White Gold.

White gold, according to jewelers, seems destined to retain the place in the jewelry trade which the war gave it. This alloy of nickel and gold came into vogue when the government placed a ban on the use of platinum in the manufacture of jewelry because of a world shortage of platinum and the vital need for it in the manufacture of high explosives.

White gold became a substitute for platinum in jewelry, especially as a setting for diamonds. It has much the same effect as platinum in bringing out the brilliancy of these gems. It does not tarnish or change color and looks much like platinum. It costs about one-fifth as much. The end of the war has not reduced the price of platinum. It remains at $100 an ounce.

ART OF SELECTING DRAPERIES

Wise Choosing and Placing of Lamps Lends an Air of Coziness to the Home.

While the selection of draperies and curtains is, possibly, the most obvious method of lending an air of coziness to the home, the wise choosing and placing of lamps is a factor which is equally important, though too infrequently taken advantage of. To be thoroughly comfortable and practical during the evening hours, the home should be equipped with a variety of lamps, to meet the particular needs of the moment. The fact that one does not want the same kind of lighting at all times becomes an important item in the selection and arrangement of fixtures, for, while a soft, mellow glow is highly desirable for conversational purposes, it is usually insufficient for reading or other close work. The living room should therefore be furnished with both types of lamps, so that it will be satisfactory at all times. Proper illumination of this room will do much toward keeping the family together in the evening, for it makes it possible for several people to do their different work in comfort.

NEW PATTERN PRINTS SHOWN

Fabric is Entirely English in Design and Manufacture; Firm Like Percal; Dyes Warranted.

Some new English prints are in the market. They are entirely English in design and manufacture, the material is of a firm quality like percale and the dyes are warranted. They come in all colors—rose, pink, greens, blues, terra cotta, or really the new henna—with the little old-fashioned designs in purple or lavender. The patterns are small, delicate roses on the different grounds, small conventional patterns, and little leaf patterns combined with a small round figure of some kind. There are a few patterns with the ever recurrent polka-dot of moderate size, set rather far apart on white or colored grounds. Another old-time one revived is the tiny, pinhead dot in white on navy blue. These, however, are exceptions, most of the prints being in small, sometimes very tiny, all-over designs set closely. The only thing in a way of a stripe is indefinite, formed of lines of the dots. The prints make up into very simple gowns for women, children and young girls.

Life in the Dead Sea.
In one of the Jericho hotels there was preserved a declaration jointly signed the same year by over a dozen tourists that they saw fish actively swimming in the Dead sea. At many spots along the shore there are places in which acres of reeds and many trees flourish, and at such spots animal life and bird life are abundant.

Its Drawback.
Jinks—"You don't mean to say your wife wants to sell that prize toy terrier you bought for her?" Blinks—"Yes, she does." "Why, I thought that toy was said to be the smallest dog in the world!" "That's the trouble. It's so small she keeps mistaking it for a mouse!"

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair. A well-known downtown druggist says "everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callous stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callous loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin. If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.

Seemed Like Wasted Time.

Markets for a short time during the war were not doing any delivering. Mary, age five, one night at bedtime was saying the Lord's prayer. Coming to the part "Deliver us from evil," she exclaimed, "Mother, what is the use of praying for that, they won't deliver a thing in this town."

Jest and Joke.

A joke is often rougher and less delicate than a jest, as a practical joke, but jest often suggests more of lightness or scoffing than a joke, as to turn everything into jest. Joke is the word to use when action is implied, while jest is generally applied to something said.

Danger Everywhere.

Little Millie's father and grandfather were Republicans, and, as election drew near, they spoke of their opponents with ever-increasing warmth, never heeding Millie's attentive ears. One night as the little maid was preparing for bed she cast a fearful glance across the room and whispered in a frightened little voice: "Oh, mamma, I'm afraid to go to bed. I'm afraid there's a Democrat in the closet."—Organizer.
