FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1892.
The South buys wool, wheat, pork, etc. very largely. The South wants the duty taken off, and it will take it off.

Both houses of congress are democratic, and we shall now watch the course of that party. They take our government in a year of great prosperity, the very best of credit at home and abroad, and what they can do to better our condition remains to be seen.

CLEVELAND is elected, and the principles of his party are to be the governing principles of this country. Much can be done in four years, and we hope to see the democratic party carry out its promises.

Our government now starts out on an experiment on what can be done by those who believe that the tariff for protection is unconstitutional, and that it is robbing the poor man. Let it be tried; we can stand it if the rest of the people want it.

How many democratic readers of this paper really believe the democratic party intends to change the protective policy of our government to one on a revenue basis only? If they favor protection, and they find their party does not, will they leave their party and join one that believes in protecting American labor?

If there are any persons in doubt as to the intention of the democratic party, let them read this extract from the Chicago platform. "We denounce republican protection as a fraud; a robbery of the great majority of the American people for the benefit of the few. We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties, except for the purpose of revenue only, and we demand that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of the government when honestly and economically administered."

The people of the United States have spoken through their ballots, and if it means anything, it means that they are, as a majority, tired of the policy of protection as upheld by the republican party, and are in favor of tariff for revenue, and free raw materials as advocated by the democratic party. Protective tariff has been tried and the republican party is satisfied with the result. Now, let us see what the change of policy will do for us—free wool, free wheat, free iron, free salt, etc. These are raw materials. A revenue by a very small tax on sugar, coffee, tea, etc., will follow.

Let us see what effect the democratic policy will have. If the democrats do as well for our country, in governing it, as the republicans have done, we can find no fault with the change. We hope to see the democratic party have full power, and carry out its policy. The population of the large cities has brought about this change, now let the change be made.

We have become convinced that it is only a coward who writes in a paper, articles which are intended to criticize some individual, and fails to mention the name of the person intended. If our cause is a just one, we will be upheld by our readers, and if it is not, then we had best keep silent. We intend profiting by the advice of the editor of the Astoria Examiner, Geo. Hibbert, for whom we acted in the capacity of a reporter at Astoria, just before we took charge of this paper, who, when we mentioned a good item which we suggested as applying to a "prominent citizen," said: "The Examiner always mentions names," and we believe he was right. It takes more courage to single out the individual in a critical article, but it never misses the mark. We remember when we had occasion to criticize Henry Hill, of this city, for opposing the building of our new public-school building, and we wrote the article without mentioning any names, believing that the benefits which Mr. Hill would receive through the building of such an addition to the town, would overbalance the heavy taxes he would have to pay. Our article flew for the mark, and instead of Mr. Hill coming to us, and complaining of our criticism, Dr. Davidson, now dead, a man whom we knew had done so much for the town, came to us and was indignant to think that we should so malign him. We mention this fact at this time to show why we are convinced that innuendo is the coward's weapon. Hereafter when we have cause to send out arrows from our editorial bow, we intend that they shall strike the mark, fairly and squarely, and not pierce where they were not aimed.

Trial bottles free at any drug store. Large size 50c and $1.00.

American Cholera. From the Daily Revue, Whatcom, Wash. "T. C. Burnett, the democratic candidate for sheriff, was taken violently ill at Clearbrook. He had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and for an hour or two it was feared he would die. They finally gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which revived him until a physician arrived." That is precisely what the manufacturers of that medicine recommend for cholera. Send for a physician but give their medicine until the physician arrives. If cholera becomes prevalent in this country next summer this preparation will be in great demand because it can always be depended upon. For sale by all medicine dealers.

