THURSDAY, JUNE 1895.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Grandma Hart, of Salt Creek, was in town on Monday last.

The special attraction at the Bon Bon parlors these warm days is the delicious soda water in all flavors.

Miss Lucy Humpreys, of Hillsboro, was a guest of Miss Bessie Butler this week.

Nearly all women have good hair, though many are gray, and few are bald. Hall's Hair Renewer restores the natural color, and thickens the growth of the hair.

Mrs. Chas. Phillips and daughter Hannah were visiting Mrs. Geo. Claggett Sunday.

The Little Palace hotel is the popular place to get a first-class meal.

The editor of this paper was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. Mosier, and her sister Mrs. Hicks, returned to their Salem home last Monday.

Cash paid for second-hand goods of all kinds at the Exchange.

The Little Palace hotel is the popular place to get a first-class meal.

The Altona had twenty-eight head of race horses on board last Monday and at least as many passengers.

First class cedar shingles at Suitor's lumber yard, Monmouth, $1.70 per thousand.

Mart Prather and Jos. Miller, of Buena Vista report crop prospects up there excellent this year.

When you want to take a ride don't forget that Kelley has fine driving horses and good rigs.

Ed Smith, of Arlington, a graduate from the Normal in '92 was down this week seeing his younger brother graduate.

For first-class lumber and reasonable prices call on Suitor's lumber yard, Monmouth. Call and examine and get prices on lumber and be satisfied, before buying elsewhere.

Misses Maud, Dora and Pearl Cooper, daughters of Banker Cooper, will return home from school at Eugene, Saturday

Kelley's livery stable on north Main street has added several new buggies and carriages, also has repainted the old ones, and is now better than ever prepared to cater to the public.

The Normal school at Monmouth turned out fifty-five graduates this year. It takes 300 new teachers to supply the Oregon schools each year.

100,000 pounds of wool wanted by Geo. E. Brey, Independence, for which the highest market price will be paid.

The infant child of Prof. Wann died Wednesday, June 12th. Mrs. Wann is now slowly recovering her health.

All job work done at reasonable prices at the WEST SIDE job office. Neat and artistic work a specialty.

Mrs. S. Goodnight, of Vancouver, Wash., formerly Ida Smith, daughter of Rufus Smith, is visiting at Monmouth during commencement.

The WEST SIDE job office is right in the swim when it comes to doing good work.

T. B. Huntley, the supervisor is doing lots of good work in and around Independence on the county roads.

T. H. Scudder, of Independence, wants it known that he will hire out to work the roads for tax payers.

Road tax receipts, put up in books of 50 each, at this office, 25 cents a book.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, and two daughters Nora and Addie Prather, of Buena Vista, passed through town Monday, on their way to McMinnville to visit friends.

Oris Robertson, who has been attending the state University at Eugene the past year, has returned home for the summer vacation. He will assist Miss Robertson in the post office.

Mrs. Angeline Watson, of Moscow, Idaho, gave last Monday the best class prophesy ever heard at the Normal school, in the judgement of the writer. There was attention and care shown in every part of her work, and she presented her subject with consummate skill.

Dr. O. D. Butler, a native son of Oregon, has travelled extensively over the United States and in Europe, and he is as contented a specimen of humanity as is to be found anywhere. The Doctor's opinion is worth something. He believes in Oregon.

Miss Millie Doughty, of Templeton, Cal., is spending her summer vacation at Monmouth with her mother. Miss Doughty has been teaching for the past four years in California and says the town where she now is cannot be surpassed for desirability of residence. She gets good wages but enjoys her summers in Oregon.

F. W. Loughary, a brother of Scott Loughary, who lives out on the Luckiamute brought the editor down from Monmouth in his buggy Monday—the motor having gone—left a bushel of cherries and a quart of cream for Scott and then subscribed for the WEST SIDE. We call that a clever man.

Rev. W. S. Gilbert, of Eugene, delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the Normal chapel last Sunday to a large audience. It was a magnificient effort and much enjoyed by all. The gentleman evidenced talent and deep research in the scriptures.

