KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

HOMER LORR NO. 6, MEETS EVERY Friday evening. Members will take notice and govern themselves accordingly. Visiting Knights are invited to attend when convenient.

J. W. RICHARDSON, K. R. S.

Twenty head of choice yearling Cotswold bucks for sale. Inquire of W. W. PARSONS.

J. S. Moore, the barber on C street, now handles Newbro's Hairdressing, the famous dandruff cure, endorsed by all the leading barbers of Portland and all cities in the east. Give it a trial and save your hair.

The motor made a special trip to Monmouth on Tuesday evening to accommodate those desirous of hearing Hon. Thos. H. Tongue.

CORWOOD taken on subscription at the WEST SIDE OFFICE.

The city of Salem has placed a license of 5 cents per month for each telephone instrument in use, and has employed an attorney to begin proceedings against the Oregon Telephone Co. to compel the payment of the same.

Try Moore, the barber, north side of "C" street, opposite Knox's grocery store, for a hair cut or shave.

Horst Bros. shipped a lot of hops during the week to Sacramento. The place of those shipped was soon filled by the arrival for storage of other lots.

Clean chest used for sale. Apply to Henry Hill, Independence. 9-14-4t

A physician recommended that one of the Keweenaw citizens should take sulphur in whisky for rheumatism. The citizen forgot all about the sulphur, but the local paper says he is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

When in Salem and you want a good meal don't forget to go to Strong's Restaurant, where everything the market affords can be had.

Hunters report the Denny pheasants rather well since the open season began and but few have been able to report having killed the limit allowed by law.

Buy your mill feed at the Collins mill. Bran, $14 per ton; shorts $16 per ton.

Farmers are looking for rain.

China birds are plenty but wild.

Buy your cameras and supplies of F. E. CHAMBERS.

The creamery is doing a good business.

For special rate on Lippincott's Magazine to subscribers of the West Side, call at the office.

The word Garland is a guarantee that the stove is first class in every respect. For sale by R. M. Wade & Co.

Coleman Gillespie, who killed an aged woman for her money, was held at Gold Beach, Curry county, last Friday. Now isn't it about time to start Frank McDaniel, the Portland murderer, to serving out his sentence?

F. E. Chambers keeps all kinds of photographic supplies.

The editor of the Corvallis Times says that short skirts have reached Corvallis and he approves of them. So do all sensible editors. The idea of a woman being compelled by arbitrary fashion to drag a long dress through asphaltum, green tobacco, dust, filth, etc., on the sidewalk is repulsive to think about, to say nothing of the disease germs that are taken home to breed sickness and death in the family. Ladies, wear short skirts. Don't get them too short. Your own natural modesty will tell you how long to sweep the streets with your dress skirts; that is the business of the street cleaning department.

You would be surprised to see the great variety of air tight heaters displayed on the floor at R. M. Wade & Co's. If you need anything in that line don't overlook them.

Campbell Bros. have just received a new and complete stock of wall paper.

The school superintendent of Klickitat county, Wash., says he has been unable to obtain a sufficient number of teachers for his county and is about half a dozen short. Unemployed teachers will take notice and govern themselves accordingly. They should address Professor Colburn, Goldendale, Wash.

Wall paper that will please the most critical, at Campbell Bros.

George W. Henkle received a letter a few days ago from his son, Raymond, who is at present in New York city. Raymond stated that he was then enrolled on the books at a college of pharmacy. He likes it very well in his new location and finds much of interest to entertain him during his leisure hours.—Corvallis Gazette.

School book and school supplies at Robinson & Co's.

