THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1901.

It took three years exactly from the date of landing in Porto Rico to get plain duty into action but it has arrived at last.

There will probably be the same scandal over the sale of the government transports that there was over their purchase.

The Filipinos were so uncivil in some places that the civil government has had to retire for repairs.

What is going to happen? It has been two months since the London cables reported Russia on the brink of war with some nation or other.

The Senate defeated the French reciprocity treaty because California said it would ruin her fruit industry.

Times have certainly changed. Certain Ohians who denounced bolting five years ago are now organizing a bolt because they have sunk from majority to minority.

Although some people are trying more or less successfully, to confuse the issue, yet there is undoubtedly a difference between a tariff for the protection of American industries in general and a tariff for the protection of monopolies.

Possibly the steel trust may find something to arbitrate before the strike is over and possibly not.

Is this heat one of the results of expansion? Did Uncle Sam buy the climate when he bought the islands?

Representative McCall of Massachusetts says nearly all the American officials in the Philippines were either appointed from Vermont or born there.

The Havana authorities claim that the only cause for the delay in trying Neely lies in the failure of the war department to return some necessary papers which were forwarded for perusal some months ago.

It being more than a year until election, some of the republican papers are getting quite tariff-reformish.

Twenty-eight big sea going American steamships are now being built for ocean trade despite the fact that the subsidy bill failed and although its sponsors declared that, without it, Americans could not afford to build ships.

Now King Edward can't get the big diamonds he wanted at his coronation because some American has bought them all up.

It was over in eastern Oregon that an editor printed an item which stated "the man who was hugging the hired girl had better stop or his name would be published."

Admiral Schley's application for a court of inquiry gives the president a chance to settle once and for all the entire miserable business.

The public, rightly or wrongly thoroughly distrusts all acts in this connection that are inspired by the navy, and the public will watch the course of the investigation with the very closest attention.

Any ground whatever for a belief in the unfairness of the judges will vitiate the whole proceedings.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures colds, prevents pneumonia.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid douches, inhalers and drugs in paste form.

Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed.

The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure.

An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing the inflammation.

It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts.

This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES THE GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease.

It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve HAY FEVER or COLD IN THE HEAD.

CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once.

It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure CATARRH in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package.

Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUFFLES" the "GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE."

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. E-696 EDWIN B. GILLES & COMPANY, 2309 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

Col. Bryan has withdrawn his name from the list of possibilities. Since the Ohio convention he knows how to sympathize with the fellow who went over the Niagara rapids in a barrel.

The elevated position occupied by King Edward of England precludes his personal attendance at horse-races, but he takes a lively interest in them, having a private wire from the race grounds to his imperial residence, and his dignity is not so austere and punctilious as to prevent him from gambling on results, much the same as of yore.

It is said that he won about $100,000 on recent races, which will be good news for his creditors; he needed the money badly.

THE HOME GOLD CURE. An Incurable Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Nauseous Doses, No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liqueur Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants.

Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates.

The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it.

Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by being friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIVE. Do not be deceived by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time.

The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, this placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effective than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar.

Address Dept. E-696 EDWIN B. GILLES & COMPANY, 2309 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. July 22.

The Sampson-Schley controversy is again raging like a house afire. Conservative friends of both regret this, but if it leads to a congressional investigation that will bring out the rear facts which now seems probable, it may do good by preventing future revivals of the controversy.

The present revival was started by the publication of the third volume of Macley's History of the U. S. Navy, which is used as a text book at the Naval Academy, in which Rear Admiral Schley is called "coward" and other insulting epithets.

The author, a clerk in the Brooklyn Navy yard, in saying that he had submitted proofs to Secretary Long, was understood to mean that Secretary Long had approved of the use of the abusive epithets.

This Secretary Long lost no time in denouncing He also ordered the objectionable volume stricken from the list of text books at the Naval Academy.

If Secretary Long had allowed his denial to end with his having said, "it is absurd to say that I would endorse his language when he calls Admiral Schley a coward," Admiral Schley is no coward.

No one in the service who knows him has ever for a moment doubted his bravery or gallantry in action." The friends of Schley wouldn't be so fighting mad, but he continued by saying that, instead of the Navy Department being opposed to a congressional investigation, he had written to Senator Hale, chairman of the senate naval committee, asking for one, and made the fire hotter than ever by adding: "Admiral Schley should have been court-martialed as soon as we learned at Washington that he had deliberately disobeyed his orders when searching for the Spanish ships. I suggested to the president that Schley's action ought to be inquired into, but the president demurred. Today that we learned Schley had turned back was the darkest day in all the history of the war. President felt convinced that Admiral Schley had some good reason for turning back, and would not order a court-martial. When Admiral Sampson took charge of the fleet, he refrained from ordering a court-martial because he was a junior officer, and assumed that Admiral Schley would ask for a court of inquiry, when he learned that the navy Department was dissatisfied with his course."

The warrant officers in the navy, whose status is about that of non-commissioned officers in the army, are not falling over each other in their eagerness to put in applications to take the examination prescribed by the navy department, the successful passing of which will give them commissions as ensigns.

It was in connection with this examination that Rear Admiral Sampson wrote the fool letter about Gunner Morgan, who is barred by age from taking the examination. Although applications to take this examination must be filed before July 30th, only two have been received. Officials of the navy department say it is fear of the difficulty of passing the examination, that has prevented more applications, and an official statement giving a synopsis of the scope of the examination, has been made public, for the apparent purpose of inducing more warrant officers to apply.

Old warrant officers, when they can be got to talk, tell a different story. They say that the bright young fellows in the service know that their lives would be made a standing torture by the other commissioned officers should they succeed in passing the examination, and getting a commission, and have wisely decided not to make the effort.

So many army officers who did not graduate from West Point have become prominent that the prejudice against outsiders has been dulled in the army, but there are very few holders of naval commissions who did not graduate from Annapolis and who are not dead opposed to any other method of getting one, and consequently bitterly prejudiced against those who succeed.

Germany seems determined to do everything in its power to hamper, and consequently to lessen American trade with that country. U. S. Consul Warner, at Leipzig says in a report to the department of state that it is reported the Reichstag will pass a law compelling American exporters to Germany to make out invoices covering the shipments which must be authenticated by the German council in the U. S. in whose district the goods are produced. It is alleged that such a course will help officials in perfecting statistics of the imports from the U. S., and will also throw another obstacle in the way of American exports to Germany.

The Post Office department means business in its fight to shut fake publications out of second class mail. The orders of the Postmaster General, calling attention to the law and declaring that it must be enforced, has been followed by a circular letter from the third assistant Postmaster General, telling postmasters that their bondsmen will be held responsible for any loss to the government on account of their failure to strictly enforce the law.

Hon. Joaquin Barea, who was for 15 years a member of cabinet of President Diaz of Mexico, and who will be again if his health improves as much during his travels as he hopes, is in Washington. In a conversation at the White House, a gentleman who had just been introduced said something about how much the welfare of Mexico depended upon the health of President Diaz. Mr. Barea said in reply: "President Diaz is a great man but if he should die or leave his position, there are many men in Mexico able to cope with the situation and to conduct a good government. Mexico has never been more prosperous or more peaceful."
