

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR STOMACH THANKSGIVING DAY!

You will have a fine Thanksgiving dinner and we have nothing to offer to make that dinner more pleasant, except our best wishes, but if in your indiscretion or folly you over indulge, our services will be available. Everything from a charcoal tablet to a pink pill we keep handy for tired, overworked, sour or I. W. W. stomachs.

Williams' Drug Co.

"Home of the Grafonola"
PERFECT SERVICE PURE DRUGS

CITY AND COUNTRY

Coming—"The Miracle Man."

Tripp writes fire insurance.

Mrs. Oliver Smith visited in Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Rider were here from Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fletcher visited Portland friends this week.

Miss Velma Whiteaker was here from Portland last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cooper visited friends in Portland this week.

J. R. Cooper is in a Portland hospital, having been ailing of late.

Ira Mix and H. Hirschburg auto-mobiled to Portland Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McIntosh visited relatives in Portland last week end.

Mrs. Grace Morgan of Vancouver, Wash., was here on business this week.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Allin returned Tuesday to their home at Blue River.

Ross Nelson was looking after the interests of his theater in Portland this week.

Miss Leona Hanna was here from Portland this week visiting relatives and friends.

A new floor has been laid in the Independence postoffice this week and other improvements made.

Charles Lawrence and Edith Milled Withrow, both of Independence were licensed to wed at Salem today.

The Pacific Livestock Exposition in Portland this week attracted the attendance of a number of our citizens.

Miss Gladys Irvine is here from Astoria to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Irvine.

Corvallis Courier: Mrs. Charles Rohrer of Independence, who was the guest of Mrs. W. P. Ireland, returned home Monday.

J. B. Hill will open a meat market in Monmouth next week and Monmouth people will like him, and he will run the right kind of a shop, too.

Lyon Lodge, No. 29, A. F. A. M. Regular stated communication Wednesday evening, Nov. 26, 7:30 o'clock. Entered Apprentice degree. Visitors welcome.

The ladies of Buena Vista Rural club gathered on the school grounds at Buena Vista Thursday and planted a tree in honor and memory of a war hero, their own boy, Johnny Nash.

Dr. O. D. Butler and H. Hirschberg went to Portland Thursday to welcome the Imperial Potentate of Shrinedom and also to witness Governor Olcott being led across the burning sands.

Shalor Eldridge arrived home last Saturday, having received his discharge from the navy. After a few days he will go to Portland where he will be employed by the Independence Creamery Co.

The Post has just received word that S. Taylor Jones, who is at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland, is still doing nicely and if he continues to improve, his physician thinks he can be brought home soon.

The beautiful chrysanthemums, grown by Mrs. W. N. Alexander, are attracting considerable attention. They are on display at Williams' drug store and any one seeing them at once pronounce Mrs. Alexander a most successful floraculturist.

William P. Harned, veteran of the Civil war, who has lived alone on his farm one and three-fourths miles south of Independence, will soon leave for Philadelphia where he will make his home with his son. The son is here assisting his father to dispose of his stock and farm implements. The farm will be rented.

The Tri-County Dental Association comprising Polk, Yamhill and Marion counties, entertained the state board of dental examiners at Salem Wednesday night. Dr. M. J. Butler, president of the association, presided over the meeting which was full of pep, several instructive speakers appearing on the program. Later the tooth specialists and their ladies enjoyed a banquet at the Marion.

After the Road Spoilers

Dallas—The county court this week forbid the use of the highway between Dallas, Ballston and Salt Creek to all motor vehicles unless equipped with pneumatic tires.

MATTER HE HAD FORGOTTEN

Now Mr. Jones Knows That Others Besides Women May Be Possessed of Faulty Memories.

Speaking at a dinner, Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska referred to the beauty of having a good memory, and fittingly related this story:

"At eight o'clock in the morning one day last summer the Joneses took trunks, grips and suit cases, and hustled for the railroad station. Twenty minutes later a taxicab dashed up to the Jones house and out jumped Jones.

"What's the matter, old man?" asked a kindly disposed neighbor "Forget your railroad tickets?" "No," answered Jones, showing symptoms of peevishness. "My wife left a kettle of water boiling on the gas stove. Didn't think of it until we reached the station. You can always depend on a woman to have a memory like that."

So saying, Jones unlocked the door and hastened into the house. In about two minutes he came out again with his features puckered into a peculiar twist.

"How did you find it?" cheerfully asked the neighbor. "Sizzling to beat a locomotive, I suppose."

"No," guiltily answered Jones. "I had forgotten that I had turned the gas off at the meter."—Anon.

ARMY WASTE MADE TO PAY

Refuse From Military Kitchens Purchased and Made Use Of by the British Government.

British war efficiency is such that it is now able to save something out of army waste.