Tapeworms Removed. McMINNVILLE, Sept. 7th, 1892. This is to certify that for the last 25 years I have been troubled with a tape-worm, during which time I have tried several of our home doctors, and sent off to the East for medicines, but could not get rid of the monster, until finally I went to the Kickapoo Indian medicine company's entertainment one night, while they were at McMinnville. The Indian doctor expounded my case so thoroughly, and offered such fair in treatment, I could not resist giving the medicine a trial. The doctor told me there was no starving process to go through, and I ate a hearty supper. In the morning about 7 o'clock I took the medicine, and in one hour and half minutes, passed the worm, head and all, without the slightest unpleasant effect. Mrs. G. E. McCABE.

Opera House. The Kickapoo Indian medicine company will locate in Independence, and commence giving their free exhibitions at the opera house, Wednesday night, November 9th. The object of their visit is to advertise the Kickapoo Indian remedies, and they will remain for two weeks. The company has been in the valley for the past six months, having visited Hillsboro, Forest Grove, McMinnville, Lafayette, Newberg, Dallas, and Monmouth. We notice comments from the local newspapers, that their entertainments are good, strictly moral, and refined, and are attended by the best people in all the towns they have visited. The company consists of eight members: Dr. Leon Smith, lecturer; Happy Dick Turner, Irish comedian, vocalist, and dancer; Mrs. Ask Turner, opera vocalist; Prof. J. S. Hart, magician and ventriloquist; Add C. Brown, musical director; Indiana; Big Bear, Beau Fox, Weeping Willows.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Cleveland Sweeps the Country from East to West.

THE PEOPLE HAVE MADE A CHOICE.

Tariff for Protection is Unconstitutional, and the Money of the People will be Issued by State Banks.

The all-absorbing topic of conversation is now, and will be for several days to come, the election of president of the United States. Below we give a table showing the vote of 1888, for Cleveland and Harrison. Our readers will thus be enabled to intelligently read the telegraph reports which follow to time of going to press:

Table with columns: REP. STATES, Elec. Vote, Total, Dem. Total, REP. DEM. Total. Lists states and their electoral votes for Cleveland and Harrison.

In Independence the vote was all counted at an early hour. The South Independence precinct gave average vote as follows: Rep 134, Dem 57, Pro 111, Pro 8; South Independence gave Rep 25, Dem 22, Pro 69, Pro 1. Total Rep vote 158, Dem 79, Pro 180, Pro 9. Grand total vote 421.

The returns were received here by telegraph through the night and day. We cannot give the returns from all the states, but as the table above gives the reader some idea of the close states, we give returns from those only:

Bulletin No. 4.—New York—870 districts out of 1137 gives Cleveland 129,885, Harrison 72,890. Brooklyn—120 districts out of 648 gives Cleveland 28,929, Harrison 18,897. New York—The Sun says Cleveland's majority in this city will be 70,000, and the Commercial Advertiser claims that Harrison has carried Connecticut by a good majority.

Bulletin No. 5.—New York—650 districts out of 1137 gives Cleveland 112,326, Harrison 79,998. The Mail & Express claims Cleveland's majority will be 75,000 in this city, and that Harrison carried Connecticut by 1,500. Herald says Delaware has probably gone republican. Chicago—143 out of 765 precincts in the city give Harrison 18,628, Cleveland 28,000.

Bulletin No. 9.—New York—129 districts outside of this city and Brooklyn give Cleveland 14,242, Harrison 18,437. Same precincts in 1888 gave Cleveland 15,825, Harrison 19,925. Chicago—21 townships outside of Cook county in Illinois give Harrison 3,823, Cleveland 2,852. Same in 1888 gave Harrison 3,990, Cleveland 3,086.

Bulletin No. 10.—New York—1000 districts out of 1137 gives Cleveland 150,910, Harrison 84,439. 185 districts outside of New York City and Brooklyn gives Cleveland 20,699, Harrison 25,740. Same in 1888 gave Cleveland 21,998, Harrison 24,410. The New York Herald says that Lewis county shows a republican loss of 570 over 1888, and also Allegheny county.