Thos. W. Brunk, one of Polk county's most prosperous farmers and stockraisers, was up from Eola, Saturday. He informs us that he received a number of fine Cotswold ewes from Canada last week, and is highly pleased with them. The ram at the head of the flock was imported from England about a year ago. He is constantly buying sheep from the best flocks in the United States, England and Canada, in order to bring his flock up to the highest possible grade of excellence. To show how well he is succeeding in his ambition, it may be stated that the spring lambs he is now selling weigh from 145 lbs. to 185 lbs. Three weeks ago he sold two lambs to Prof. E. B. McElroy that weighed 170 lbs. and 184 lbs. respectively. He finds the Cotswold sheep the best adapted to this climate, and thinks that Polk county has the best flocks of this breed in the state. Mr. Brunk has but a few lambs remaining for sale. He also makes a specialty of raising fine Portland China hogs, and other blooded stock. Such farmers as Mr. Brunk are worth a great deal to a community.—Dallas Observer.

For sprains, swellings and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by Kirkland Drug Co.

Miss Lola Herron has gone to Salem to enter a business college.

The "Crab Club" held an interesting session on Wednesday evening.

Miss Mabel Wall is visiting at Suver this week.

County Treasurer Dalton has made a call for warrants issued prior to July 13, 1898.

One little handbill can promise more than a dozen circuses can perform.

C. D. Calbreath and family went to Newport on Tuesday for a few days at the beach.

Hon. Thomas H. Tongue addressed a crowded house at the auditorium on Tuesday evening.

J. W. Hobbs, an internal revenue inspector, passed through town on Tuesday, bound south.

Mrs. T. D. Campbell went to Corvallis on Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Carl Porter.

C. Farlow, a former resident of this city, was over from Marion last Saturday on a business trip.

R. L. Polk's directory man was in the city the first of the week getting material for a 1901 book. He found a number of changes and lots of new names.

Miss Louise Waller has gone to Albany to go to the Convent school. She left home on Tuesday.

George E. Howell of Portland, came up Saturday evening and spent Sunday among the Denny pheasants. He took home a nice string of birds.

Leu Robertson, formerly of this city, came in on the Portland train Tuesday to visit a few days with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Craves.

L. C. Gilmore and Harry E. Wagener are attending the session of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, at Astoria this week.

Hon. Thomas H. Tongue and wife arrived on Tuesday, Mr. Tongue being billed to speak in the evening on the political issues.

J. M. Stark returned on Monday from a ten days' trip to the southern part of the state. He didn't find any place that he liked better than Independence.

Lucky, indeed, is the individual unfortunate enough not to be able to go hunting, who has a friend or two to remember him with a pair of birds occasionally.

Claude P. Fryer, late of the medical department of the U. S. army has entered the medical college at Salem. No doubt that Claude with a course at that institution and his former experience will soon become a full fledged M. D.

J. T. Huntly, who has been conducting a barber shop in Salem, is expected to move here next week and open up a shop. This will make four barbers in town. As the three barbers already here do not keep busy it would seem that a new one coming in would be a poor move.

Judge F. A. Moore, Hon. H. B. Thielson, Judge G. H. Burnett and Dr. W. T. Williamson, prominent members of the Masonic fraternity, of Salem, drove over here Saturday evening for a fraternal visit with the Masonic lodge, which held a meeting that night, conferring the third degree.

The farmers are looking and wishing for rain to soften up the earth a little so that plowing can commence. A few of them have already begun to plow their low lands, although the ground is rather dry as yet. Many of the farmers have commenced to sow fall grain, but there is still a lot of seedling to be done.

The electric light company reports considerable business being done with Monmouth people. Outside of the street lights, which are giving satisfaction and comfort to the pedestrian at night a number of residents are having lights put in their houses because it is so much easier to turn a button and get light, and lamps to fill with coal oil or chimneys to break.

Many a college owes its fame to the free advertising it gets through its football team.

The advertiser who makes the best of everything is always sure of a market for his products.

Advertising in a program is an excellent thing—for the man who publishes the program.

Steamboat men say it has been years since the Willamette has attained such a low stage as has prevailed during the major part of the 1900 season, and a dry summer is apparently to be followed by a long dry fall. The rain of fair week caused a rise of about nine inches in the river's stage but the stream is gradually resuming its normal stage.

