

THE WEEK'S BUDGET.

What Our Reporter Finds of Interest to Our Readers.

THE LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Summary of the Events of the Week for City and County. Collected Daily—Items of Interest from Everywhere.

Independence is to be in the base-ball league of the State of Oregon.

Heavy team harness, well and strongly made and guaranteed to give satisfaction, for sale by Beamer, at Salem.

Isaac Yonkum, of Bridgeport, has just finished planting his sixteen acre hop yard.

Otto Meeman, the Falls City druggist, is soon to erect a handsome residence there.

None of the steamers running on the Willamette river passing here have musical whistles.

I. Claggett is tearing down the rear end of his residence, and will build an addition on the east side of it.

The Oregon Breeding and Speed Association, of Salem, will have some splendid trials of speed, July 4, 5, 6, and 7th.

The teachers' picnic at Falls City next Saturday promises to be a very interesting affair, and will be largely attended.

The City restaurant, formerly run by Miss Ella Fennell, is again open to the public. We did not learn the name of the purchaser.

A. McNeil, the wagonmaker here, has been at work this week on a large track plane, which will be used out on the Talmage race track.

R. H. Wilcox, the gentlemanly agent for Knapp, Burrell & Co., has moved his stock of agricultural machinery to the building adjoining The Bakery.

J. G. VanOrsdell picked up a lady's shawl last week on Monmouth street, and the owner can have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

The stage and mail to Falls City still leaves Independence on schedule time, and, under the management of Mr. Gilliam, is giving excellent satisfaction.

Several of the Salem papers are using the telegraph matter of the Statesman, after it has already been used, in the same type set on the type setting machines.

Lee Bell has purchased an interest with his brother-in-law, W. R. Cox, in a commission business in San Francisco, and leaves this week to engage in business there.

The apple, pear, plum, and cherry trees are loaded with fruit, but the peach trees are not going to be a profitable investment, as nearly all the fruit has dropped off.

Favorable comment is made of the excellent quality of lumber furnished by J. W. Kirkland in his new residence, which is now being roofed. It came from the sawmill here.

Clarence and Raymond Henkle were in Washington, D. C., last week, and shook hands with President Cleveland. He was very cordial, as they were not seeking an appointment to office.

Although the weather is pleasant, it is not warm; consequently the fruit and vegetation is unusually backward. Wild strawberries are just blooming, and the crop promises to be a big one.

That noble-hearted man, Robt. Steele, who lost his wife a year or two ago, was adjudged insane and taken to the asylum last week. Brooding over the loss of his wife brought on the attack largely.

The first game of base-ball of the Oregon league, which was to have taken place next Saturday and Sunday, has been postponed one week on account of the non-arrival of the players from California.

Messrs. Skinner & Co., of the flouring mills of this city, write to the West Side and state that they have no intention, nor have they had any idea, of refusing to exchange flour for wheat with the farmers of Polk county.

Little Clarence and Charley Blanchard were playing with matches last week in their grandmother's barn back of the Garrison house, and set fire to the straw, burning a place about three feet square of the loose straw on the floor. It was a close call for a lively fire.

The match game of base-ball at Monmouth between the young ladies and gentlemen would have had a much larger attendance had the public known of it before hand. Even Salem young men regret that they did not see it. Why not repeat the game? It would draw.

At the last Dallas council meeting J. H. Townsend was elected city attorney, with a salary of $5 per month; J. J. Williams, street commissioner with a compensation of $2 per day for actual service, and T. L. Butler city surveyor. It was ordered that the officials publish a quarterly financial statement.

The hens in this vicinity have been doing some strange things lately. Mr. Henry Hill brought in an egg which he found in his barn, which is as big as your fist, and O. A. Wolverson, of Suver, tells of one of his hens laying one egg out side of the other. The season is short and they are getting in a hurry.

J. M. Stark has purchased the furniture of the City hotel of J. T. Wilkins, and last week took formal possession. Sunday he went out on invitations in an informal way, and over one hundred friends were there and enjoyed his hospitality. The dinner was a fine one, and much enjoyed by the ladies and gentlemen.

