Fifty cents was the amount laid out in cash for the building of a church in California recently relates the New York Observer. As a result of revival work the need of a church was felt and thirty or forty men offered their labor, lumber companies gave the lumber, and in three weeks the building was erected and the only outlay of money was the half dollar.

Allen, with the mandolin, and as the latter had plenty of sample musical instruments these four went out serenading and they made charming music. It was a first class free concert.

R. wigwam, and has been on hand early and late to direct the willing workers, who are donating their time to the completion of the structure. It is thought no bones are broken, but he is considerably bruised. Mr. Stockton remarked "I climbed all over that building, sometimes fifty feet from the ground, and was never hurt until I got down on the floor within five feet of the ground."

BY CONSTANT SPRAYING.
The Way in Which Ezra Meeker's Hops Escaped the "Curse."
(Oregonian.)
Ezra Meeker, of Puyallup, one of the largest hopgrowers in the state of Washington, has answered the ministers of the Puget sound Conference, who thanked God for the destruction of the hop crop. In a letter to the Post-Intelligencer, Mr. Meeker said:
"In this morning's report of the Methodist conference I notice under the heading 'A Curse on the Hop Crop' that preacher Hanson, of Puyallup, reported he 'had some good news from that great hop country—the hop crop, the main support of the people, was a failure; the crop had been cursed by God.' Whereupon Bishop Bowman said 'Good,' and 'from all over the room voices could be heard giving utterance to the fervent ejaculation, 'thank God.'"
"For the edification of the reverend fathers and fervent brethren I wish to publish to them and to the world that I have beat God, for I have 500 acres of hops at Puyallup and Kent that are free from lice, the 'curse of God,' and that I believe it was the work of an emulsion of whole oil soap and quassa sprayed on the vines that thwarted God's purpose to 'curse' me and others who exterminated the lice."
"One is almost ready to ask if this is indeed the nineteenth century of enlightenment, to hear such utterances gravely made by men supposed to be exponents of that religion of love as promulgated by the great teacher."
"I want to recall to the memory of the Rev. Mr. Hanson that the church in which he has been preaching for a year past was built in great part by money contributed from gains of this business 'cursed by God.' For myself I can inform him that as a citizen of Puyallup I contributed $400 to buy the ground upon which the church edifice is built, every cent of which came from this same business 'cursed by God.' For myself I would 'thank God' if they would return the money and thus ease their guilty consciences."

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles the large size have been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles as I was, to give it a trial." For sale by Alexander-Cooper Drug Co.

Take Notice Mathematicians!
The following problem was given out in the teachers' examination in California, and is to be solved by Arithmetic. It has proven so far a poser to many who have tried to solve it. The names of all those who correctly solve it will be published in this paper.
I buy a farm for $5,000 to be paid for in 5 equal payments, interest at 10 per cent. payable annually. The payments to be 0, 1, 2, 3, and 4 years from date of purchase. It is so arranged that I pay exactly the same amount of money at each payment, what is the equal payment?
The above problem appeared in the West Side, week before last. The correct answer is said to be $1199.08. Archy Adams, of Yoncalla, Oregon, sends the following solution:
Find the compound interest on the sum for the whole time; find the amount of one dollar at compound interest from first payment to last; from second payment to last; from third payment to last, etc. Add these amounts and one dollar for the last payment and divide the whole amount by the sum; the result will be the required payment.
$5,000 at compound interest for five years at 10 per cent. amounts to $8652.55
The amount of one dollar for 4 years is $1.4641; for 3 years is $1.331; for 2 years is $1.21; for one year is $1.10; plus $1.
The sum of these is $6.1051. $8652.55 divided by $6.1051 equals $1318.987, the equal payment.

Last August while working in the harvest field I became overheated, was suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. Mr. Cummings, the druggist, gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which completely relieved me. I now keep a bottle of the remedy handy. A. M. BUNNELL, Centerville, Wash. For sale by Alexander-Cooper Drug Co.

BLESSED IS OREGON.
What a Traveler Saw and Heard of Her in the Etefe East.
Oregon is strictly in the swim according to the statement of F. A. Alexander, who arrived Thursday from a three weeks trip through the eastern states. Mr. Alexander was in St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, New York, Albany and many other important cities, and in each of them he found many people anxious to know all about Oregon. "How is it that your crops never fail, and that your fruit is so much better than the California product?" was the question that met him at every turn, and the upshot of it is that Mr. Alexander returned home, proud of his state, and doubly assured that all of the fruit grown in Webfoot will find in the East a ready market at the top figure. It was in New York that Mr. Alexander was, when there came to a commission firm from a Portland correspondent a telegram announcing that a heavy shipment of Oregon fruit had been forwarded and it was from the commission men themselves that he learned that the whole shipment had been disposed of within a few hours after the receipt of the telegram.
In every city he visited east of St. Louis he heard joyful expressions of the marked improvement in business. Factories everywhere have increased wages, put on additional operatives and are running at full blast. Money is easy, there is plenty of confidence, and dealers are buying liberally for autumn trade. Before he left for the East Mr. Alexander had heard of the renewed industrial activity, but was unprepared for the extraordinary results he found everywhere manifest.