Capt. Graham says he will have the Gray Eagle remodled and repainted within ten days, and then Independence will have the first daily boat to Portland. The people of Buena Vista can have a daily boat two times a week, if they will make it any inducement for the boat to leave there, say 6 a. m. and return at 9 p. m. two days in the week. The business men of Independence should encourage that trip to Buena Vista. It will help trade here.

C. G. Cead and Jap Ellis left this week with their families for the coast.

O. A. Wolverton, of Suver, was in town last Saturday attending the races.

Roseburg organized the first association of "Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers," in Oregon last Saturday.

C. G. Griffa, the tile man, has accepted a position with J. F. O'Donnell in his hardware store. Mr. Griffa is experienced in that line of business. For several years he was a partner with J. A. Mills in Kansas, and also conducted a hardware business for himself.

Sydney Percival, of Momouth, who has been a typo in the printing offices of this county, for the past six years, left last week for Newport where he has a permanent position on the Yaquina Bay News. Sydney is a steady, reliable young man, and will give good service to his employer. The WEST SIDE wishes him success.

J.C. Darland, postmaster at Goldendale, Wash., passed through town last Monday. He says he thought the most prosperous town in either Oregon or Washington at the present time was North Yakima, where were nearly 100 new buildings in course of construction. Mr. Darland called on his old friend Capt. Wash, of the Itemizer at Dallas, who was an editor in his town.

Capt. Newt. Graham informs us that Independence will soon have a daily steamer. The light draught steamer Eagle has been taken to Portland, will be overhauled and nicely painted and made comfortable for passengers, and as soon as ready, will be put on the Willamette and there meet the Altona below Salem, then transfer passengers, and return to Independence. It is thought daily trips may be made the whole year.

"The lecture on Japan, by Sann I. Hirota, at the Congregational church last Friday evening was attended by a large audience, and was attentively listened to. The speaker proved himself to be a very lucid and entertaining talker, his articulation being quite pure and easily understood, except when he indulged in songs and selections in his native tongue. His lecture tour this summer should prove a success as his efforts are highly meritorious."—Hillsboro Argus." "We are pleased to note the increasing popularity throughout the country of S. I. Hirota as a lecturer. —Pacific University Index.

We notice W. O. Cook figuring around the corner of the First National bank the other day, and understand he is going to have a furniture store there one of these days.

John H. Alexander begins to feel quite at home as the chief clerk for F. E. Chambers in the hardware store. John is a pleasant young man and will make friends for the firm.

J. K. Klein, sawyer for Ronco's mill on the Peedee was in town Wednesday, and returned with material for some new machinery there. The mill is turning out about 7,000 feet a day.

The Altona had a number of horses on board going down Wednesday morning and had more wool and oats engaged to take on at different points than the boat could carry at one trip.

Dr. E. J. Young has invented a very clever device for use of horsemen called a safety checkrein-hook, and he left Wednesday for Portland, where he will sell a large number at the races. He says he has received a number of orders already.

J. K. Klein, of Peedee, says he was out prospecting this spring in Southern Oregon, and the country is full of prospectors for gold. Men are working claims for 20 and 30 cents a day returns. He never saw anything like it before. He intends to go prospecting again however.

Owing to a stress of outside business the first of June E. C. Pentland placed the WEST SIDE in the hands of Harry Wagoner, to manage, and he gave the readers a spicy paper. His services being no longer required, he makes his bow and resigns the position of editor and manager.

No Fourth of July this year is the verdict. Those who want cheap enjoyment can stay at home, others can eat lunch on the banks of the beautiful streams near here, while those who love bustle and patriotism and a big crowd will go to Salem.

Independence lodge, No. 22, Ancient Order of United Workman, elected officers Monday night, as follows: W. O. Cook, M. W.; J. B. Ford, foreman; A. J. Walcott, overseer; W. L. On last Monday evening a small number of sons and daughters of Oregon pioneers assembled at the office of Dr. O. D. Butler to affect a temporary organization of the Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers, in Polk county. J. T. Ford was elected temporary chairman, M. L Dorris, secretary protem, and a committee on organization was appointed as follows: O. D. Butler, H. R. Patterson, B. F. Burch, Nellie M. Hill, and J. T. Ford. The meeting then adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening, at the same place, when a permanent organization will take place.

