

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Dr. Parrish is having some repairs made on his business block here.

Several new students have entered the Normal during the week.

Harry Harris, went to Portland Wednesday, to have medical attendance there.

C. L. Hawley, went to Heppner last week to attend the Knights of Pythias convention.

Postmaster Higgins had a severe attack of illness last Saturday, but is now about all right again.

Mr. and Mrs. Hosmer, of the Normal graduates of '93 are in town and will spend several days here.

Mr and Mrs. Rust and daughter, of Philomath, were visiting friends in town the first of the week.

M. O. Hawkins, of Curry county, a student of '91, entered school again Monday.

Rev. Henton, a Baptist minister, ably filled the pulpit of the Christian church last Sunday. T. S. Hansaker preached in the evening.

Mrs. Jackson and son T. J., arrived in town Saturday from Douglas county and will keep house for her sons who are attending the Normal.

Spondulix as a slang name for money, had its origin in the Greek word spondulios, a shell, shells of that species being once used as money both in Greece and Egypt.

A new fangled American cigarette tube contains a glass compartment in the middle. By placing blank sheets of paper, which are negatives, in the glass part and smoking a few minutes, you find printed on the paper the photo of an actress.

Jay Powell of this city and W. H. Hawley, of Independence, departed this week for the World's fair, and will also visit several Eastern cities, including Washington, D. C.

There are several places on our streets where the water is allowed to stand and will make the street in bad condition, especially just west of the railroad track, but very little work would put it in a tolerably good condition.

County clerk Mulkey, of the Normal class of '87, was at chapel Wednesday morning and gave the students an excellent talk; also J. H. Hawley made a short address with able advice. For the benefit of the class in English studies Miss Ayers very beautifully sang "Annie Laurie."

O. S. S. S. Warmings.

The sweet six are still in co-operation. It's a pity that such a company does not dissolve partnership.

What made F.'s heart so sore after church was over?"

Merchant men of this place understand that they are having hard times at present, but they seem to think the students don't know anything about hard times. They are finding it out all the same.

The old saying, that the boys embrace the girls, doesn't hold good around here, for the girls embrace the boys.

It is strange that people fail to practice what they preach. Some preach a systematic way of doing business; that's correct. Then why not adopt a systematic way of doing things.

Wonder if Miss H. has both of her mittens?

Student No. 1—"I wonder if all the people in the East are as nice as those that have come out here." Student No. 2—"I don't know, but if they are, they are real nice.

That fellow who runs around in his sleep so much is liable to break his neck if he don't look out. It would be a little more gentleman-like, for him to keep off the house tops.

There is always a ruling element, and it is right there should be, just so long as it is the right kind of an element.

History is the study now, especially ancient history, for without a thorough knowledge of the things that happened during the period from 3000 B. C. to 476 A. D., life is a failure.

Baptist Association.

The Northwest Baptist Association met here Thursday and continued until Sunday evening. The attendance was very good, there being about forty-five delegates present. Rev. J. W. Osborne was elected moderator, Rev. Fowtherer, clerk; treasurer, J. W. Gay.

The following delegates were elected to the Eastern Oregon Baptist Convention, soon to be held at Haines, in Baker county: J. M. Oliver and M. F.

Henton. Some excellent sermons were preached during the association, a visiting minister filling the pulpit each evening, and on Sunday evening Rev. Short, the Baptist Evangelist delivered an excellent discourse. The next meeting of the association, will be held in Yamhill county.

MARRIED.

LOYD-REXFORD.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Chas. Rexford and wife, of this city, Miss Hannah A. Rexford to Mr. A. W. Loyd, of Philomath, on Tuesday, Oct. 19 '93 Rev. A. S. Copley, officiating.

The bride is one of Monmouth's estimable young ladies, and well thought of. The groom is an excellent young man, and a wide-awake farmer.

The happy couple departed Wednesday for a visit at Philomath. They will probably make their home in this city during the winter.

A beautiful dinner was served which the relatives and a few invited guests did ample justice to, and all wished the young couple a happy journey along the voyage of life.

Saved by an Organ Grinder.

A devout woman of this city was recently sick, as her family and friends believed, unto death. She had made her preparations and was daily awaiting her end with patient resignation. Her hours of suffering were cheered by the glimpses of the unseen world that came to her, and one day she called to her attendants who were grouped about her in hourly anticipation of her decease: "Oh, that heavenly music! Don't you hear it?" Strongly impressed, in spite of themselves, by her fervor, the rest strained their ears to catch the harmonies of heaven, when a cyclonic burst of sound from a street piano manipulated by an Italian across the street swung full into the rollicking measures of "Johnny, Get Your Gun." There was a moment's silence in the sickroom, then an involuntary burst of laughter in which the sick woman joined. From that moment a reaction set in, and today, though still an invalid, she has the prospect of years of life before her.—Buffalo Courier.

A Goddess of Liberty.

Ambitious Girl—I am not satisfied to be dependent on my father for every cent I need. I wish to be independent.

Mother—Should you go to earning your own living, you would have to be the obedient servant of any employer you might have, always at his beck and call, always ready to do the bidding of your superiors and having not an hour to call your own.

"That would be horrid. I want to be independent of pa, but I'll call no man master, and I shall want my own way in everything."

"That's easy. Got married."—New York Weekly.

Down Go The Rates

The Union Pacific now lead with reduced rates to eastern points, and their through car arrangements, magnificently equipped Pullman and Tourist sleepers, free reclining chair car and fast time, makes it the best line to travel. Two trains leave from Portland daily at 8:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The rates are now within reach of all, and everybody should take advantage of them to visit the World's Fair and their friends in the east. Send for rates and schedules of trains, and do not purchase tickets until after consulting M. O. Potter Independence, or W. H. Hurlburt, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent, U. P. Portland Oregon.

Purely out of curiosity, we have counted the illustrations, some of them full page, in the current issue of THE COSMOPOLITAN; says the Methodist Record of London England. They numbered 129; but if there were none! the literary character of the magazine would amply justify its immense circulation. Some of the best known names in American literature appear in the list each month, besides English writers of such names, for example, as Sir Edwin Arnold. From every point of view, we regard the magazine as unique. You can get the Cosmopolitan and the WEST SIDE for $3 a year.

"In a literary and artistic sense, THE COSMOPOLITAN is one of the most perfect productions of its kind published on either side of the Atlantic; says the Irish Times, of Dublin. Extending over 128 pages of beautifully printed and illustrated matter, every single item of which will be perused and studied with interest, the magazine must be regarded as perfectly unique, and one wonders how so magnificent a work can be produced at a cost of twenty-five cents per issue. Cosmopolitan and WEST SIDE together for $3 a year.
