S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes: "For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 120 pounds; I now can brag of 180 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.

A DEMOCRATIC PRAYER

Delivered at the Closing of a Convention.

APPEAL TO ALMIGHTY CLEVELAND.

A Terrible Arrangement of the Democratic Administration by an Old Admirer.

The Gumbison (Colo.) Tribune a short time ago contained the following: Previous to the close of the democratic county convention last Tuesday, Edward Croke, mayor of Irwin, arose and all the delegates reverently bowed their heads while he offered prayer to Almighty Cleveland. The speaker's voice was filled with emotion and the reporter found it difficult to get every word. But here is the prayer:

"Oh, almighty all-powerful Cleveland, who art in Washington, when not fishing; thou who art father of Ruth and Ruth's sister, and of Maria Halpin's boy, Oscar, and the god-father of the democratic party (his father wouldn't own it if he were here) we hail thy name as the great political prophet of the century. We bow down before thee in humble political obedience. When thou sayest go, we go; when thou sayest come, we come. We have no desire but to serve thee. If thou sayest black is white we will swear to it, and lick the everlasting stuffs out of the man who disputes it. When thou takest snuff we will sneeze; when thou sayest free silver we will echo thy words; when thou sayest gold, then gold it is. We are democrats after the improved modern type. Our business is to vote the ticket and vote 'er straight. What is it to us whether we have free silver or not? We are but dogs that eat of the crumbs that fall from our master's tables. When the crumbs fall we wag our tails; when they fall fast we wag faster; when they don't fall we stand and wait till they do. This is democracy. We elected thee, our great and almighty Cleveland. Oh, most adored master, we love thee for what thou hast done for us. We love thee because thou art Cleveland. We humbly surrender ourselves to thee. Do with us as thou wilt. Though wheat is but forty cents a bushel we love thee; though cotton is low we love thee; though business is dull we love thee; though thousands, millions are out of employment we love thee; though our children are clothed in rags we love thee; though our wife, the dear companion of our bosom, is scantily dressed and looks so shabby she can't go to church we love thee; though we are sinking deeper in debt and poverty is knocking at our door, and hunger is starting us in the face we love thee still. This shows our great faith and love for thee. Our wives and children we are willing to sacrifice, even as the Hindus mother sacrifices her offspring by throwing it under the crushing wheels of the Juggernaut. Oh mighty Cleveland, words cannot express our love for thee. We love our party, too. What care we about the many promises it made. We know it promised free silver and we know it won't give it to us but we will stick to the party. We know we said if it did not do the things it promised to do we would leave it, but we lied when we said it. We thought then we had some manhood about us, but we haven't. We have no independence. Thou, oh Mighty Cleveland, hast all the manhood and independence in the party. We are fools, liars, lickspittles, and mudsills. We are no business to want anything or to say anything. Last year we favored free silver, and now we have to oppose it. We favored thee because we thought it was right. We oppose it now, most adored master, because thou tellest us to. Aren't we a honey of the first water? Did ever a dog serve his master more faithfully. Did ever a dog get less for it? Oh mighty master, we are ever ready to serve thee and thy party. All the pay we ask is to be patled on the back by some local politician and called a good democrat. We haven't got any sense. We don't want any, only enough to vote the ticket. It don't take any sense to be a good democrat. What a joyful thought! We don't have to think. We don't have to worry. Our work is all mapped out for us. All that is expected is to do what we are told to do. We thank thee, oh Cleveland, that we are democrats. We thank thee for the panic. We thank thee for the hunger and the idle men and women in the land. We thank thee for the banks that have busted and the thousands of business failures since thou hast come into power. We thank thee for the hard times. We thank thee for the rags our children wear. We thank thee for the clothes our wife needs and can't get. We thank thee for what thou hast done for the banker and what thou hast not done for the people. We thank thee for all these things because it is our duty as a good democrat to do so. It may be against the grain, but we will take our medicine. We will work our wives to death, starve our children, sacrifice our homes, crucify liberty and kill prosperity, but will never go back on our dead old party, and on thee, our most adored Cleveland. Thou art more account than all of us put together. Thou knowest more than the South and West. Call us fools; spit in our faces; wipe your feet on us; we will love thee all the more. And now, our great political father, we leave our selves in thy care. Do with us as thou wilt. Kick silver into the middle of the next century; give more privileges to the national banks; issue more bonds; preserve the McKinley bill; establish state banks; foster trusts; bribe congressmen with patronage; fish whenever thou carest to, and we will endorse everything thou dost, carry Cleveland rosters, campaign torches and forever more sing thy praise."