Gus H. Bynon, a job printer of many years experience, has leased the WEST SIDE job office and will be glad to give you estimates on your work.

Go to the Congregational church Saturday night and hear Sann I. Hirota, lecture on Japanesse life, government, education, religion, and the late Japan and China war.

Accidents That Pay.

It is dangerous to travel without securing an accident policy in the Ætna Life Insurance Co. You can get a one-day policy for $3,000, for 25 cents which will pay you in case you are injured $15 weekly indemnity, $1,000 for loss of one arm or foot, $3,000 for loss of both arms or feet. $3,000 in case of accidental death. See the agent at the WEST SIDE office.

A Beautiful Home in the West.

Many of our readers personally remember Oscar Dickson, a son-in-law of J. R. Cooper, who lived in Independence, and will be pleased to learn of his prosperity in Washington. Here is what the Chelan, (Wash.) Herald has to say: Among the places of beautiful attractiveness along the Columbia river is the point known as Dixon settlement, opposite Chelan Falls. Joel Dixon, the father and senior settler, located here some seven years ago and has undergone all the hardships of pioneer life, his good wife assisting by her willing hand and ever happy disposition to build a home which would be a haven of security in their declining years. As a reward for their faithfulness and devotion of purpose they are spared life and health to enjoy a beautiful home amid a labyrinth of fruit and flower blossoms of every discription, and their farm overlooking the Columbia is a veritable land flowing with milk and honey. Adjoining them are their two sons James and Oscar, who followed their parents at a later date, but their places are beginning to approach in appearance that of their respected parents. In addition to growing fine fruit, Oscar has added another element of prosperity, the growing of several kinds of thoroughbred poultry, his varieties at present consisting of the best strains of Poland, Wyandotts, S. S. Hamburgs, Red Caps and Brown Leghorns.

The Herald is glad to note these improvements made by industrious hands, as they demonstrate what energy can do in this country, and contribute to the wealth and prosperity of our state.

Having used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and found it to be a first-class article, I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends. J. V. FOSTER, Westport, Cal. For sale by Alexander-Cooper Drug Co.

A BUG EPIDEMIC.

Kansas Farmers Ridding Their Wheat of the Pests By Inoculation.

The ravages of the chinch bugs in the wheat fields of Eastern Kansas have become so destructive that the farmers of many counties are applying to Prof. Snow, chancellor of the State University, for infected bugs with which to stop the work of destruction. Chancellor Snow has thousands of bugs at his laboratory which are diseased. To the farmers he sends a few of these inoculated bugs, which are scattered in the fields. The contagion spreads and the chinch bugs die by millions.

Like a Sieve.

The chief function of the kidneys is to separate from the blood, in its passage through them, of certain impurities and watery particles which make their final exit through the bladder. The retention of these, in consequence of inactivity of the kidneys, is productive of Bright's disease, dropsy, diabetes, albuminuria and other maladies with a fatal tendency. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a highly sanctioned diuretic and blood depurent, impels the kidneys when inactive to renew their sifting function, and strain from the vital current impurities which infest it and threaten their own existence as organs of the body. Catarrh of the bladder, gravel and retention of the urine are also maladies arrested or averted by this benign promoter and restorative of organic action. Malaria, rheumatism, constipation, biliousness and dyspepsia also yield to the Bitters, which is also speedily beneficial to the weak and nervous.

Their Pants Were All Right.

A traveling photographer set up his booth upon a vacant lot near a Rhode Island village recently. Five merry maidens were out for a walk when their attention was caught by the display of photographs on the outer wall of his tent. "Oh, girls, do let's have our pictures taken," cried a chubby blonde with fluffy hair. The suggestion was adopted and a noisy consultation with the artist terminated in a decision to be taken after the manner of those familiar cherubs who gaze out at one through a hole in a cloud. The artistic accessories of the establishment were limited and the camera manipulator was short of clouds. But he was a man of infinite resources and he promptly improvised the ethereal background by cutting a slit in a large newspaper. Through the hole in the paper each of the five pretty heads was thrust to be snapped at by the camera. When the developing process was completed a horrible discovery was made. The newspaper page had contained a mammoth advertisement of ready-made clothing, and there beneath each cherubic countenance was the line in large display type: "All our pants are double lined."—New England Grocer.