The recent flurry in the price of hops over about Dallas has almost set some of the growers wild. They deem this as a sort of indication that the market is going to rise right away to a high notch. The two boys recently made by one of Dallas' citizens at 14 1/2 and 15 cents were made simply as a speculation on his part; he is not acting for anyone else.

An Oregon prune dealer and expert states that California prune buyers are going about this state endeavoring to buy up Italian prunes under the name of Fallenberg prunes, with the evident intention of selling them as California prunes. He advises all Oregon growers of Italian prunes to endeavor to see that they are marked as Italian prunes, as the Italian prunes of Oregon have established a reputation for excellence far ahead of any prunes raised in California, and should not be allowed to be sold or to be placed in competition with the California Fallenberg prunes, which sell for several cents per pound less than the Italian prunes of Oregon.

James Plunkett, of Kings Valley, paid Corvallis a business visit Monday. Mr. Plunkett says everyone is busy in his section. A populist neighbor of his stated the other day that he wished he could divide himself into four men in order that he might do more to supply the demand for labor. Mr. Plunkett told him he could remedy that matter by voting for Bryan. If Bryan were elected he could reduce himself into one-fourth of a man and then find leisure time. Mr. Plunkett knows the Indians of Siletz well. He recently asked one of these gentlemen about the political complexion of things at the agency. "Are there any Republicans among the Indians?" asked Mr. Plunkett. "Lots," responded his red brother. "Any Democrats?" "Oh, some," in a tone that would indicate a hopeless minority. "Any populists?" "Not a damn one," came the answer sudden and decided.—Gazette.

The political editor of the Albany Democrat is everlastingly lamming it to Mr. Hugh Fields, the president of the woolen mills of this city, because of his stated political position as defined in a recent interview in the Oregonian. The Oregonian is glad because Mr. Fields, formerly a Democrat, will support Mr. McKinley for president, and the Democrat is mad because the Oregonian is glad. It is a glad, mad, sad case, taking it all around.—Brownsville Times.

City Council.

Council met in adjourned session on Friday evening, Oct. 5.

Committee on streets reported a resolution to repair drainage on D street, from 4th to Railroad, and the adjacent property owners are required to make same. Unanimously adopted.

Repairs were ordered made by property owners in Hill's addition to about twenty-eight blocks.

I. L. Smith was granted license to sell liquor for three months.

An Old Book. Mr. W. G. Cressy brought to the Water Street office this week an ancient book and one rather difficult for the reader of the present day to decipher as the letter "a" is supplanted by "1."

The book was published in 1743 by E. Fisher and is entitled "The Marrow of Modern Divinity, touching the Covenant of Works and the Covenant of Grace; with their use and end, both in the time of the Old testament and in the time of the New."

The book was found among the effects of Bart P. Paige, Demabarton, N. H. The house in which it was found had been built over 100 years. The book was a gift from Mrs. Paige to Mr. Cressy in 1891.

HOPS. There are 2000 bales of hops in the Southern Pacific company's hop warehouses, says the Statesman, but the bulk of the crop is yet to be hauled from the temporary storage on the farms where they were raised. While quite a number of cars have been shipped, yet the movement of hops is very slow and the market is extremely quiet. The report from all sources would seem to indicate that good prices will yet be realized for the crop. Bayers, however, are not paying over 14 1/2 cents for choice lots but it is thought that in a few weeks better prices will prevail.

Large sales of hops were reported Tuesday by a number of growers. The most of them have been bought for the foreign market, and the quality of those purchased has been the best. J. Carmichael, who buys exclusively for the London market, purchased 900 bales Tuesday, paying from 14 to 14 1/2 cents. These are the largest sales reported this year and the price paid is very encouraging to growers, who are holding for 15 cents. These prices from foreign brewers are very likely to force American brewers to pay more remunerative prices than they have been willing heretofore to offer. The outlook is very favorable for a stronger demand from London in a few weeks than there is at the present time.

