track in Talmage. Our reporter went over the track the other evening by the kindness of Hon. F. A. Patterson, and we can unhesitatingly say that this track will be the best on the coast when it is packed down.

BASE BALL—The game between the Lafayette and Independence teams last Sunday was by far the finest game yet played in Independence.

OPENED NEXT MONDAY—Mrs. M. A. Stine has leased the building just completed by Harry Christian on Railroad street near the depot, for a hotel, or rather a boarding house.

REAL ESTATE SELLING—F. A. Patterson, manager of the Polk County Real Estate Company, bought of Hon. B. F. Burch 200 acres of land this week, it being taken out of the north part of Mr. Burch's farm near this city.

EDUCATIONAL—Just issued from the Collier press, New York, the New American edition of Chambers's encyclopedia. A work of reference and exhaustive information upon every subject under the sun, is now bound and complete and ready for the library.

A DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE—Last Thursday Mr. Wignate and sister took dinner at Henry Cockle's, two miles south of Monmouth.

LOCALS.

Send for that tariff book. Somewhat warmer this week. Threshing will soon be in full blast.

A good mare for sale at a low figure. Inquire at this office. Look for W. Taylor's new ad. In this issue. He is a good workman.

Considerable travel on this line of the S. P. road at present, en route for the Yakima bay. The factory in North Independence will be running in a couple of weeks the proprietors say.

Services at the Christian church Sunday, July 31, morning and evening, everybody cordially invited. R. L. Shelley is having his house re-roofed and other improvements made on his property this week.

See Cherry's baseball game in Patterson Bros' show window. It is unique and shows considerable originality. H. M. Lines has the contract for placing the poles for the telephone line between Independence and Salem.

Rev. I. Peart will preach in the Evangelical church Sunday morning and in Monmouth Sunday evening. There will be preaching in the Methodist church next Sunday both morning and evening by the pastor, J. M. Parker.

Rev. Townsend, of Turner, will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and evening. John Young has much improved the appearance of his residence in North Independence by treating it to a fresh coat of paint.

R. F. Burch & Son have moved their real-estate office into the room occupied by the Polk County Land Company in the Independence national bank building.

J. R. Cooper has just completed the erection and painting of a new house on Main street and repainting his residence and they now present a much nicer appearance.

Those musicians who furnished the music for the party across the river Friday night last must have gotten pretty hungry before they got home the next morning.

A great many improvements, both public and private, are being made in Salem. South Commercial street will soon be one of the most beautiful thoroughfares in the state.

It is reported that Charles Wilson, murderer of Mamie Walsh, hanged himself in the Oregon City jail yesterday. He used the bandage in which he carried his broken arm.

I have a new parlor suite, six pieces, carved oak frame, silk tapestry and plush, latest style and color. I will do you a parlor suite you buy. F. Antline.

Rev. Poling rendered an excellent service of song at the Christian church last Sabbath evening. His remarks, though short, were pertinent and to the point, being very applicable in this day and generation.

F. A. Patterson sold fourteen acres of land adjoining Independence to T. N. Bell this week. He also sold the same amount a few weeks since to H. G. Seely, who has a nice residence almost completed on the same.

Read Miss Ella Pennell's new restaurant advertisement in this week's issue. When you are hungry give the City restaurant a trial. Its tables are provided with all the market affords. A few nice rooms have been furnished for boarders.

The phenomenal success of Ayer's Sarsaparilla started into existence a host of competitors. This, of course, was to be expected, but the effect has been to demonstrate the superior merits of Dr. Ayer's preparation by a constantly increasing demand for it.

Remember that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is extracted from the Honduras root, which only of Sarsaparilla has the true alternative properties. Also, that it is a highly concentrated and powerful medicine, and hence its wonderful results in all forms of blood disease.

The motor line is entirely too short on both ends. It must be extended to Falls City and to Salem. The Falls City extension would tap the finest stone quarry in the state, and the line to Salem would be one of the best paying pieces of railway property in Oregon.

Last month, Mrs. Harrison Bredlove, of Carson City, Nevada, who is sixty-three years of age, presented to her husband, seventy years old, a pair of booming twins. They are believed to be the oldest couple on record who have been favored in this way.—Anita Tribune.

Two years ago two of my family, a young man and a girl, had very severe and dangerous attacks of bloody flux," says Mr. John Cook, of Pilot, Vermillion Co., Ill. "The doctor here was unable, after a week's time to check or relieve either case. I then began to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy, and my children were seen very soon, and carrying her from what I feared would be their death-bed." For sale by all medicine dealers.