There will be a grange picnic at the Rider's grove, on Soap creek, the first Saturday in June, (the third day) on the road leading from Independence to Corvallis. H. E. Hayes, the state lecturer of the grange, and other prominent speakers will be present. The public is invited to bring baskets and have a good time.

The Oregon Pacific cut rates, which went into effect the 23d inst, are as follows: "All rates on north-bound freight applied in the rate-sheet of May 1, on car load lots, will apply to shipments of two tons or over. A maximum rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds will apply on all north-bound cargo between San Francisco and Toledo to Albany, inclusive. A maximum rate of 25 cents per 100 pounds will apply on all north-bound cargo between San Francisco, Willamette river points, Harrisburg and Independence, inclusive, at such times as long as our boats are navigating between these points.

And so Independence is to be in it as far as base-ball is concerned this year, they having secured A. C. Collet to coach their team, and will take the place of Salem in the league games. Harrisburg for Independence. She has citizens composed of the energy and enterprise that will some day make her a large town, as they are not afraid to back their capabilities with their money.—Dallas correspondent in Statesman.

We understand Miss Lemp Butter is not an applicant for teacher in the schools here the ensuing year. The board of directors should not let Miss Butter's services be lost in this community, and if an increase in salary would retain her, should not sacrifice the interests of the school by getting a less competent teacher. Her industry is manifest in the school work.

The County Union picnic of the Young People's Christian Endeavor societies of Polk county, will be held on Saturday, June 3, at Dixie, and a large crowd is expected. Everybody come and bring your baskets well filled with the necessities, and hearts filled with the work. A fine programme has been prepared, and a general good time is anticipated.

Last week we mentioned the poor roads between Hall's ferry and Salem, but did not say, as we should have done, that the portion presided over by our friend, Hall, is in excellent condition. The worst portion is just this side of Salem. The roads over there are as good as the average road anywhere. They are all poor enough.

Mr. Hirschberg, the president of the base-ball league, is in receipt of a telegram from Oregon City saying that a steamboat excursion will come up from there to see the match games of base-ball here June 3rd and 4th. The bands here and at Monmouth should be out to welcome the visiting team.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Lillie VanMeer, daughter of E. C. VanMeer of this city, to Mr. Ed. J. Grubbe, on next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will be performed in the presence of only a few intimate friends and relatives.

Succeeded, and men applaud you, but fail and then they frown; 'Tis the way of men to praise you, When success your efforts crown.

The victory I would point you, The royal pathway lies Along the brink of a river of ink They use who advertise.

An open session of the debating society of the public school was held last Monday night, and the question discussed, "Resolved, That the Hawaiian Islands should be annexed to the United States," resulted in a draw. The debate was very interesting.

If you are thinking of getting married—and some of you are—go to Cook, the furniture man, and he will tell you how cheaply he can furnish your house. He will furnish the furniture and you do the rest.

Susceptible young ladies fall an easy prey to the charms of a professional base-ball player. They are generally fine looking young men, are free with their money, and are jolly good fellows in every way.

At the meeting of the Dallas A. O. U. W. lodge recently, V. P. Fiske was elected a delegate to the Grand lodge which meets in Portland next July and C. W. Smith was named as alternate.

Miss Ella Smith, the art teacher at Monmouth, is intending to go to Europe this fall and study art. Two other young ladies, whose names we did not learn, will accompany her.

A fishing party of six went down on the Rickard Sunday and report a pleasant time. Five of them caught "nary a fish," and Bob Parrish caught twenty-nine trout.

Gertrude, the 3-year-old daughter of Will Lines, had a swelling on one of the second finger of her left hand, and the finger was amputated last Tuesday.

Mrs. McQuiston, of Monmouth, who has been so sick, has been removed to the home of her father, Cyrus Jones, at Perrydale.

A pleasant social dance was given last Saturday evening in the Ladies' Gymnasium rooms to about sixty guests. Apply at this office.

Five bright, energetic boys wanted to sell score cards at the base-ball games. Apply at this office.

Stockton & Henkle give sheet music away to their concert customers.

Cricket Bevens is soon to erect a outhouse shop at Airline.