The sad chapter in his trip, however, was the return home, when the day after the recent heavy hail and windstorm in Nebraska, he passed through the stricken district. It extended over portions of several counties and fields of corn and wheat were left crushed and prostrate, dreary and desolate, unfit even to cut for hay.
The scene was depressing, and in striking contrast with the heavy laden fields and bountiful harvest that he saw on entering Willamette—Corvallis Times.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by Alexander-Cooper Drug Co.

The G. A. R. Entertainment.
On Thursday Sept. 26, will take place the formal opening to the public of the G. A. R. wigwam. The finishing touches will soon be placed on the building and electric lights furnish light and an excellent program provided for the date of Sept. 26.
To those of our readers who are not familiar with the history of this building a few lines may not be out of place. In the first place the encampment of the G. A. R. is to meet here in Independence next year. To provide a room large enough to hold the large number of people to be here then was the first incentive to see the old soldiers to work. Citizens of Independence were liberal in responding to the calls for funds and the old soldiers, noble boys in blue, donated their labor and as a consequence the hall stands almost completed with an indebtedness of less than $600. It is hoped at the opening of the hall that every inch of space in the building may be occupied so as to test fully its capacity. An excellent program will be rendered. Seated on the stage it is expected will be Senator J. H. Mitchell, Dept. Commander E. W. Allen, Gov. Lord, Secretary of State Kincaid, Treasurer Metcalf, Supt. of Schools Irwin, Capt. H. L. Wells and other prominent persons throughout the state. Already the program promises to include an address by Senators Mitchell and E. W. Allen and music by the Novello and Dallas Glee clubs, Mrs. Dr. Babitt, Miss Mattie Longacre, and others. Mrs. J. P. Irvine will render a very entertaining recitation. Nothing is going to be left undone to make the opening a grand event and it is hoped that the hall will be crowded to its utmost limits. Seats will be provided for 1000, and it is thought 300 more can crowd in, and for a test of the capacity of the hall it is hoped that such will be the case.
Not one cent of the proceeds of the entertainment in the hall goes into any one's private purse. As soon as the debts are paid a relief fund for needy soldiers, and others will receive all surplus next week will be furnished.

A Muncy girl played a telling joke upon her mother. She found a package of letters that her father had written to her mother, substituting her own name in place of that of the latter. The maternal ancestor declared such stuff to be silly nonsense and edily informed her daughter that she should permit no young man to address her in such loving terms. Then the girl revealed the joke, and she has no more obstacles laid in the path of her beaux.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla
Admitted at the WORLD'S FAIR
CHICAGO
1893
Why Was It
that Ayer's Sarsaparilla, out of the great number of similar preparations manufactured throughout the world, was the only medicine of the kind admitted at the World's Fair, Chicago? And why was it that, in spite of the united efforts of the manufacturers of other preparations, the decision of the World's Fair Directors was not reversed?
BECAUSE
According to RULE 15—"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition," and, therefore—
Because Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine, a nostrum, and not a secret preparation.
Because its proprietors had nothing to conceal when questioned as to the formula from which it is compounded.
Because it is all that it is claimed to be—a Compound Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla, and in every sense, worthy the endorsement of this most important committee, called together for passing upon the manufactured products of the entire world.

Swept by a Cyclone.
Of approbation to the pinnacle of popularity, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has acquired a commanding position, which has occasioned a bright and shining work for Knaves, who seek to fast upon the community spurious compounds in the guise akin to that of the real article. These are purely, and, of course, devoid of medicinal efficacy. Beware of them and get the genuine Bitters, a real remedy for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness, constipation and biliousness. Physicians of eminence everywhere commend the great invigorant, both for its remedial properties and its purity. A wholesome thrice a day will soon bring vigor and regularity to a disordered and enfeebled system.

Judge Hurley Dead.
Judge Hurley, of Portland, a brother of the late Mayor Hurley, of this city, died at his home in Portland last Sunday. The Oregonian in writing of his death says:
A coincidence in connection with Judge Hurley's death was that it followed that of his brother, Mayor A. M. Hurley, of Independence, but a few hours more than a week, and that his infant son died exactly 11 months ago today. At the time of his brother's death at Independence, Saturday, August 31, a sister living at Corvallis was dangerously ill. Judge Hurley was not acquainted with the death of his brother or the serious illness of his sister. He was in such a feeble condition that Mrs. Hurley believed it best to keep the sad news from him. Mayor Hurley, like Judge Hurley, was a man of high character, who had the respect of all who knew him. He was about two years older than the dead jurist. It is also a coincidence that the two brothers were both seriously ill at the same time about two years since.
