FRIDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1892.

Governor Penneyer refused to appoint delegates to the Nicaragua canal convention at New Orleans, on the ground that he is unalterably opposed to the loading of government aid to any private enterprise whatever.

His reasons for doing nothing are not good, because aid to a private company is not the only way the object may be accomplished.

LISTEN to what a prominent democrat says: "The democratic party has finally gotten full possession and the people are anxiously waiting to see whether or not they have got the 'sand' to fulfill the promises made, but which they have heretofore claimed they could not carry out by reason of a republican senate or a republican executive."

Judge Burch informs us that we were wrong in stating last week that the salary of the school superintendent had been cut down to any less than $750 a year.

THE demand for a fish ladder, properly constructed, to allow fish to pass the falls of the Willamette at Oregon City is as great as ever, and petitions are being circulated and largely signed, asking the coming legislature to appropriate money for its construction.

SEVERAL weeks ago the WEST SIDE advised its hop-grower readers to be sure and not hold their hops too long, as rumor had it that New York state was selling its crop so as to leave the declining market for Oregon and Washington.

UNDER the present tariff laws our country has reached a position where the income from indirect taxes fails to meet the demands of the government, and as a consequence the democratic party will be called upon to legislate so that a greater revenue may result. How this is to be done is the question the people are now asking the leaders of that party.

JAY GOULD, the great financier, is dead. Born on a farm in Vermont, educated at an academy, in early life a surveyor, later a manufacturer of lumber, and last a manipulator of railroad stocks, at the age of 57 he dies and leaves a fortune of $100,000,000.

THE SITUATION AT WASHINGTON.

Very few of the leading Democrats in Washington place any dependence in the assertion attributed to Mr. Cleveland that he will not call an extra session. Senator Corliss, who was in the city, said yesterday that he did not believe that the President-elect had reached any decision in the matter.

The outlook for the coming session of Congress is that the aggregate of the appropriations will be considerably in excess of that for the present fiscal year. There will be no river and harbor bill passed this winter, but the contracts already authorized involve an expenditure of $40,000,000.

Mr. Holman, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, intends to put the Republicans on the rack when it comes to the consideration of the judiciary bill at the coming session of Congress.

DALLAS PERSONALIA.

We visited Dallas last Monday, and while there, met and conversed with some of the old settlers of that vicinity. We met our old and esteemed friend Cary Kibbre, who settled on the bank of the La Crosse near here in 1844, and has lived close by ever since.

Mrs. David Grant was the daughter of General Neil Gilliam, who was also an immigrant of 1844. In conversing with Joshua McDaniel, he stated that he was present at the marriage of Miss America Gilliam to David Grant in Andrew county, Missouri.

We next met the Hon. J. D. Lee formerly engaged in merchandising at Dallas, but now a resident of East Portland, where he is extensively engaged in mercantile operations.

Stepping about the city we met with, and heartily greeted one of our old time friends, David Guthrie. When a few words had passed between us, the conversation turned to the first trial for murder in Polk county, the connection of the accused, and his final execution.

In our visits to Dallas we miss the familiar face and kindly greeting of our former friend T. J. Richmond. For many years that open generous hand has been extended towards us, and now while deploring the loss, we are reminded that many of our former associates are now sleeping the sleep that knows no re-awakening to pain, sorrow or regret.

W. C. Brown one of the old standbys is still doing business in Dallas. For over one third of a century he has been passing goods over the counter to his waiting customers, and he yet passes them over with that placid smile and kindly intonation for which he is mainly distinguished.

We met here Lindsay Robbins, who in early years was a musical instructor to the youths of our county, he having singing classes in every neighborhood.

The WEST SIDE has in contemplation some very decided improvements in the paper, and also intends to largely increase its paid-up subscription list. In view of this we desire that all subscribers now in arrears shall call and settle. Many persons who are wealthy enough to buy two or three WEST SIDE plants are in arrears. We know they are perfectly "good," but we need money. Now then we are going to make all such, this offer: Every person, over six months in arrears, who will pay up to date, will receive a receipt for subscription paid and also be given FREE one volume, in pamphlet form, of a standard novel, for every month over six months in arrears.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dispeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look.