When at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried many old-time remedies such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric, and Laudanum, without getting any relief. My attention was called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy by a man in the community in this their hour of deep distress. We called on the afflicted parties Friday morning. The lady had suffered intensely during the night, when not fully under the influence of opiates. Dr. Cartwright, of Salem, had been to see the patient and advised her removal to that place. Mr. Cook, of the Independence livery, was there with a livery and started with the parties to Salem. It was necessary to keep the lady under the influence of opiates while in conveyance to that point, so as to allay all consciousness of pain. Mr. Wignate was engaged as a sewing-machine agent when the accident occurred.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. J. Daly, of Dallas, was in town Monday. Miss Bertie Whiteaker went to the bay Monday. We hear that S. A. Parker is improving in health.

James Prather's family were in town yesterday tending. Johnny Kirkland, from Harrisburg, is in town this week. Mrs. Dr. Poole, a resident of McCoy, was in town last week.

W. W. Perceval is confined to his bed with an attack of typhoid fever. W. H. Wheeler and family visited his parents at Lebanon this week. Miss Ella Hill, of McCoy, was visiting in town the latter part of last week.

Johnny Bohannon returned from a business trip to Portland last Saturday. Ex-Sheriff Groves was over from Dallas interviewing some of our citizens Tuesday. J. S. Cooper spent last Sunday at Yakima bay and reports the weather fine over there.

Low Galbraith, the famous jockey, got his face badly scarred up in a runaway last Sunday. Mrs. Geo. Claggett is down from Everett, Wash., visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. Claggett of this city, this week.

Mrs. Taylor Hill, of Prineville, sister of James Prather, of Buena Vista, is visiting in this section this summer. Mrs. Jennie Elliott returned to her home in Tacoma after a week's visit with her uncle, H. M. Lines, and family.

Word received from A. M. Hurley states that he has made no improvement in health since going to the springs. He will return home next week. Ed. Clodfelter returned from his trip to the Sound cities and other towns in Washington yesterday. He reports business only tolerably good in that section.

Our friend, A. P. Bonzey, is going to San Francisco soon, when he will write a book on "Agriculture, Cooking, and Cats." The new book will have quite a run in this section.

Rev. Bronson was in our town last Saturday and Sunday in the interest of the McMinnville college. He preached two excellent sermons in the Baptist church on Sunday.

Miss Clara Irvine closed a very successful term of school at the Madison schoolhouse just across the river from Independence last Friday and returned to her home in McMinnville Monday. She gave splendid satisfaction throughout the district.

Miss Patie Cooper returned last Friday from her extended visit of several months to relatives in The Dalles. She was accompanied by her two nephews Earl and Carl Rinehart, who will visit friends here for a few weeks. Her visit was a most pleasant one.

Mrs. H. M. Lines, Mrs. W. H. Wheeler, Mrs. J. W. Campbell, and family, except their husbands, will leave for a four weeks' sojourn at the soda springs next Monday. They go with the impression that their husbands will be back during their absence, but we do not know whether they will or not.

Work on Dr. Cain's new house is progressing. When completed it will be the finest residence in town. W. E. Norton and Emmett Wenn are the builders.

Dave Shipley returned from a month's sojourn in the coast mountains Wednesday. He came back fat and hearty and reports having enjoyed himself first-rate while out.

While walking a sleeper last Friday Emmett Wenn's foot slipped, giving him a severe fall. Luckily he was not seriously injured and although somewhat lame continued his work.

Hugh Henton, a farmer residing near this place, met with a serious accident Friday. He was standing on a step-ladder getting down some meat and his foot slipped, throwing him to the ground. In striking he broke both bones of his ankle just above the joint, making a painful fracture. Drs. Cain & Chapman were called, who set the limb, and at last accounts he was getting along as well as could be expected.

COACHES RUN ROUTING OVER THE SCENIC ROUTE TO MOUNT SHASTA. A Sacramento paper states that travelers over the Shasta scenic route of the Southern Pacific line are admitted by all who have traveled over the road to be the grandest and most picturesque on the Coast. That portion of the route between the Sacramento valley and Oregon is traversed by daylight, and, while it is a grand ride under ordinary conditions, still it has determined that the tourists shall be enabled to enjoy it under the most favorable circumstances.