W. H. Durst, a well known hop man, who has recently returned from London, where he made a careful study of the market, has this to say in the Eugene Guard, about conditions there: "I feel sure that if the growers can get on without selling for a few weeks they will all realize good prices. The situation in England is very strong. There is no trade yet for the reason that English brewers do not buy American hops until the boards are clear of the English crop. The demand may open in London in 30 days, and as soon as it does our market will feel the effect of it."

No Populist Indians. James Plunkett, of Kings Valley, paid Corvallis a business visit Monday. Mr. Plunkett says everyone is busy in his section. A populist neighbor of his stated the other day that he wished he could divide himself into four men in order that he might do more to supply the demand for labor. Mr. Plunkett told him he could remedy that matter by voting for Bryan. If Bryan were elected he could reduce himself into one-fourth of a man and then find leisure time. Mr. Plunkett knows the Indians of Siletz well. He recently asked one of these gentlemen about the political complexion of things at the agency. "Are there any Republicans among the Indians?" asked Mr. Plunkett. "Lots," responded his red brother. "Any Democrats?" "Oh, some," in a tone that would indicate a hopeless minority. "Any populists?" "Not a damn one," came the answer sudden and decided.—Gazette.

Game Laws of Oregon.

As the fishing season is now on and the hunting season will soon open for larger game, it may be well to remind parties going to the mountains just when they can take game.

It is lawful to kill deer and elk from July 15 to November 1 of each year, and it is unlawful to kill them at any time for the fawns, hams and horns, and it is also unlawful at any time to kill spotted owl or to chase a deer with dogs.

The open season to kill silver grey squirrel is from October 1 to January 1. The open season for grouse, pheasants, grouse, native pheasants and quail is the months of October and November. Hunters are not allowed to shoot from a public highway or to enter any standing or growing grain, nor to hunt for the purpose of robbing or taking any game, or to go upon any premises for the purpose of hunting or to allow his dogs to do so, without the consent of the owner or the person in charge. The law forbids the killing of jackalope except from the first day of September until the last day of February following.

Front may be taken from April 1 to November 1 of each year. Ducks may be killed from September 1 until March 15 following.

The penalty for the violation of any of the provisions of the law protecting game is a fine of not less than $15 or more than $20, together with the costs of the prosecution, or by fine in the county jail not less than seven days nor more than 100 days.

The punishment being so severe few will take the chance of killing game out of season.

The accuracy of our information as to great men seems to increase as they fade into history. Thus, everybody knows how Washington and Lincoln would vote if they were alive, but only one man can tell how Grover Cleveland will cast his ballot and he won't split on himself.

Even Mark Hanna has turned at last and has said to Colonel Bryan, in the language of the old darkey preacher, who wouldn't swear, "all dem things what you say I is you is."

J. H. Jardine took over to Ashland last week and from there shipped to the proprietor of a snake farm near Rochester, Minnesota, 700 snakes. They are the big rattlesnakes, mosquito-killing variety of snakes, and as rattlesnake destroyers they have no equals. Hence the demand for them, and hence the collecting together of this herd of 700 poisonous creatures and the shipping of them to a distant and less favored country. They were sent by express and the cost of so doing was $70.—Klamath Republican.

A WARLIKE MISSIONARY. He Didn't Believe in Curing the Enemy. That the warrior spirit is not confined to soldiers is clearly shown by a story of a missionary chaplain in Natal, Rev. George Smith. Mr. Smith had been temporarily attached to the army for the period of the campaign, and during the whole of the long and fierce Zulu attack gallantly he played his part in tending the sick, giving aid to the wounded and comforting the dying.

No one had a greater share of danger than he, and no one, says a writer in Blackwood's Magazine, showed a more soldierly example of treating that danger with calm indifference. Not only did he perform the duties of his office, but as every man who could handle a rifle was sorely needed to defend service by going round the various posts and distributing reserve cartridges.