The new Masonic hall at Dixie is nearing completion.

Pink Patterson's billiard parlors are deservedly popular.

Large wool sacks at Vanduy's. Fresh roasted peanuts at Patterson's.

Douty & Paddock will put in a refrigerator.

Mrs. R. R. Turner, of Dallas, is seriously indisposed.

Douty & Paddock are paying high prices for chickens.

A big fire of glass and crockery ware at Douty & Paddock's.

And do you smoke? Of course I do, and down at Pink's is where I go.

"We don't want office, but we do want trade," say Stockton & Henkle.

Douty & Paddock want your trade, and will sell you groceries cheaper than anyone.

Genuine silverware given away. For particulars enquire of Rosendorf & Hirschberg.

Mrs. L. C. Faule, a noted teacher of the county, but late of California, is visiting relatives at Monmouth.

S. C. Elliott, of Dallas, has one of Edison's photographs here entertaining the public at a nickel a piece.

We have too much summer clothing and will sell it at greatly reduced prices. Rosendorf & Hirschberg.

Look at Vanduy's window of white goods. He is offering them cheaper than you ever bought them before.

J. R. N. Bell will deliver an address at the commencement exercises of the Drain Normal school next Tuesday.

Gene Cattron, T. Jordan, and N. L. Butler, of Monmouth, and I. Claggett, of this city, went to Portland Wednesday.

The cheapest and most handsome line of lace curtains ever shown in the city is at Vanduy's. Prices, $1.50 to $10.00.

The Richardson Bros. are at work on the river bank here framing a barn for John Phillips, of Spring Valley, to be 40x60.

You can't be happy unless you are well dressed. Call on Stockton & Henkle and make your selection and be happy.

Rev. D. V. Poling will preach in this city in the Congregational church Sunday morning only, and at Dixie in the evening.

Willis Hill left on Wednesday's train to be present at the wedding of his niece, Miss Mary Burton, to Mr. Ed. Williams at Corvallis.

A man made the remark that he had saved $5.00. When asked how, he replied by saying that he bought one of Vanduy's $12.00 suits for $8.00.

Many ladies have waited until it is too late for them to take advantage of Vanduy's reduction of 1 on ladies' wraps, as they cannot now be fitted.

M. Blodgett's house at Pioneer had a narrow escape from fire the other day, but as the family were at home when it started, the damage was of no great consequence.

Miss Ella Carpenter has finished her school at McCoy and returned to her Dallas home. Her pupils and others gave a very enjoyable entertainment Friday evening.

Owing to the continued bad weather and the consequent rough roads, the teachers' picnic to have been given at Falls City on the 27th, has been postponed until the 10th of June.

You will need a light overcoat whenever you take your sweetest out driving. Stockton & Henkle know how to fit it, and so have an elegant assortment from which you can choose, and at 1800 prices.

B. Osburn, of Walla Walla, a brother of Mrs. Geo. Whiteaker of this city, is visiting here. He lived in Polk county seventeen years ago, on a part of the present Hirschberg farm, and sees many changes here since then.

You'll find it pays to advertise. People like progressiveness, and patronize the grocer who is wide awake, who lets the people know he is in business, and that he is there to attend to the interests of his customers as well as his own.

Rev. C. P. Smith will speak in the Christian church next Sunday morning, on "The Parable of the Fish Net," and at 3 p. m. at Brunk's schoolhouse, on "Laying out Treasures." The Sunday school will occupy the evening at the church, with the rendition of an excellent missionary programme in commemoration of children's day. Everybody invited.

Another funny thing happened the other very night on the edge of town. The chimney in Mr. Ramp's house burned out and there was a great excitement, they thinking the house on fire. A gentleman climbed up on the roof and looked down the chimney and was asked "Is the fire all out?" "Send me up a lighted candle," he said. A lighted candle was actually used in the chimney to see if the fire was out. Such is the result of excitement.

This is lovely weather.

The strawberry festival on the Baptist church grounds was well attended and netted $20. The Independence brass band led by Frank and Fred Lucas of Monmouth, in absence of Lester Hill, furnished music for the evening.