A few weeks ago an order was received by H. J. Small, superintendent of motive power and machinery, Sacramento, for the construction of two comfortable observation cars, to be attached to the trains over the Shasta division. In the construction of these cars neatness and comfort of passengers have been considered more than mere elegance. The finish is plain, and there is no upholstery of any description employed. Each car is fifty feet long, and has five openings on each side. These openings are about eight feet long, so that every passenger in the car will have an unobstructed view of the beautiful scenery along the route.

Shasta and Siskiyou counties are becoming favorite points of travel among tourists, while the many summer resorts in that region of natural grandeur are attracting great numbers of health seekers and others. The new tavern of Castle Crags, on Lower Soda Springs, on the bank of the Sacramento river, which was opened to guests only a few weeks since, is crowded to its utmost capacity.

All through that region are mineral springs, natural wonders, and magnificent scenic effects that are not surpassed on the continent; and as the years pass by, Mount Shasta will become a point of annual pilgrimage by every man and woman in the state in quest of health, recreation, or rest.

That objectionable feature of what is termed as black-listing a poor but honest man is eliminated from the methods employed by this agency, for if a man disputes a bill or shows a willingness to do right in regard to his account, he has the right, and is requested to appear before our executive board, and this body is bound to act with fairness and impartiality.

HAPPENINGS IN SOCIAL CIRCLES DURING THE WEEK.

Thursday evening, July 21st, Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Butler gave a drive wheel party at their residence which was one of the most lively and entertaining parties yet given this year in Independence.

This party was given in honor of Mr. Julius Wolf and his sister, Miss Sophia, of Silverton, and formerly of Independence, who were schoolmates of the hostess, and were here on a visit, having been absent for several years. It is not too much to say that the doctor and his amiable wife are adepts in entertaining. Not the slightest detail was overlooked, and the ease and grace with which everything was entertained made all feel completely at home.

The refreshments were delicious and beautiful. The pleasures of the evening were thoroughly enjoyed and keenly relished by all. Mr. Mark Potter won the first prize and Mr. Word Butler carried off the booby prize. Many thanks were extended to the kind host and hostess, and all went home feeling much the better for having had such a pleasurable evening.

W. H. Wheeler was given a most complete surprise at his home on Main street, Thursday evening, July 21st, it being the occasion of his thirty-sixth birthday. As soon as he had gone to lodge a number of his friends congregated at his residence, and when all had arrived and everything was ready, he was sent for, whereupon he excused himself from the lodge and went home, thinking that some old friend was waiting to see him.

A few hours were spent in conversation and games, when delicious refreshments were partaken of. His wife presented him with a fine spring rocker and H. M. Lines gave him a nice gold ring. Mrs. M. Elliott and his son each gave him a beautiful silk handkerchief, and last but not least, his father-in-law, H. M. Lines, as a token of his regard and esteem, presented him with a tin whistle and a rattle box. All then wished him many years of prosperity and happiness and departed for their homes.

On last Thursday evening, July 21st, a boating party, consisting of several ladies and gentlemen from this city, was given in honor of Miss Clara Wheeler, of Corvallis, who was visiting friends here. A number of boats were secured and the party rowed up the river to a point two miles above Independence, where a landing was effected and lunch served.

The trip was an eventful one with the exception of encounters had with the gravel bars about a mile from the starting point. After a supper of all manner of cakes, confections and "fill for a prince," leeches, and onions given for the occasion, had been served, the party collected around a huge bonfire and sang plantation melodies until time to embark for home. The return trip was highly enjoyable, and but one collision occurred, and that was caused by Mr. Burch getting to one side of the boat, when the weight of his recent supper came well nigh overturning the boat. On arriving at Independence a song was sung and the convention adjourned sine die after a vote of thanks had been tendered the ladies for their elegant lunch and entertainment. The following persons composed the party: Mrs. D. V. Poling, and Misses Fisher, Judson, Snell, Robertson, Estes, and Irvine. Messrs. Poling, Loughary, Burch, Hawley, and Irvine.

On last Friday evening at the residence of W. P. Conway, was given the bon ton wheel party of the season. There were four tables and the selection of partners was made in a new and unique style. After a spirited contest for a couple of hours, all endeavoring to the utmost to avoid the booby prize, Miss Clara Irvine was awarded the first prize, and your excellency, the grand mogul at wheel playing, W. H. Patterson, was tendered the booby. The refreshments, of which all partook heartily, were par excellence. Upon taking their departure, the unanimous verdict of the guests was that Miss Cora makes a most amiable hostess.