The Dentist.

Who opens your mouth like a mammoth cave
And plows your gums with a barrel stave,
And prods your tongue when it wont behave—
The dentist.

Who stuffs yons mouth with a bitter rag
And stops your wind with a rubber gag,
And straps your head like a vicious nag—
The dentist.

Who finds decay where your teeth are sound
And probes you deep in his glee to wound
And leaps for joy when the nerve is found—
The dentist.

Who bores your teeth with a savage drill
And finds the nerve with a vicious skill,
And roars with wrath if you wont be still—
The dentist.

Who runs his drill with a wicked glee
And shoves as none can shove but he
And smiles as bland as a bad Chinee—
The dentist.

Who twists your teeth with an iron pry
And carves your gums like a steak to fry,
And grinds you up till you nearly die—
The dentist.

Who loves to look on his forceps cold
And grins as the cursed things take hold
And jerks in a way that can't be told—
The dentist.

Who lays before you a hundred steels,
With hooks and points that the patient feels
At one brief glance from head to heels—
The dentist.

Mexican Silver.

J. M. Shelley, whom nearly every one here in Independence knows, being a brother of the Shelleys', formerly residents here, has been visiting in Mexico and in a letter to a friend this is what he has to say:

"For $5 United States currency I bought $9.25 in Mexican silver—such is the fate of silver where it is free. The people of the republic are hard up—worse off than any place I have ever been. But little of the land we saw in coming here is tillable. Asked what land is worth a merchant at Lampazos, this state, told me they did not value it by the acre, but that one mile squre is valued at about $150.

"Coming into Monterey, one is forcibly reminded that he is in the Holy Land—Joppa, for instance, where the people are three centuries behind the times. Men wear sandals, and carry great packs on their backs; even to bring fuel—small sticks—on their backs, from the foothills, three miles, and get for this load 18c. Oxen are still used, and even the wooden mold-board plow.

"The motive power of the street-cars is two mules driven tandem fashion. The street-cars and electric lights are about the only evidence of civilization and enlightment. They also have a few factories and smelters. Wages in the smelters is 62½c per day; other common laborers receive about 37½c in Mexican money.

"I have had an object lesson in free silver, and am more than ever opposed to it in our country."

Cougar--Steel-Trap--Dog.

"We heap shoot dog—cook him, eat him—high you muck-a-muck. Heap sick Will; heap sick Henry. Soak dog hide three days; heap smell him bad. Get no cougar. Dog in steel-trap. Shoot. Heap mad farmer. No sleep all night. Cook dog—play ingens. No can sleep in barn; flees play foot-ball on siwash. Shoot 'em guns off all night. Scare pony—scare hogs, kill 'em dog. Heap 'fraid of farmer. Go quick, no daylight. Run all away home fast. Tell big story, shoot cougar. No shoot cougar, shoot dog in trap. Cook and Patterson big squaws."

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

WESTMINSTER, Cal., March 21, 1894.—Some time ago, on awakening one morning, I found that I had rheumatism in my knee so badly that, as I remarked to my wife, it would be impossible for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had some of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store I sent for a bottle, and rubbed the afflicted parts thoroughly with it, according to directions, and within an hour I was completely relieved. One application had done the business. It is the best liniment on the market, and I sell it under a positive guarantee. R. T HARRIS. For sale by Alexander-Cooper Drug Co.

Blood Poison

THE BANE OF HUMAN LIFE,

Driven Out of the System by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. To-day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself, I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if in need of a perfectly reliable blood-purifier." — JOSÉ A. in that old flower pot and make it a thing of beauty. Plant a D. & C. Rose and it will be a joy forever.

D. & C. Roses

grow and bloom indoors or out, in pot or garden—they are on their own roots. Our new Guide to Rose Culture will help you make a wise selection—tell you how roses and other flowers are grown at rose headquarters and how you can grow them equally well.

If you so request, we will send free, this valuable book and a sample copy of our floral magazine, Success with Flowers.