Lewisville it is received too late for this week.

A Popular Man.

That Governor Penney, Oregon's only and original chief executive, is the most popular man in this great and good country becomes more and more evident every day. It was no longer ago than Easter Sunday, that in Washington, D. C., a couple christened their first-born "Penney Harrison" in honor of Oregon's governor and the retiring president. And yesterday came to the gubernatorial office a photograph from Cleveland, Ohio, announcing the fact that a child in that city had just been christened "Penney Cleveland Riedling" in honor. It is presumed, of his excellency first and the president second. The photograph arriving yesterday was that of a happy-faced and hearty baby of dark complexion and sharp back eyes, but the governor denies the presumption that it is the likeness of a Chinese baby. The only message accompanying the photograph was this announcement, written across the back of the card: "Penney Cleveland Riedling, born at Cleveland, Ohio, November 27, 1892; christened Sunday, March 27, 1893." The governor has one satisfaction in the matter—his own name before that of Cleveland.—Exchange

Grain looks well in this vicinity.

A letter received from B. N. Tharp, at Sacramento, states that he had a very pleasant trip over the Southern Pacific.

Quite a number from here expect to attend the teachers' picnic at Falls City two weeks from Saturday.

An interesting game of base-ball was played here between Lewisville and Suver, the latter coming out victorious.

Quite a lengthy programme is being prepared for the grange picnic to be given in Rider's grove on June 3rd. The Corvallis band will furnish music.

Mr. Harper has purchased the Wolferton farm; consideration, $28 per acre.

A Sabbath school was organized at Parker last Sunday.

Circuit Court.

Judge Burnett came over from Salem Monday and opened court, and after attending to the few cases yet undisposed of, adjourned it for this term. Here is what was done:

Lillian Morehouse vs. G. W. Morehouse, divorce; decree for plaintiff with costs and the right to assume her maiden name, Lillian Hackelman.

E. C. Key vs. W. B. Davis, Emma M. Davis, Chas. H. Dodd & Co. Foster & Roberts, and Cribbin, Lexton & Co. foreclosure; continued.

Etta McCabe vs. John K. McCabe, divorce; referee report confirmed and suit dismissed without costs.

Legal Notices.

John Holman estate, citation to heirs by J. E. Tetterton, Adm. June 6.

Geo. Tillotson estate, citation to heirs to appear June 6, at Dallas.

WE ARE IN THE LEAGUE

Base-ball Will Be All the Go Here This Summer.

WE ARE TO HAVE PROFESSIONALS

Salem Did Not Come to Time in Supplying a League Team, and so Independence Takes Her Place.

They say that misfortunes never come singly, and the same rule must apply to fortunes, for while our people have been looking forward to the coming spring races, and the prospects of a railroad were brightening, a streak of good luck, which our people were smart enough to corner, came from an unexpected direction, and that is the placing of Independence in the State Base-ball League in place of the city of Salem. There are four towns in the league, namely: Portland, Oregon City, Albany, and Independence. Each team plays thirty-six games, besides exhibition games. The advantage that will accrue to Independence in having secured a position is many.

One of the most important is the amount of free advertising she will get. Every professional game, and all the players are professionals, and we hope ours will prove to be the winning team, and each game is published over the whole state. Again, we have splendid grounds here and easy access. The visiting teams will not fail to speak of it when playing in other towns, and our people are cordial and hospitable to strangers, and the visitors will not fail to recommend Independence wherever they go. Again, every game here means at least one thousand people gathered from all over the county, for two days, and it means money in the pockets of our business men.

The money raised by our citizens is in the hands of a committee who will not pay it out until every one of the agreements made are fulfilled. Mr. Collet, captain of the Independence team, will do his best to get good players so that our town will not be disgraced. We have raised the money, given them good grounds, and he must do the rest. He is a very pleasant gentleman young man, and is said to be a good organizer. One of the principal reasons why Salem failed to be in the league was the exorbitant price asked for the use of the base-ball grounds, as people took hold of the matter with so much enthusiasm that the sum of money asked was raised in a few hours, and several leading firms were not seen at all. Times are hard but our people, know a good thing when they see it, and are not slow to embrace it. Independence is certainly in luck.

