SHORTAGE OF FISH DELAYS THE MAIL

Scarcity Causes Curtailment of Motive Power by Which Mail Is Carried in Alaska.

Shortage of fish is interfering with the mail in Alaska. On account of their scarcity, the motive power by which the mail is carried in that cold territory is curtailed. An abundance of fish, according to a report to the post office department, is essential to the prompt delivery across the region of ice and snow, and a necessary supply is not to be had.

The mail carrier out from Anchorage, Alaska, wrote to the department under the date of March 25, 1918:

"Your letter of February 27, 1918, is at hand, and I notice the late arrivals of mail as indicated in same. The whole trouble is on account of my dogs. I was unable, and still am, to get fish for them as it is not to be obtained in the country. The dogs I use on this mail are wolf dogs that have been worked on fish all their lives. It is almost impossible to change from a fish diet to cooked feed and work them. I have done the best I could to keep this mail moving and have had to stop and rest my dogs several times while the mail was in transit as they would not stand it. . . . All of the late mails were caused on that account. . . . I have managed, however, to keep this end (Seward-Anchorage) running on schedule time and believe in a satisfactory manner owing to the fact that I am on this run myself, drive one of my own teams and I have been able to keep it going somehow. . . . The mail is moving now better. Our dogs are getting so they stand up under cooked food."

GIRL HAS COUSIN INTERNED

Said He Was Trying to Join the German Navy.

There is one enemy alien less at large in the country as the result of the patriotism of a Bismarck (N. D.) girl. Frank Peters, alias Peter Hansen, has gone to Fort McPherson, Ga., for internment in a federal prison camp instead of doing his bit for the kaiser as a member of a U-boat crew, because Miss Mary Burkman was courageous enough to report him, even though he was her own cousin.

Peters was arrested as he was about to board a Northern Pacific train on the first lap of his journey to Germany. He had boasted to his cousin that he would soon be back in the fatherland serving on one of the kaiser's submarines.

When Miss Burkman assured him she would not permit him to leave America for such a purpose, he reminded her of their blood ties, threatened her and declared she dare not report him. There was a brief struggle in Miss Burkman's apartment, but it was very brief and her country won.

Don't Like Kaiser's Face.

When the War Mothers met in the assembly room of the library at Rockford, Ind., they found a picture of the kaiser exposed on a table, possibly placed there by a joker. The War Mothers tore the picture into small pieces and then stamped on the bits. What the women thought is not for publication, but what they said would make the ears of the kaiser and the joker burn.

Club Bans Evening Dress.

Until after the war no evening clothes will be worn by the men and women at the Spokane Country club. Decision to bar formal dress has been made by the entertainment committee, and it is declared to be in keeping with other war economies.

NO RED CROSS FUNDS FOR RESEARCH WORK

Opposition of Members Is Cause of Decision Made by War Council.

Criticism having been made of a Red Cross appropriation for medical research, including vivisection, the Red Cross war council at Washington announces that no money will be used for such purposes hereafter and such money as has been used will be refunded to the Red Cross.

In reaching this decision not to use Red Cross funds for research work, the war council does not take sides for or against vivisection, but in view of the large number of Red Cross members who object to research work, it was deemed wise to eliminate such expenditures.

The original appropriation for research work was made last August upon recommendation of army medical officers of high rank who were confronted with new diseases developed by war conditions and who thought that experiments upon animals might produce remedies. It was strictly an emergency war appropriation.

When pronounced opposition to the appropriation appeared, an individual came forward with an offer to pay for the research work out of his own resources and also to reimburse the Red Cross for past expenditures along this line, so that all Red Cross funds will be used for relief work as all members understand and approve it.

The sincere convictions of a considerable body of Red Cross members are thus respected by the Red Cross without in any sense passing judgment upon the wisdom of research work.

MARTIN, THE COLONEL HOUSE OF FRANCE

William Martin, shown in this characteristic portrait, is one of the most distinguished of living Frenchmen occupying a position in our sister republic strikingly similar to that of our own Col. Edward M. House. It is said that President Poincare of France holds him in exactly the same regard that President Wilson does Colonel House.

HALF LIFE TRAPPING

Aged Man Has Seen Many Vicissitudes.

Those who visited the mouth of the Los Molinos river canyon in California during the winter saw the home of M. L. Smalling, who for forty years has followed a trapper's life.

With 300 steel traps, a repeating rifle and an acquaintance with everything wild, this man, whose eighty-fifth birthday was on March 8, has trapped along the streams from the Oregon line to Stockton for more than four decades.

Smalling came to California in 1851. Frontier life appealed to this young man from the start. He trapped and mined for seven years on Trinity river, another seven years on Battle creek and seven years along the Feather river.

He always works nine hours a day, and is as spry as the average man of forty or fifty years.

Smalling accounts for his perfect health through his habit of spending most of his life in a tent and living close to nature.

USELESS MONEY IN BANKS

Have $50,000 They Do Not Know What to Do With.

Battle Creek banks have $50,000 in cash on hand they don't know what to do with.

The money really belongs to several thousands of men employed on Camp Custer construction work who failed to cash their checks. Porter Bros., contractors, paid out checks weekly and the government deposited cash to cover them. Hundreds of men left camp daily with pay checks for small amounts, and the sum of unclaimed money grew all summer. Some of the checks uncashed amount to $50 or more.

The government has no way to take the money back. Porter Bros. have no legal claim on the money. And the bank can't get rid of the money because there is still a possibility of the checks showing up.

"BROADWAY JONES" IS SURE GEORGE M. COHAN'S BEST

In keeping with the progressive policy of the theatre, Managers Nelson and Henkle have secured Geo. M. Cohan's first photoplay, "Broadway Jones."

Ever since the early days of the motion picture interests with flattering offers but it was not until a few days ago that he finally decided to branch out into this field. At the head of his own company he commenced activities in the motion picture art with the same enthusiasm and energy that has marked his great success in theatricals. Selecting "Broadway Jones", conceded to be his biggest stage hit and which was written and produced by himself, he makes his bow as a screen star and that the film version of this play will even score a greater success than the original play is freely predicted.

Few American writers for the stage have caught the real spirit of what the people want better than Mr. Cohan and "Broadway Jones" is particularly a happy choice as his initial screen vehicle. The subject gives him an opportunity to shine in the very kind of thing he can do better, perhaps, than anyone else of today, namely to present a swiftly moving, interesting and dramatic story about a topic universally known.