A good story went round the army in South Africa bearing on the spirit of his professional conduct on one occasion. One of the men, in the heat and excitement of battle, was cursing his enemies and using most profane language. The chaplain, coming behind, heard his words, and said: "You should not speak like that, my friend. Don't curse them!" Then, showing a packet of cartridges in his hand: "Shoot them! shoot them!"

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props, Toledo, O. We have manufactured, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe his personal honor in all business transactions and finally we are called out by our obligation to the public to state that we have never known any case of Cholera cured by any other medicine than Hall's Cholera Cure.

Hall's Cholera Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price per bottle, Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Whist Club. The Independence Whist Club, which passed such enjoyable evenings last winter, met at the residence of Mrs. Goodman last Friday evening and decided to re-organize for this winter. The opening meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Cooper this Friday evening.

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by Kirkland Drug Co.

Clean Up. Would it not be a good idea for the looks of things, if we don't care for the public health, to give our city a general and thorough cleaning?

It is not only in regard to sweeping or dusting refuse of all sorts upon the streets and alleys that some of our people need a warning, but also as to the condition of these alleys, back yards and nooks and places not usually visible to the passing pedestrian.

A good many such places could be cleaned out that are fairly reeking with filth and that are not cleaned out from one year's end to another. It is a miracle, indeed, that an epidemic of typhoid fever has not ere this visited our city.

This work of cleaning up is not as important now as it would be in the spring and yet it is important enough to cause the health authorities considerable anxiety and to furnish a good excuse for a warning to careless and untidy occupants of premises.

No criticism of any special location is intended as the fault is general and should be remedied.

It Happened in a Drug Store. "One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by Kirkland Drug Co.

The general opinion is that the Mongolian pheasant is wild and untameable, but according to the Eugene Register it appears that there are exceptions now and then. It says: Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ray Delano heard a noise on her porch and opening the door found a Chinese pheasant making an effort to get into the house. She bid it welcome and the bird is quite at home in its new environment. It is a wild bird and is evidently seeking safety.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by Kirkland Drug Co.

Familiarity with the prevailing standards of etiquette gives a young man a distinct advantage, and he who is sure that he knows is at ease and conforms automatically to social requirements. None can be perfect in deportment who has to stop and consider how things ought to be done. If a man be a gentleman at heart the outward polish is easily acquired—between manners and morals the tie is intimate. A true gentleman is simple, unpretending, natural. He is courteous and considerate, and has the personal dignity that comes of self-respect, not self-consciousness. He treats every woman as a lady, speaks well of others and recognizes hospitality as a mutual obligation.—October Ladies' Home Journal.

Special Offer in Music for Readers of This Paper.

We are in receipt of a copy of E. T. Paul's latest and greatest march just from the press, entitled "Dawn of the Century March." The title page is a work of art, without doubt the handsomest ever seen on a piece of music, magnificently lithographed in five colors. Mr. Paul is known all over the country by people who use music as being the author of the celebrated "Ben Hur Chariot Race March," which is a universal favorite. Other famous marches composed by him are "Charge of the Light Brigade," "America Forever," "A Warm 'n' Dixie," great characteristic pieces, etc. This new march of Mr. Paul's "Dawn of the Century" is said by competent judges to be one of the best ever placed on the market. Mr. Paul is styled by the leading New York music journals "The New March King." Every piano and organ player should have a copy of this piece. It has six full pages of music. In consideration of our mentioning this new march in our news columns, the publishers agree to furnish any of our readers with a complete copy of the piece for 25c in postage stamps or silver, provided this notice and this paper is mentioned, otherwise the regular price 50c will be charged. The publishers also agree to furnish free, to any reader of this paper for a 2c postage stamp, a catalogue of their publications containing thirty pages of music. This special offer can only be obtained by mentioning this paper, and writing direct to the publishers: E. T. Paul Music Co., 44 W 23rd St., New York.