OREGON'S BASEBALL LEAGUE.

A Meeting Held Yesterday, and the Association Re-organized.

(Tuesday's Oregonian.)

The new Oregon Base-ball League suffered a slight setback on account of the withdrawal of the Salem club, but it is again ready for business, with Independence to fill the vacancy. The cause assigned for Salem's withdrawal was lack of financial backing, but the new club is not troubled in that way. Its principal promoter is H. Hirschberg, a banker of Independence and an enthusiastic base-ball man. The new team will be managed and captained by Albert Collet, of San Francisco, who is an experienced manager and player and a leader. His team is a picked one and consists of the following players: John McGraw, pitcher; Fred Strand, shortstop and pitcher; "Kurtz" Killings, catcher; Jack Cook, first base; Josh Hilley, first base; J. McCarthy, left field; T. F. Thompson, center field; George Sharp, right field, and Captain Collet second base.

THE PORTLAND CLUB.

After a week's practice, Manager Kennedy, of the Portland club, has sifted out his men and placed them as follows:

Jones, of Portland, catcher; "Young" Johnson, of San Francisco, pitcher; George Forby, of St. Louis, first base; Joe Shea who played in the Seattle league team during the seasons of 1892, 93, second base; Captain Ed. Stapleton, third base and captain; "Shorty" Howard, of Portland, shortstop; F. Albert, left field; J. Bennett, center field; C. Strong, right field.

At the meeting of the members of the league held in this city yesterday Mr. Hirschberg was elected president; vice, M. W. Hunt, of Salem, who resigned when his club withdrew from the league. The Portland club has secured the City View Driving Park for its ground, and they are now being put in shape for the ball players.

OPENING GAMES POSTPONED.

Because of the stormy weather it has been decided to postpone the opening games for one week, Albany opening here with the Portland team June 3rd and 4th, and Oregon City June 3rd and 4th.

The games appearing in the schedule published in yesterday morning's Oregonian will be played, but one week later than advertised, and Independence will take the place of Salem wherever the name of the club appears. Captain Collet of the Independence club, was in the city yesterday selecting uniforms for his men. The uniform will be light checked shirts and dark blue pants, caps and stockings to match the pants.

PUBLIC SCHOOL EXHIBIT.

The school year in the Independence public schools closes this week, and among other evidences of a year of hard and patient work, by both teachers and pupils, the exhibit now to be seen in the public school building is the most prominent.

An exhibit for the World's fair was made sometime ago, and was considered a very creditable showing, but this far surpasses it. The work must be seen to be appreciated, but we will try and give our readers an idea of how it looks.

In the first place there are eight grades in the public school, presided over as follows: First grade, Mrs. F. L. Tuck; second grade, Miss Alice Savage; third and seventh grades, Pro-

Long; fourth grade, Miss Mary Collins; fifth and sixth grades, Miss Lena Butler; eighth grade, Prof. Hitecock.

On a long table is arranged the routine of school work in grades, commencing with the little six-year-old tot up to the most advanced, and is written work in language, arithmetic, geography, etc. There are forty volumes, averaging sixty pages each, or a total of 2,400 specimens. Beyond these are six large books of about 100 pages each, where are specimens, four on a page, of the free hand drawing of all grades. The first book devoted to the little ones shows crude work, but the last book has some very fine specimens. On a table to one side are twenty-five very handsomely decorated cardboard folders, containing work of individual members. There are about 100 specimens in each, making the aggregate 2,500. Around the walls are some twenty specimens showing improvement in writing, giving a specimen of handwriting last fall and one this month, showing a very marked improvement. On the blackboard, which extends around the room, are chalk, plain and colored, drawings of all kinds with the name of the artist attached. On another table is clay work, done by hand, into all shapes; also a pretty map showing the profile of the whole United States, with all its productions illustrated; also one of Oregon. To do the exhibit justice, at least an hour should be spent in examining it. The teachers of the public schools here deserve great credit for the splendid results attained. Our people should go and see the exhibit and judge for themselves.