Bulletin No. 11.—New York—1000 districts give Cleveland 154,734, Harrison 86,611. The Herald claims that Cleveland has carried the state by 2,000, and the Sun says New York and King county gives Cleveland over 100,000 majority. Connecticut—31 towns give Harrison 4,570, Cleveland 4,378, a democratic gain of 211.

Bulletin No. 13.—Chicago—292 precincts in the city give Harrison 34,547, Cleveland 50,541. 88 precincts outside of Cook county give Harrison 6,613, Cleveland 5100. Same in 1888 gave Harrison 6,450, Cleveland 5,162.

Bulletin No. 14.—New York—The Mail & Express claims that the republicans have carried Illinois, for president and state ticket. Boston—Thirty towns in Massachusetts, gave Cleveland 58,977, Harrison 7,547. Compared with 1888, shows a democratic gain of 629. Compared with 1891, shows a republican gain of 172.

Bulletin No. 15.—Connecticut—Forty-five towns, Harrison 7,571, Cleveland 7,355, democratic gain over 1888, of 267. Chicago—446 precincts in that city gave Harrison 41,457, Cleveland 61,467.

Bulletin No. 20.—Indianapolis—Not enough of the returns indicate result. Returns received show a small gain for Harrison. New York—357 districts outside of New York and Brooklyn, give Cleveland 40,111, Harrison 54,128. New York—Times Bulletin says a Nebraska, gave Weaver a 10,000 plurality.

Bulletin No. 24.—New York—Tribune says that the indications are that Cleveland carried New Jersey by 6,000 plurality. Brooklyn—Six hundred out of 648 district gave Cleveland 84,171, Harrison 62,724. Bulletin No. 29.—New York—City press association says that Cleveland is now sure of 196 out of the 223 electoral votes necessary to a choice. This includes the votes of New York and New Jersey and the 156 electoral votes of the South.

Shelley & Vanduyne announce the dissolution sale, as progressing and working to a charm, and that there are rare bargains to be had by everybody.

We noticed this morning on our streets our Airlie friend, Wm. Williams, also W. W. Collins, of Suver, Mark Burch, of Rieckrell, and T. W. Wann, of Monmouth.

The democratic ratification here, wherein bonfires and powder was burned, skyrockets fired, Monmouth band played, and the enthusiastic shouted themselves hoarse, passed off successfully last night.

This morning Shelley & Vanduyne, hearing the election returns read to them, placed Harrison's picture in their show-window, completely draped in mourning. J. S. Cooper, W. O. Cook, P. C. Patterson, and other republicans were mourning.

L. M. Mattoon, the proprietor of the bakery here and one of our prosperous merchants, brought in on today's train his wife, lately Miss Emma Harrison, of Benton county. They were married last Friday, Rev. Thompson of the Presbyterian church officiating.

People who don't get on are not built that way. Why then are there some people who don't buy goods at The Bakery, when everyone knows it is the cheapest place in town, and has the best goods.

Preparations will be made as soon as possible, for the erection of a new mill and warehouse here. There has been about 25,000 sacks of wheat saved from the fire, and about 15,000 bushels are damaged very little, but the remainder is burned more or less, and will only be fit for feed.

D. A. Smith and Miss Lillian Simonton were united in marriage Wednesday, at the home of the bride's parents. They went to McMinnville, their future home, where Mr. Smith is engaged in the jewelry business. Rev. D. V. Poling officiated.

New Orleans molasses at The Bakery. Good goods for a dollar at The Bakery. Good dollars for goods. Notice of Assignment. Notice is hereby given that T. W. "The physician," says Brown, "is the man who tells you that you need change and then takes all you have."—Drake's Magazine.

Didn't Mean Exactly That. Mr. William Winter, in his thoughtful and witty address on the higher education recently delivered in Staten Island, recalled a conical remark made to him last summer in one of the western islands of Scotland. It was uttered by a pious lady who was extolling the religious oratorical powers of the Rev. Mr. Spurgeon. "That preacher, it appeared, had arrived at a place where he was to speak, and had pleaded a headache as a reason for not speaking; but no substitute could be found, and the famous orator was compelled to ascend the pulpit. 'And if you could only have heard him,' said this enthusiastic admirer, 'you wouldn't have thought he had a pain in his head—or anything else!'"—New York Tribune.