INDEPENDENCE TO PORTLAND.

A Trip in the Altona—Scenes and Incidents of the Passage.

It may not be known by our readers that the passenger steambost Altona is one of the most elegant and the fastest on the Willamette river. On account of its convenience to the traveling public the patronage is increasing. Leaving Independence at 6 a. m. it arrives at Portland the same day at 2 p. m., thus giving persons nearly half a day there. Captain Graham informed us that if it were necessary, during this stage of water, the Altona could arrive in Portland at 10:30 in the morning, only four and a half hours from Independence, but during the low stages of water they could not make such good time, consequently it is better to run slow now, so that they make about the same time all the year around.

On last Friday morning the following passengers left here: Peter Cook, M. McEachern and wife, M. O. Potter and wife, Miss Ada Burns, E. C. Pentland and one or two others. The run to Salem was made in fifty minutes. Arriving below the Yamhill river the steambost Toledo was sighted. From that time until near Oregon City it was a race between the two boats to get the passengers along the river. The Altona made fourteen landings in two hours and succeeded in getting all but two passengers. The Altona could easily outrun the Toledo and had a great advantage. She is officered as follows: Captain, A. W. Graham; purser, D. Walker; mate, N. Graham; engineer, A. J. Campbell; steward, Billy Rufus.

It takes forty-five minutes to pass through the Oregon City locks. The passenger has time to visit the pulp and paper mills and cross the suspension bridge and meet the boat at Oregon City wharf. The recent high water did thousands of dollars of damage to the water power plant. Over one million dollars is being spent in building a cement flume wall about half a mile long, and the machinery which is to be placed there is ponderous. If you want to see big flumes and water wheels visit the falls at Oregon City. The run from Oregon City to Portland was made in one hour and ten minutes.

The steamer Altona is 125 feet long and 20 feet wide and draws two feet of water. Being strictly a passenger boat she will carry 250 passengers. The engines were built on a pattern designed by Mr. Campbell, and by simply moving a lever the speed of the wheel is increased and the boat also, without turning on any more steam. Captain Graham and the other officers of the boat are very accommodating and pleasant, and to this is largely due their great popularity. Captain Graham has traveled extensively over the whole world. He says, if they had a good government the Argentine Republic would be his choice of a home as the land is very productive and the climate delightful.

If the passenger travel warrants, the Pullman car company will be called upon next summer to put their folding berths on each side of the boat, thus giving some sleeping accommodations, the boat having none now. Mr. Campbell says he wants to plan and build just one more steambost, one with a steel hull, for speed alone, to carry passengers from Independence and Salem to Portland.

An Enormous Price.

John J. Valentine, president of the Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express company, has just returned to San Francisco from New York, and announces that after a lively fight between Wells Fargo and Adams express companies, the former company has secured a contract with the Southern Pacific railway for the exclusive privilege of carrying express matter over the lines of the Southern Pacific Company in California for a period of twenty-one years, commencing the 1st of January. Wells Fargo & Company has contracted with President Huntington to pay the Southern Pacific a cash bonus of $1,700,000 and forty per cent of the gross earnings of the express company over the Union Pacific lines during the term of the contract.

PAP HODGINS RETURNS.

He Receives a Royal Welcome By His Many Friends.

TWENTY-THREE YEARS IN OREGON.

He Visits His Former Home in the East. Takes in the World's Fair, and returns to his Home in a "Blaze of Glory."

Everybody knows "Pap" Hodgins, as he has been agent for the Oregonian, S. F. Examiner and other dailies for many years. He is kind hearted and good-natured, and particularly is he a favorite among the "boys" who sympathize with the lonely old man. Mr. Hodgins, through the good offices of the Oregonian, was enabled to visit Chicago during the fair. Saturday morning Conductor Webster, of the West Side train, wired up to some of the boys, "bring out the brass bands, Pap is on the train." When the train arrived here the platform was crowded, some two hundred being there, old young, male and female, and as the train stopped three rousing cheers were given, and the band struck up "Hail to the Chief." As "Pap" stepped on the platform he was met by a delegation of young men who escorted him to a carriage, it being the band cart of the hotel, which had been gaily bedecked with flags and bunting, and a chair placed in it. The band led the way and some fifty young men followed, hauling the improvised carriage. As "Pap" went down the street his head and hat were in motion most of the way returning the salutations of friends. Governor Penney could hardly have been received with greater display than that given Mr. Hodgins. Long may he live to enjoy his place in the hearts of his friends and acquaintances.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family had always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it had never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at any drug store. Large size 50c, and $1.00.
