

West Side Supplement.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON, DECEMBER 5, 1895.

MONMOUTH.

Several cases of whooping cough are in town.

Once in a while we see a street-lamp lighted, by way of varity.

Parents, visit the training school, and thus encourage your children.

Mrs. John Hiltbrand recently sent thirty-seven turkeys to Portland weighing fifteen pounds each.

Dr. Parrish is having his residence repainted. Mr. Wm. Alderman, of McCoy, doing the work.

About forty books of choice literature have been secured for the seventh and eighth grades in the training school.

Miss Vina Alderman, Miss Effie Sloper and Mr. Will Alderman, of McCoy, visited Dr. and Mrs. Parrish recently.

There are still a few, very few, poor sidewalks in various parts of the town that should be in good condition before winter sets in.

The nights have again become of greater length than the days, and for that reason, if for no other, this is a good time to subscribe for a newspaper like the WEST SIDE.

Some towns take great pride in having an annual announcement of "no saloons,"—they never dream the saloon may be there under disguise. Every drunkard was some mother's pretty boy.

The holidays are drawing on apace, and the children are commencing to revel in anticipation of what Santa Clause is going to bring them. Of course the belief in the merry little Dutch patron saint of the children, has been exploded these many years, but then the little folks will look for the usual complement of candies and toys, just the same.

The entertainment, given by the societies of the O. S. N. S. on Friday evening of week before last, was choice, and considered by many to be the best effort brought forth by the societies at the closing of a term. The vocal solos were all well rendered, the enunciation was clear, and understood in all parts of the well filled hall. The society paper was well read by the editor Morey Applegate, and quite an appeal was made for the "subscription or scribbling list" as one pleased.

Miss Ethel Link, of McMinville, is visiting Mrs. George Adkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of McMinville, were visiting Mrs. N. Dawson last week.

John Grant and family, of Dallas, spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Grant's mother Mrs. Doughty.

Rev D. V. Poling, of Albany, was one of the witnesses of the football game here Thanksgiving day.

Miss Daisy Lee, of Jefferson, a former student in the Normal, entered the senior class at the Normal this week.

Miss Rilla Wren, of Kirksville, Mo., is visiting her sister Mrs. R. M. Smith, whom she has not seen for ten years.

Mrs. Maggie Parks and Howard Baughman, of Pleasant Hill, sister and brother of P. Baughman, of this city are down visiting him.

The board of Independence met Tuesday night with a good attendance. The electric light, water and sewerage were the subjects discussed.

Jason Adkins and niece and nephew, Elva and Claude, and Miss Hill, of Junction City, were visiting Mrs. H. A. Adkins, a part of the week.

Miss Genevieve Majors returned to school Wednesday, from her home in Junction City, where she was called to attend the funeral of her father.

Mr. Harris, of Amity, Ore., visited this place with a view of removing his printing plant from Amity, to Monmouth, to run a weekly newspaper.

The seniors at the Normal are still having their special exercises Friday morning. Last week Misses James and Woods and Mr. Morhwels took part.

Mr. Holden, of Astoria, is visiting his daughter, who is attending school here. He made a short address to the students Wednesday morning in chapel.

Prof. E. J. McCaustland gave a very beneficial lecture in chapel Wednesday morning especially to the young ladies. It contained hints on a well regulated household.

Elder Sumpter, of the Christian church, has been ill for the past week and was unable to fill the pulpit Sunday morning. Elder D. M. Doty filled the vacancy.

U. L. Frazier and wife, of Monmouth, went to McCoy, Saturday, to visit his parents there.—Last week's WEST SIDE. Mr. Frazier is not a married, but from the particular attention he is bestowing on certain individuals, no telling what may happen.

Miss Alice Smith, who is teaching at Eola, was given a very pleasant surprise last Thursday evening, while home visiting her parents. A large number of her friends went in to spend the evening and games were indulged in till a late hour and all voted the evening a success.

Some oak wood wanted on subscription at this office.

FAIRVIEW.

James Hiltbrand is serving as a juror this week, at Dallas.

Albert Miner and sister, were calling on friends in this vicinity the first of the week.

Burrus Estewand family, of your city, were guests of James Hiltbrand last Saturday.

"Oh, Albert, I did not know you the other Sunday, but no one else can see such a change in you."

Muscott Bros. have shipped their hops to London, where they expect to realize about 8 cents for them.

R. Steele Sr., is busy hauling his grain to Suver and shipping it to Portland. If more of our farmers would follow this they would get more for their grain.

A literary society has been organized at Elkins' school house under the name of the Luckiamute Literary Society, with Albert Tetherow, president; Ethel Lemmon, vice president; Nellie Ireland, secretary; E. E. Hiltbrand, assistant secretary; S. B. Tetherow, treasurer, and J. B. Hiltbrand and Joe Tetherow, as marshals.

It seems as if Helmick's bridge and hill are noted for accidents. Last Friday morning as Will Castor was returning home from the Suver dance his horse became frightened on the bridge and made a frightful leap of forty feet into the water taking cart and driver with him. Had it not been for the aid of Albert Tetherow he would have surely drowned. We are glad to say that neither horse nor driver were seriously hurt. Billy says he wishes to make an engagement with the first circus that presents itself.

NORTH OF INDEPENDENCE.

Charley Brown and Al. Cooper are clearing off the hop yards for Joe Meeker.

Miss Luttie Middleham is suffering with a felon on her thumb which she had lanced and it is now doing nicely.