Chances. Fate performs some peculiar freaks here, which to mystify the inhabitants of this terrestrial sphere.—Portland Oregonian.

IT PAYS. To be cautious in the choice of medicines. Many are injured by trying experiments with compounds purporting to be blood-purifiers, the principal recommendation of which would seem to be their "cheapness." Being made up of worthless, though not always harmless, ingredients, they may well be "cheap," but, in the end, they are dear. The most reliable medicines are costly, and can be retailed at moderate prices, only when the manufacturing chemist handles the raw materials in large quantities. It is economy, therefore,

To Use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the valuable components of which are imported, wholesale, by the J. C. Ayer Co. from the regions where these articles are richest in medicinal properties. It is a wonder to me that any other than Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a show in the market. If people consulted their own interest, they would never use any other; for it is not only the best, but, on account of its concentrated strength and purity, it is the most economical.—James F. Duffy, Druggist, Washington St., Providence, R. I. Dr. A. I. Almond, Druggist, Liberty, Va., writes: "Leading physicians in this city prescribe

Sarsaparilla. I have sold it for eighteen years, and have the highest regard for its healing qualities. "Although the formula is known to the trade, there can be no successful imitation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Without having the enormous facilities of the J. C. Ayer Co., it is impossible for other parties to put together such valuable ingredients, at the low cost of Ayer's."

It stands at the head of all similar preparations.—Mark A. Jones, 30 years a druggist, Cambridge St., Cambridge, Mass. PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Much dry corn should not be given to the sow while suckling her young; it has a tendency to promote a feverish condition which is dangerous for both sow and pigs.

It is a great mistake to suppose that sour milk is better than sweet for feeding of fattening pigs. In fact, sweet, wholesome food of every sort is always the best for this, as well as for other stock.

A field of sugar beets may be profitably grown for the hogs and fed in the late winter months when they are tired of dry feed. It will help toward carrying the stock hogs through economically.

Keep a brood sow alone two or three weeks before farrowing, as the other hogs may crush and injure her in her helpless state. Keep her, and the pigs also, by themselves after the litter comes, and see that they are warm and dry.

The sow that has a large litter of pigs should be well fed upon food calculated to stimulate milk production, and the pigs should be taught to eat at an early age. A separate trough to which they can get without being troubled by older ones, and a dipping of their noses in it once or twice, will teach them.

The following illustrates the longevity of the pea, or bean, or vetch. Ten years ago the New York experiment station at Geneva put a few handfuls of beans in a glass jar. Observation during the past spring showed that the riddled beans were swarming with weevils. It would appear from this that the eggs had lain dormant for nearly ten years. If a rag saturated with turpentine had been put in with the beans, no live weevil would have ever been seen in that jar.

DISSOLUTION SALE.

On account of a dissolution of partnership heretofore existing between Shelley & Vanduyne, said dissolution to take effect on January 1, 1893, and in order to reduce their immense stock and get ready for the inventory, they have decided to give to their patrons and friends for the next sixty days, a LIBERAL DISCOUNT on all lines for cash purchases. And further, on account of said dissolution, they are compelled to respectfully call on all parties who are in any way indebted to them to make an early settlement. They seldom make an appeal through the press for money, and they trust the public will understand and appreciate the situation, and respond promptly in this matter.

SHELLEY & VANDUYNE offer this rare opportunity to purchase winter supplies cheaply. Having purchased almost their entire stock in the East for cash, and at headquarters, obtaining the largest discounts possible, it certainly enables them to GIVE GREAT BARGAINS which they will cheerfully do. Realizing that there are always and everywhere bargain hunters, they respectfully invite you to come, and
