NEXT WEEK AT THE ISIS

On Sunday evening, stunter Fred Stone appears in "Under the Top", a story of the circus. Fred is the famous India Rubber man who can scratch his right ear with his left big toe and never strain a muscle. He plays the part of a country guy who falls in love with a circus man's daughter and so gets mixed up with the goin's on in the sawdust ring, and before you know it he's showing a bunch of tricks that make the performers themselves gape like a gang of hayseeds.

The headliner of the week which is shown on both Monday and Tuesday nights is "The Frozen Warning." Owing to the non-arrival of the greater portion of the advertising matter, including posters and heralds, little can be said regarding the picture at this time except that it takes well wherever shown and is guaranteed to be worth several times the admission price. The champion woman skater of the world is a leading character and shows her ability on the ice.

It will be a pleasure to see little Shirley Mason again after a long absence. Wednesday night she comes in "The Winning Girl" which Shirley proves to be from the very start to the intensely interesting finish, tho her parents wanted her to be a boy before she was born. They had already named him James and when "he" turned out to be a girl there was nothing to do but make the best of it and call her Jamesina which was promptly contracted to Jemmy. But Shirley as Jemmy turned out to be such a regular fellow that in the end her daddy was thankful she was a girl. It is a dandy picture. Ben Turpin and his crew of comedians appear in "East Lynne With Variations", a delicious satire on the good old play.

There is no show on Thursday night.

Dorothy Dalton, one of the most brilliant stars, appears Friday night. Miss Dalton, a prima donna, gets stranded in a hick town and the sequel is very funny. Old Deacon Simpson, one of the most sanctimonious tried to make an impression on the show girl, but got scant encouragement till she went to live with Aunt Tiny Colvin. Everybody knows that Aunt Tiny's home is mortgaged to Simpson. When Corinne (Dorothy) learned he was about to foreclose the mortgage, she started in to "vamp" him, and it give the natives something real "scandalous" to talk about. Result: the old duffer got so tangled in the meshes of the good-hearted siren that he was happy to escape by relenting in the matter of the mortgage. As for Corinne she lived long enough to like the town, and if in your travels you ever visit Nilesburgh, you'll find her at the hotel—her husband is proprietor.

Saturday night, Bessie Barriscale in a "Trick of Fate." Mary Lee was of the aristocratic Lee family of Virginia, a girl as sweet in disposition as she was lovely to look upon. Then by a trick of fate Mary drifted and was soon dancing in the naughtiest cafe in Paris. Ze judge he say: "Frenchy, why you act so nuttee? And I say: 'Ze lovely laydee wiz ze lovely leg, she do ze Ooo-La-La. so naughty it makes me crazee.' And the judge he, wink at me and say: 'Ten bucks or ze booby-hatch.' I had no-what he call 'booby hatch,' so I geef him ten dollaire. He wink me again and say: 'What you say ze name of ze laydee?' And I say: 'Eet is Bessie Barriscale in what you call 'A Treck of Fate.' Ze judge he wink solemn-like again and say: 'Fine remit, and I get back my ten dollaire. 'Mais oui, M'sier, why he hand me back my ten dollaire, I do not know. Maybe he want to see ze lovely laydee do ze Ooo-La-La.'"

Ever hear of Happy Valley? A quiet place, just a cradle in the hills down along the Ohio river, where the Logans ran the boarding house and the Timberlakes lived down the road a bit. Quite a romance happened there, and it was dramatic too. Nothing much was said about it in the papers, and the whole story never was told until now. It's about the Logan's and the Timberlakes and old Auntie Smiles and some others. D. W. Griffith found out all about it, and he called it "A Romance of Happy Valley." It will be told at the Isis on Sunday (Aug. 18) with charming effect. Mr. Griffith was the only one who knew the whole story and he has told it in a way that makes it the classic of plain humanity, a vivid, dramatic, bubbling story, with a master's charm and a wizard's insight. "A Romance of Happy Valley" is one of the best pictures that will ever be thrown on the screen at this theater. Lillian Gish plays the chief role.