When it was found that thousands of tons of waste fats were being thrown away with other garbage from military kitchens investigations were made to determine whether some use could be made of these things. Now drippings, bones, butchers' fat and greases are being daily used in England in the making of soap, candles, fertilizers and also in supplying the explosives for 17,000,000 shells annually.

The government pays the army camps for the waste products taken. During the first month of the experiments the British committee on the purchase of army camp refuse bought £7,500 worth of fats, and this figure has soared until at the present time about £80,000 is paid to the camps each month.

The most recent development of this scheme is the extension of the plan to the naval forces and to troops "over there," whether that be France or Palestine or Africa.

Canadian Fisheries Had Record Year.

Owing to the greatly increased demand for fish and the higher prices prevailing, the total market value of Canadian fisheries for the last fiscal year constituted a record. It amounted to $39,208,378, according to the annual report of the fisheries branch, issued recently. This was $3,347,670 greater than the value for the previous year.

To the total value the sea fisheries contributed $34,388,013, and the inland fisheries, $4,822,365. The British Columbia catch headed the list, with a value of $14,637,346, the figures for the rest being: Nova Scotia, $10,092,902; New Brunswick, $5,656,839; Quebec, $2,991,624; Ontario, $2,658,993; Manitoba, $1,344,170; Saskatchewan, $231,946; Alberta, $144,317, and Yukon, $60,210. As usual, the salmon catch was more valuable than any other, amounting to $10,882,431. Lobsters were caught to the value of $5,508,064; cod, $5,449,964; herring, $3,050,421, and halibut, $2,263,573.—Fishing Gazette.

Buffalo as Beast of Burden.

The buffalo has always been rated as untamable, and many scientists have regarded him as one of the most stupid beasts that ever existed. It has remained for Major Bob Yokum of Pierre, S. D., after five years of effort, to accomplish the wonderful feat of training a pair of buffaloes to trot to wagon, and also to do many other remarkable stunts. Major Yokum is a former United States marshal and is known in the old ranching and cowboy life of the American West, from Texas to Oregon. One of the accomplishments of the Yokum team is to race against horses, and they distance their speedy competitors. They loathe the saddling process, and when the rider mounts them wily "buck" in a way to shame a veteran broncho.—St. Nicholas.

All the Comforts of Home.

All the conveniences of a seagoing pleasure yacht have been provided for in a one-ton truck which started on a journey from Boston to Seattle a few weeks ago. Immediately back of the driver's seat is a steel framework supporting three spring beds, one above the other. To the rear of the beds the body of the car takes on the aspect of a kitchen and dining room combined. On one side is a gas stove, a set of drawers, a sink and a cupboard. On the opposite side is a bureau with eight drawers, and an icebox with a capacity for 50 pounds of ice.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

He'd Better Say It.

The latest kind of war soup with which we have had anything to do personally is made of one potato, one onion, one pinch of salt and a vast volume of water, but under such circumstances a man who tries to be pleasant and cheerful around the house can always say: Well, this is good and hot.—Ohio State Journal.

AT THE ISIS NEXT WEEK

On Monday night the last two episodes of "The Lost Express" will be shown. This serial has proven very interesting. The added attraction for the same evening is Edna Goodrich in "Who Loved Him Best." The gown worn by the star in the art gallery scene is of white satin with lateral broad bands of black velvet covering the skirt, a nifty little half military jacket and a new model hat. Both the gown and the hat were designed by Miss Goodrich herself. Another gown also designed by the young star is a black military cut costume with high collar and tight sleeves—a sort of vivandiere effect—in which she poses for the sculptor. This gown is being touted by New York modistes as one of the sure fire hits of the season.

Mae Murray in "The Scarlet Shadow" Tuesday night. She is seen as Elma Evans, a demure little country girl, who is kept from contact with the world by a maiden aunt because of a supposed "scarlet strain" in the life of her mother. The dull monotony of life in a country village ceases for her when an adventuresome college boy persuades her to sneak out and go to a show. Returning he crawls into her bedroom to help her in the window, and the aunt discovering the pair in this compromising situation, marches the suspected culprits to the office of the justice of the peace for a hasty marriage. The boy's uncle appears, stops the marriage and—the uncle becoming the hero.

Vivian Martin comes Wednesday night in "An Innocent Adventure." She thought that she was a thief and that jail stared her in the face for stealing Government mail. Everything seemed as black as ink until she suddenly woke up to the fact that she had stolen nothing but the heart of a male. Her only "judge" was the parson who pronounced sentence of "life imprisonment." There is a good comedy on the same night entitled, "Oh, Judge! How Could You?" Charlotte, as her name hints, was a sweet, sticky sort of a female person, so when her "sweetie" got himself in the soup, Charlotte tried to ensnare the judge with her alluring young charms.