About a dozen of the young people of the town went down to Miss Patie Cooper's Tuesday evening to tender her an informal reception upon her return home from The Dalles. All were cordially received, and "Drop the handkerchief," "Ruth and Jacob," and other games, was the manner in which the evening was spent.

The students of the summer school in session in Monmouth tendered Miss Nellie Collins a farewell party in the college chapel, Wednesday evening, preparatory to her leaving for Oswego, N. Y., where she will enter school. Miss Nellie's farewell remarks were very timely and appropriate and much appreciated by her many friends present. A most enjoyable evening of various amusements was spent. We wish her every success in her new field of work.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Buckle's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. All druggists.

GET AN EDUCATION.—Why not get an education? You can easily do so if you have ambition and energy, and it will brighten all your prospects in life. Fully half the students at the state normal school at Monmouth are making their own way, and they are all the better students for it. The necessary expenses are not above $150 per year. Many take half a year, and work the other half. Students above twenty-five or even thirty years old are not unusual. A good general and business course is provided for those who do not wish to take the normal work. Send for catalogue.

Every Republican should read "Protection or Free Trade." It is the only complete work on the tariff question ever issued. We send it for a two-cent stamp.

THE WEEK.

Spokane 12, Portland 4, at Spokane, Tacoma 4, Seattle 4, at Tacoma. The Peoples party of Washington will nominate Ex-Governor Newell for governor.

James Cookburn, just from Scotland, died at Detroit from what appeared to be Asiatic cholera. Louis E. McCann, of Maryland, has accepted the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

The Democrats have chosen W. F. Harris, of Pennsylvania, for chairman of the national committee. Palo Alto, the fastest trotting stallion in the world, is dead. He was owned by Senator Stanford, of California. His record is 2:30.

The president has issued a proclamation appointing Friday, October 21, 1902, as a general holiday. Four hundred years ago that day Columbus discovered America. The Pennsylvania Railroad has secured the services of 100 of the striking ironworkers of Homestead to grade its tracks near Pittsburgh. It is probable that union trainmen will refuse to handle cars loaded with material from the Carnegie mills.

A volcanic eruption on Great Saigai Island, one of the Malay archipelago, killed 5,000 natives. Alex Purver, of Mataqui, Wash., and Miss Bertha Jay, of Victoria, B. C., were drowned, at Mataqui. Mrs. Alice Pierson, of San Francisco, died from the effects of cocaine, of which drug she was a habitual user. A man named Lamb, deaf and dumb, was run over and killed by a Southern Pacific train near Gervais, Or.

The eight-year-old daughter of The Jennings, living near Gervais, is lying at the point of death from a rattlesnake bite. Near Bandon, Or., Louis Turner's horse became frightened while crossing a bridge. It backed through the guard rail, and the vehicle fell about fifteen feet. Mrs. Turner's neck was broken and the horse was killed.

The Colorado Democrat will probably lose with the Peoples party. Spokane 6, Portland 5, at Spokane, Tacoma 4, Seattle 1, at Tacoma. Ten men were killed by the explosion of gas in a coal mine at Pottsville, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Scott, of Denver, Colo., were murdered. The assassin is supposed to be Peter Heener, of Los Angeles, Cal., a former husband of Mrs. Scott.

The stage between Tillamook and North Yamhill, Or., went through a rotten bridge over the North Trask, and three persons were seriously injured. C. B. Hadley, a saloonkeeper of Tillamook, will probably die. Bert B. King, of Seattle, tried to rescue a boy who had fallen into the water. King's foot slipped and he fell in, striking his head against a timber as he fell. When he was taken from the water he was dead. The boy was saved.

Alexander Bergman, a Russian Jew, from New York, entered Chairman H. C. Frick's private office in Pittsburgh, and attempted to kill him. Frick was shot twice and stabbed four times but Bergman was overpowered. Frick will recover, it is thought, though the wounds are considered dangerous. Bergman is twenty-six years old. He was in no way identified with the Homestead affair, and it is not known what his motive was in attempting Frick's life. In Great Britain an intense feeling is being manifested against Carnegie, and in every town to which Carnegie has made gifts, resolutions bitterly denouncing him and regretting that his gift was accepted have been passed.

