Figures Never Lie

(Journal of the American Medical Association.)

In January, 1910, there were in the United States 62,683 single men insane and 26,047 married men insane—which shows that the crazy men stay single. At the same time, there were 37,115 single women insane and 35,975 married women insane—which shows that in January, 1910, married life made more women crazy than it did men. And the more you study these figures the crazier it makes you.

Miss Summer arrived Monday and will stay until September.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CIVIC LEAGUE PRESIDENT

To the Independence Civic Club and Visitors:

The report I'm bringing you is not one of round figures because I so recently gave a resume of the Club year's work and a repetition would be uninteresting and because you will gain a definite knowledge of the moneys received and expenditures from the other officers. However, I wish to state that something over $500 has been raised by the Club thru benefits, Club memberships, etc.

Service is the touchstone by which all activities of today must be tied. The current year found us in the throes of the great world war, and it needed only the sense of duty to impel us to do our part. As you know our efforts were turned mostly in a financial direction. Our plans this year were handicapped by the epidemic influenza, the organization has been kept very active and the membership increased from about ten paid up members to sixty dependable members who can be trusted in every emergency. Just here we wish to give thanks to God that the grim reaper did not thrust his sickle into the membership of our Club during the year.

To the executive board and the Liberty chorus I wish to extend thanks for their splendid co-operation. To each committee appointed during the year, I wish to express appreciation, not one has failed to rise to the needs of the occasion. To the several social committees we are indebted for the splendid programs furnished and in advance we wish to thank this afternoon's committee. The acknowledged ability of those who have the afternoon in charge is an assurance of its excellence.

Our year's work proper closes today with only a "booster meeting" to follow on Wednesday, June 25, at which time the books and all business will be turned over to the new officers and board and all standing committees appointed. However, the grand finale of the year's work will be our monster Fourth of July celebration for the success of which every member of the Club is working. Just here I would like to recommend, first, that we adopt "Boost for Independence" as our slogan and, second, that apart from our study and civics, which I hope will play a most prominent part in our club life, that in the face of the promise of abundant harvests, we turn to finance at every opportunity. It is my ambition to see the cornerstone of our Community Memorial Building laid not later than next Memorial Day.

The exigencies of war have developed rapidly the work of the woman's club because so many things sprang up at our country's call and seemed to need the touch of an organized body. The object of the woman's club is first of all to develop the individual woman. With the return of normal conditions in this reconstruction work we may find much in the war-time regime worthy of adoption and adaptation. Instead of numerous bodies and associations each pulling in its own way, there has developed a system of team work and the results demonstrate the aptness of the adage that in union there is strength. And now comes the crowning event of the year—Peace—a world peace. "The tumult dies, the captains and the kings depart" for this war will have been in vain if it bring not peace, enduring peace to all mankind.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. CLYDE ECKER,
President.

Celebrate in Independence.

Attention Veterans!

An earnest appeal is made to all veterans of the World's War to appear in uniform and to take part in the military parade on July 4. All refreshments and entertainments will be furnished free of charge to men in this uniform. Come out and give the home folks an opportunity to show their appreciation.
B. M. CAMPBELL,
Chairman of Military Section 4th of July Parade.

When the "Empress of Ireland" went down, 140 Salvationists, traveling to a convention, were drowned. When the sea gave up its dead not a Salvationist was found with a life belt on. Why? The Salvation Army was built and exists on the basis of self-sacrifice.

ENGLISH DEMAND FOR HOPS CAUSES ADVANCE IN PRICE

(Portland Oregonian.)
Another boom of respectable proportions has struck the hop market. English buyers have come in strong for spot hops, especially the older growths, and appear disposed to clean up the supply. The amount of business doing is only limited by the extent of the offerings. Prices have naturally responded to the increased buying.

There is also some inquiry from the east, which was hardly to be expected. Whether the eastern trade is figuring on near-beer consumption or inclined to speculate is not clear. The actual buying, however, is for London account.

The big block of English-owned hops that accumulated in this country during the war is beginning to move to its ultimate destination. Strauss, Bird and Wigan & Richardson have secured steamer space for their holdings, amounting to thousands of bales, and the movement of the hops is accompanied by the buying of more.

The crop in Oregon is doing exceedingly well. The growth is slow, as might be expected with the cool weather, but the vines are sturdy. Old-time hop men say Oregon will this year have the biggest yield per acre ever known.
