Zoo Superintendent Finds New Husband for Mourning Widow in Alligator Family

For many weeks Cy De Vry, superintendent of the Lincoln Park Zoo at Chicago, watched with utmost concern the ravages of melancholia upon the person and psychology of Desdemona, the brunette alligator, who some time since was bereft of her lice and in comfortable quarters, oth-

They were inseparable and had achieved a oneness of concord rarely encountered in the domestic domain. The unalloyed bliss they enjoyed was manifest to all. It was natural that with the visit of the grim reaper the weaker vessel, deprived at one fell stroke of prop and stay, should mourn deeply.

But De Vry thought time would assuage her grief. In this he was in error. After a consultation he decided that but one hope remained-to obtain a new husband.

In the Florida jungles there was captured Othello, a blackamoor. If Cupid's darts prove potent the gnawing grief wearing away the widow's heart will be eradicated forever and a day.

THE WORSHIP OF NATURE

The harp at Nature's advent strung
Has never ceased to play;
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away.

And prayer is made and praise is give By all things near and far; And mirrors every star.

Its waves are kneeling on the strand, As kneels the human knee, Their white locks bowing to the sand, The priesthood of the seal They pour their glittering treasures forth

Their gifts of pearl they bring, And all the listening hills of earth Take up the song they sing. The green earth sends her incense up

From many a mountain shrine; From folded leaf and dewy cup She pours her sacred wine.

The mists above the morning rills Rise white as wings of prayer; The altar curtains of the hills Are sunset's purple air.

The winds with hymns of praise are loud, Or low with sobs of pain The thunder-organ of the cloud, The dropping tears of rain,

With drooping head and branches crossed. The twilight forest grieves, Or speaks with tongues of Pentecost From all its sunlit leaves. blue sky is the temple's arch,

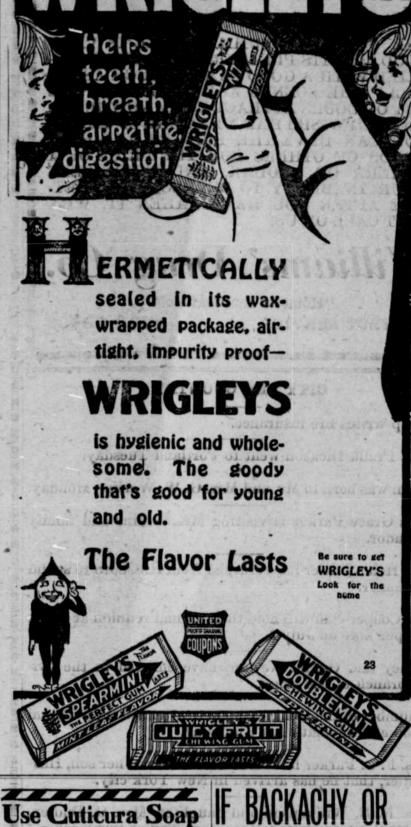

Its transept earth and air, The music of its starry march The chorus of a prayer. So Nature keeps the reverent frame
With which her years began,
And all her signs and voices shame
The prayerless heart of man.

Only 125 Cases of Total Blindness Among Yanks

There were only 125 cases of total lindness and fewer than 4,000 amputations in the American forces engaged in the war, it is stated by the bureau of war risk insurance in an announcement concerning the bureau's activity in supplying crippled soldiers and sallors with artificial limbs and in otherwise caring for the wounded and disabled. Not even all of the 125 cases of total blindness cited, it is stated, have yet been declared as permanent by the medical officers in charge. Relative to amputations, denial is made, on the authority of Surgeon General Ireland and Col. Charles E. Banks, chief medical officer of the war insurance risk insurance that there were any cases in which men lost both arms and both legs.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares. Now

You reckless men and women are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callous the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callous, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callous without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, Pennsylvania county agriculturist. He but will positively rid one's feet of says that scientific investigations show every hard or soft corn or hardened callous. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you .-- Adv.