Instead of ten, sixteen men perished in the mine explosion at Pottsville, Pa. John D. and Charles Ruggles, the Redding, Cal., highwaymen and murderers, were lynched. Portland 10, Spokane 6, at Spokane, Tacoma 6, Seattle 2, at Tacoma. Seattle and Portland are tied for first place. An unknown man while drunk went to sleep on the railroad near Gervais. A freight train ran over him and killed him.

W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht was run down by a steamship. All on board were saved, though Mr. Vanderbilt and the fifty two others on board had only barely time to escape. At Topinabee, Mich., the wife of Chas. Youngblood, while crazy, poured boiling water over her three-year-old babe, and attempted to shoot her husband. He at last secured her and took her to town. She will be sent to an insane asylum.

Bergman, who attempted to assassinate Frick, still declines to say why he attempted the crime. When the news of the attempted assassination reached the militia camp at Homestead yesterday, Private Iams shouted, "Three cheers for the assassin!" He did not retract nor apologize, and as a punishment was hung up by the thumbs for thirty minutes, and then one side of his face was shaved, when he was given a suit of cast-off clothing and drummed out of camp.

A windstorm did $200,000 worth of damage in Philadelphia. Cholera has almost disappeared from Burma. In Asia the disease is said to be abating. Okaloosa, Wash., was about totally destroyed by fire. The loss will reach $70,000. Murderer Wilson has been taken from the penitentiary to the Oregon City jail.

The Federated Trades of America have declared a boycott against Rochester clothing. In Bay City, Mich., the greatest fire ever known there is raging. The loss will reach $1,000,000. Probably three lives were lost. J. H. Wynne, of Burns, Tenn., killed his wife and stepdaughter with an ax and then tried to commit suicide, but a mob took the latter job off his hands.

An effort is being made to establish Chinese stores in Tacoma. A mass meeting there attended by 5,000 people strongly denounced the proposed Chinese invasion. Charles C. Burgoyne, of New York, telegraphed to Lieutenant-Colonel Streator, at Homestead, that the punishment inflicted by Streator's order upon Private Iams because of a remark by Iams concerning the attempted assassination of Frick, is a crime only paralleled by the crimes of the mob. Burgoyne says his check for a good round sum is at the disposal of any Pennsylvania lawyer who will undertake to bring Streator to justice.

A cloudburst in Marshall county, W. Va., destroyed Wm. Doty's house and his nine occupants were drowned. In Ohio two people were killed by wind and lightning. An insane woman in Guben, Rocommonshire, England, took three children, one after another, and held them head downward in a kettle of boiling water. Then she stuck her own head in.

A number of non-union men and eight foremen quit work at the Homestead mills. It is not known how many non-union men the company has secured, but probably not more than 200 have been put to work. At Long Branch, N. Y., Mrs. Mary Ruhlberg's child was on a railroad and a train was almost upon it. Mrs. Ruhlberg dragged the child out of harm's way, but was herself injured so seriously that she will probably die. Rev. James C. Read, pastor of the First Baptist church of East Portland, reported drowned a few days ago, has been heard from in Moline, Ill. As yet it is not known why he secretly left Portland. Even his wife and family supposed that he was drowned.

All over the East the thermometer is hanging around 100° in the shade. An explosion of gas in one of the largest sewers in St. Louis caused the death of two men. For 1,000 feet the sewer is a wreck. Chairman Frick is now out of danger. The indignation over the barbarous treatment of Private Iams is very great. All over the world sentiments of disgust at such iniquitous methods are expressed in strong language. All the Chinese and Japanese in Nampa, Idaho, were driven from town. The trouble started over the fact that a number of the Celestials from the small-pox-infected cities sneaked into town, some of them already sick with the disease.

In Chicago fifty people died from the excessive heat. Seattle and Tacoma have raised the quarantine against Victoria. It is said that 6,000 lives were lost by the volcanic eruption on Great Saigai Island. Miss Rosa Schutz, of Portland, committed suicide. She was disappointed in love. A tug on lake Michigan was run down and Oscar Page and Wm. Koffer were drowned. Henry Page, postmaster at Jacksonville, was stricken with paralysis. There is no hope of his recovery.

