

MINNESOTA HORRORS

Towns Swept Out of Existence

By the Unconquerable Sea of Flames.

A River Could Not Have Stopped It—Sickening Details of the Terrible Calamity.

SANDSTONE, Minn., Sept. 2.—All that remains of what was once the prosperous village of Sandstone is a small shack used by the Sandstone company for its office. Crowded into this building and the ferry house were over 200 people who lost their homes and everything they possessed except the clothing they wore. All those saved at Sandstone were in the river when the cyclone of flames passed, and only managed to escape by leaping from the water as far as possible and then throwing water over each other's heads.

The coming of the flames sounded like thunder and with such rapidity did they come that the people who neglected to save their property or neglected to seek safety in the river perished in the flames. As far as could be learned between forty and fifty bodies are scattered about the streets turned to a crisp.

The town boasted of a water works plant, but, as some of the citizens remarked, the whole of Kettle river would not have had any effect on the solid sheet of flame that advanced on the town and swept it out of existence in less than an hour.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—Latter details simply confirm the reports received yesterday as to the magnitude of the Hinckley disaster. The most conservative estimates of the number of deaths in six towns of Pine county is 382 and from that figure goes up to 1,000. Although the exact number of dead will never be known, enough is known to make this one of the most appalling disasters in American history. More have perished, but never so many in so terrible a manner as to property losses all things have been of death and few could be made to talk about their business losses. It is probable that the loss at and around Hinckley will exceed $2,000,000, although no careful estimates have yet been made. The reports made where all the papers and records have gone up in the same flames that so quickly devoured all the houses, vegetation and almost the land in a large section of Pine county. Hairs were blown away and the exact amount of smoke, but they were not heavy enough to entirely quench the fire, which would break out on the slightest provocation if they had sought to feed on the fire across in Wisconsin, are some kind of material, but there is no loss of life reported, and it is hoped that it is over. Notwithstanding today's shower, however, the ground is dry and parched, and all vegetation is so dry that it will ignite easily and burn with a fierceness that is terrible.

SICKENING DETAILS

Pine City, Minn., Sept. 2.—After the deluge the reaction has come at Hinckley, and the excitement which buoyed up many survivors, even in the face of the fact that many relatives and friends had perished, has now turned to grief and grief has taken its place. The uninjured refugees at Pine City stand around in little knots to discuss the incidents of the catastrophe in awe-stricken tones. Some of the hospital patients demanded the attention of the physicians all night, and the only druggist in Pine City was kept busy until daylight filling prescriptions and supplying lotions. For most of the day the patients were more or less serious. By morning all were in a state of comparative comfort. Among the citizens of Pine City, who opened their hearts, homes and public buildings to the refugees, coffee with plain fare was served to all comers. The courthouses, schoolhouse and many private homes were thrown open. Every blanket and every article of clothing was made available. Before daylight arrangements for the relief of the destitute were taken up. Before 7 o'clock they were dropped at midnight. Before 7 o'clock they were taken up. Before 7 o'clock they were dropped at midnight. Before 7 o'clock they were taken up. Before 7 o'clock they were dropped at midnight.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Times from Chee Foo says the Japanese fleet is assembling in Dantian harbor in the southern Corea. The entrance is guarded by torpedoes. The Chinese fleet is moving between Gulf ports. The hostile armies in the vicinity of Ping Yang are quiescent.

CALIFORNIA HOP CROP

Santa Rosa, Cal., Sept. 4.—Hop picking began in Sonoma county today. Fully 6,000 white laborers have been given employment. No Chinese were employed. The crop is the best in the history of the county, and it is estimated that fully thirteen thousand bales will be gathered.
