Advertising is to business what steam power is to machinery—the grand motive power.—Macaulay.

There is but one way of obtaining business—publicity; but one way of obtaining publicity—advertising—Blackwood.

Our democratic and our republican friends are each accusing the other of bringing on these dull times. The people's party wants a trial next.

The Odd Fellows of this county are going to have a county picnic at Monmouth in September and every person in Polk County should labor to make it a grand success, for there will be an immense crowd here if times do not get worse.

A big job is now being hatched in Washington, which only needs the sanction of Congress to make some men very rich. It is for the issuing of $10,000,000 in bonds by the District of Columbia, the entire amount to be spent in extending in improving streets, etc.

Congress should repeal the Sherman law just as soon as possible after assembling. Then every substitute measure could have a full hearing, and in the meantime an international momentary conference might accomplish something. The country should not be held in suspense.

When boys ten and twelve years of age play base-ball on Sunday, the fault lies with their parents in permitting them. If their parents are willing, then it behooves those who are opposed to them playing on Sunday to refuse to attend the game and influence their friends against attending. Lack of patronage is the only way to effect a reform.

The man who is being hurt the worst these days is the workman in the manufacturing districts and in the mining regions, and these are supposed to be the men who voted for the change in our administration. The change has come, but it is not to their liking. Such a thing as a man leaving America to hunt work has not been known for thirty years but it looks as though that time had come.

Adlai Stevenson, vice president of the United States visited Portland. He is just a common man, after all. The soldiers on the warship Monterey, for some reason did not march in the procession, so the vice president got huffy, and boasted that he could see a war ship any time and have one at his command if he wanted to do so. It would have looked much more dignified had the vice president not said what he did.

Our financial troubles are about at an end as far as the present is concerned, for congress will most likely repeal the Sherman law, and then the banks knowing that they are safe, will let out their money. On account of the financial situation the banks all have more gold and silver than for many years, but they are keeping it in their vaults in case they need it. Several hundred million dollars of foreign money will come to America for investment just as soon as we are over our uncertain money value. That time cannot come too soon.

As Congressmen slowly gather for the extra session, those who advocate the repeal of the tax on state bank currency and the consequent return to that sort of money are finding opposition in unexpected quarters to the idea, and already it is beginning to be whispered around that President Cleveland would be glad to see it killed in congress, as he does not wish to veto it, because of its having been demanded by the Chicago platform. The repeal of the tax is certainly more doubtful now than it was considered to be several months ago.

There are rumors of war in Europe, and yet the scene of the conflict will be in Asia.

The kingdom of Siam is situated in the south-eastern part of Asia, and is a very fertile country, about 1,200 miles long by 350 wide, containing about ten million of people. The mountains are rich in iron, copper, antimony and tin, and the lowlands are very fertile and produce rice, bananas, sugar, maize and the usual tropical fruits and vegetables. England, France and Russia are largely interested in the kingdom through their commerce, each one claiming certain treaty rights. France claims more rights there than Siam is willing to concede, and the war vessels of France have already entered the Monam river, which is 1,600 miles long, and will try to force Siam to come to terms. France, while England and China (in order to get some of the spoils) will help Siam. All of Europe is on a war-footing and a spark will kindle the fires of war. The United States is not caring much which side wins as it has no commercial interests there. A great war in Europe would make a better price for our farm products. No person can tell to a certainty what the outcome will be.

The speech made to the bankers of New York, at a banquet in that city Tuesday night by Mr. Eckels, controller of currency, has been much talked about. And a number of the statements made by him do not meet general approval from Congressmen at present in Washington. For instance, it is thought that his assertion that only banks connected with speculative booms have been compelled to suspend was more sweeping than facts would justify. But the part of his speech which was most talked about and which caused most astonishment was the following: "In conclusion, permit me to say that I in dilge neither in extravagance of speech nor undue flattery when I say that the course followed by the banks of this great city (New York) throughout the past stress has been such as to commend them to the good wishes of every citizen of the republic. There has been displayed a wisdom that has met every emergency, and the maintenance of a sound condition of affairs on the part of the banks has been a constant source of inspiration to all the country". Truly this was remarkable language to come from a member of the administration, the same administration which these same praised bankers refused to furnish gold to on any other condition than the issue of bonds, a refusal which was a potent factor in adding to the distrust throughout the country. Another thing done by these bankers, which may appear to be wisdom to Mr. Eckels, was to throw out of the New York clearing house all of the silver certificates issued under the Bland act of 1875 and to notify other banks that the clearing house would no longer handle them. Nearly $400,000,000 of these certificates are in circulation; they are not legal tender, although the Blank silver dollars upon which they are issued, and would be changed upon demand for the certificates at any branch of the U. S. Treasury. The next time Mr. Eckels prepares a speech for the New York bankers he had better submit it to Secretary Carlisle's blue pencil before he delivers it.

The People's Party of Pennsylvania includes in its platform the following: We demand the referendum system of submitting important national and state legislation to a vote of the people. We demand that the president, vice president, United States senators and the postmaster general should be elected by a direct vote of the people. We favor the graduated income and inheritance tax for raising state, county and municipal revenue.

NORMAN LICHTY, Des Moines, Iowa.

DEAR SIR:—Having suffered a great deal from headache for years and being unable to get relief until it would wear away of itself. I saw Krause's Headache Capsules advertised. I tried them and now am never without them, finding it the only remedy that will give me relief. When I now find a headache coming on me I take a capsule and find the relief instantaneous.

Respectfully yours,
G. H. WRIGHT,

People are fools to suffer when a remedy can be found to cure them. Oregon Kidney Tea is no experiment, and not a fake to get your money. Why will you hesitate, when we assure you that it is absolute cure for all kidney and urinary diseases—

Purely out of curiosity, we have counted the illustrations, some of them full-page, in the current issue of THE COSMOPOLITAN; says the Methodist Record of London England. They numbered 129; but if there were none the literary character of the magazine would amply justify its immense circulation. Some of the best known names in American literature appear in the list each month, besides English writers of such names, for example, as Sir Edwin Arnold. From every point of view, we regard the magazine as unique.

"JUST THE THING!"

THE BELL—SELF—ADJUSTING—BINDING—STRAP is "Just The Thing" long desired by the traveling public. With one set of these straps you absolutely secure your trunk against bursting. This is the only device ever invented which, beyond the shadow of a doubt, preserves your trunk intact against rough and careless handling. Trunks will last at least three times as long secured by these straps, as without them. The simplicity of this invention commends itself to everyone. Only forty seconds required to fasten or unfasten your trunk. No further use for ropes, which have always been a nuisance. No more hard knots. No more bad words. This is the only anti-profanity device ever discovered for binding trunks. This invention is worth thousands of dollars annually, for the preservation of good morals, sweetness of temper and the prevention of harsh expressions. No gentleman or lady can afford to travel without at least one set of these straps. They will last for years. The intrinsic value of a set of these straps is at least from twenty-five to fifty dollars, yet we will sell you a set (two straps) for, from two to five dollars. Always make the fastenings on top of the trunk. Never allow the elastic to bend on the EDGE of the trunk. Place strap just inside of trunk wheels on the bottom, carry straight around trunk and draw first buckle very taut, then draw second buckle taut also, and your trunk is securely fastened.

Patent applied for March 23, 1893.