Two sons of Charles Johnson, aged six and seven, and a son of John Wickland, aged five, were drowned, at Marshallfield, Oregon. Donald Kennedy shot and killed C. H. Page, of Philadelphia, and then shot himself. Page was a broker, and Kennedy had lost about $20,000 in futures through Page's investments. At Waldner the guard was taken from the Bunker Hill mine, and forty men demanded their time if the troops were withdrawn. The non-union men say they will not remain if they are not protected by the soldiers. A number of companies have already left. Jack Cooley was the leader of a band of robbers in the Pennsylvania coal regions. A posse attempted to arrest Cooley, and in the fight he was killed. Wesley Slater was prominent in the posse, and the gang, to avenge their leader's death, went to Slater's house, bound and gagged him, and then repeatedly outraged his daughter. The girl will not recover. A large number of men are searching for the outlaws, and as fast as they are caught they will be lynched.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. On the 2d day of July, 1932, I was appointed administrator of the estate of Bethel Dove, by the county court of Polk county, Oregon, and I have qualified as such and entered on the duties of my said trust. This is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to me duly sworn to as the law directs, at my residence on the Willamette river near Hall's Ferry, within six months from date hereof. E. P. DOVE, Administrator of said estate.

BURNED TO THE WATER'S EDGE.

The Steamer R. C. Young Took Fire and Was Destroyed Yesterday at Dove's Landing. Yesterday afternoon, while tied at Dove's landing, above Salem, the light-draft steamer R. C. Young took fire and was burned to the water's edge. The Young had been tied up for some time, on account of low water, but was making every preparation to resume work. She was to commence towing logs to Salem to-day. How the blaze originated, no one knows, but when the fire was discovered by people passing in the county road the entire steamer was on fire. Her house and everything was burned off smooth clear to the water-line, all that remained of the little steamer being the hull. While she was burning, her lines were burned and she drifted down and across the river, burning as she drifted.

The Young was built at Corvallis by Messrs. Young and Dove, who brought her to Salem, where her machinery was manufactured and put in by the Salem Iron Works. She was built for the upper river traffic and had made many successful trips above Harrisburg. She ascended often as high as Eugene, but on the way down snagged her bottom and had to be beached for several weeks, while repairs were being made. The Young was a trim little craft with a carrying capacity of sixty-five tons, drawing twenty-eight to thirty inches when empty. The machinery was of the best, and of great power, considering the size of the craft. The boat was owned by R. C. Young of Corvallis, and Dove brothers, and was valued at about $6,000. The Salem Iron Works had a chattel mortgage on the machinery for $3,000 and had it insured for $500 in the Imperial, of San Francisco.—Statesman, 23d.

WOOD STEALERS. We would say to those who are taking the wood from the front of the WEST SIDE office to please call and settle for the same. We are getting tired of this kind of thievery. We are almost compelled to adopt the language of Lord Timothy Dexter regarding the thieves who stole his fruit. However, the sentiment is highly applicable to those who have been visiting our woodpile at night. Hear what Lord Timothy has to say: "The following is copied from a 'promulgation' written by Lord Timothy Dexter against certain fruit thieves. The cutting was handed to a writer in the Beverly Times by John J. Dennis. When asked how long he had it he replied, 'A hundred years,' which statement he modified by saying, 'ever since I was a boy,' and it is remarkable that he can repeat the array of adjectives 'faster' than a hen can pick up corn."

"Whereas I, Lord Timothy Dexter, having been truly informed that several audacious, nefarious, infamous, intrepid, night-walking, garden-violating, immature porch-stealing rascals, all spawners of devil, and rogues, and scum of Satan, do frequently, villainously and burglariously assemble themselves together in my garden, surreptitiously, fighting, hunting and swearing, roguing, duck-egg hunting, and illicit deeds which the modesty of my pen cannot express, I hereby state: This is to give you all notice, Delacourians, Capricious, Tularnornians, have been scoundrels and old rogues, of whatever nation you be, return ye my fruit and property, or by the gods, the heathen gods, I swear I will send my son Sam to Babylon for bloodhounds fiercer than tigers and fleetier than the winds; and mounted on my horse Lalla, with cutting sabres in hand, I will hunt you through Europe, Asia, Africa, and America, until I can inter you in a cavern under a great tree in Newfoundland, where I will bury you. I will send your wife Bezelbub herself could not find you. Hear ye, laterdemillions, thieves, vagabonds, lank-jawed and turn-bellied plebeians, that if ye, or any of ye, dare set your foot in my garden, I will deliver you to Charon, who will ferry you over the river Styx, and deliver you to the royal arch-devil Lucifer, at the place of his infernal cauldron, there to be dragged with a number of Caucasus, and roasted forever before the ever-burning crater of Etna. LORD TIMOTHY DEXTER.

The gentleman who owned the original has been offered $500 for it, but refuses to part with it. Huckle's Arnica Salve.