Great stretches of snow, with never a track of sledge or snowshoe upon them, long vistas of mountains, ice caves and glaciers—these things form the background of "The Great White Trail", the new Wharton super-feature which is the attraction for Thanksgiving Day matinee. It is a love story in the days when men turned brute in their wild rush to the gold of the Klondike, and when thousands fought their way over the icy steeps and great flats of snow in their crazed desire for northern gold. And all thru this atmosphere of roughness, a tiny pair of baby shoes tugs and strains at the hearts of a man, a woman and their child, tugging with the strength that only the sentiment of baby shoes can possess until at last the sunshine of happiness comes to those who have suffered long in the shadows of sorrow.

For Thursday evening, Monroe Salisbury comes in "The Sleeping Lion" Tony, an Italian immigrant with the devil in one eye and an angel in the other, leaves New York's Little Italy for the West with a little newsie whom he has adopted. One year of life in the virile West transformed Tony into a daring, swashbuckling cattleman. Fate had decreed that this lion, when aroused to glorious strength, would meet Durant, the coyote, with the power of a forest monarch. In the glare of the Royal saloon they fought it out with a ferocity that amazed even the men of the West to whom fighting was a part of life itself. Tony's battle against customs, his success and the great love he won, form the foundation upon which a towering plot is built.

Elsie Ferguson in "The Avalanche." Grand daughter of a gambler and daughter of the proprietress of a fashionable New York card room, she inherited the family taint. She is steered by a society adventurer into the very gambling house which is operated by her unknown mother. "Play your luck—take a chance," urged her pounding heart, responding to a forgotten call. She did—and there followed ruin, tragic revelations, a struggle ending in the death of a man by a fall to the pavement far below, and a girl wanted for murder. Only a mother's love, preferring a quick step into eternity from a prison cell to sacrifice of her daughter, solved the situation. Friday night.

"A Man's Country," the leader for Saturday night, is a rip-roaring drama of the West of the days of '49 when men lived hard and fought harder—lived fast and died faster. The character of Kate Carrawe, the dance hall queen of Huxley's Gulch is played by Miss Alma Rubens and she throws herself into the character with the recklessness

Hungry Man and Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving Dinner is never a joy unless it's cooked right and it can't be cooked right with poor utensils. Before this Thanksgiving Day comes, you Mr. Man, see that "Mother" has everything she wants to prepare the best dinner of the year and if there's anything lacking you come right to this store and get it. See our assortment of roasters and carving sets.

WILLARD E. CRAVEN HDW.
SUCCESSOR TO CRAVEN & HUFF HDW. CO.

the role demands. Kate was no saint, but her charity and innate goodness redeemed her when she found herself alone with the man—the preacher—whom she had at first despised for his preachy morality, but who had proved himself a real he-man when he fought to the death to protect her. On the same night, there is a good comedy and the Ford Weekly.

If you were to have the opportunity of seeing one of the world's foremost motion picture stars in one of the greatest stories ever written for the stage, wouldn't you jump at the chance? Well, it's coming your way on Sunday afternoon and evening, Nov. 30. The star Marguerite Clark! The story? "Come Out of the Kitchen!" It delighted millions in story form, also. Her hands were touched with a little bit of stove polish. Perhaps the odor of apple pie hung about her dainty fur-bows! But she was loved by the prince of men! Good? So good it ran for two seasons in one of New York's biggest theaters.

TWO NEW PICTURE MACHINES INSTALLED BY ISIS THEATER

(Continued from Page 1.) at an approximate expense of $1000 to still further improve their service.

Ever See a Rhode Island Red Pig?

(From the Monmouth Herald.) They tell a story of one of the Normal girls, in a class inspecting agricultural operations. A red pig hove into sight and the maid turned to the instructor and queried, "Is that a Rhode Island Red?"

Concerning the Rooster

(By George W. Kable, Benton County Agricultural Agent.) The rooster is a noble bird. He's master of the chicken herd; He leaves his stamp on every chick, And that's why they are thin or thick.

But when the chicks are hatched by gum That dear old rooster's work is done; And if you leave him in the flock, The eggs are almost sure to rot.

Go put him in another pen Till breeding season comes again; Or if he's just a common scrub, You'd better make him into grub.

No, No! Not Russia! Washington!

(Continued from Page 1.) Sallal, Chinacum, Taholah, Synarep, Puyallup, Wawawai, Wauconda, Washougal, Washtucna, Wahuake, Solkulk, Newaukum, Waukukus, Penawawa, Ohop, Umtanum, Chuckanut, Usk, Chilliwist, Yellepit, Mukilteo, Poulsbo, Toppenish, Inchelium, Conconilly, Sapolli, Chesaw, Nooksack, Oso, Samamish, Tekeoa, Attalia, Steilacoom, Lisabeula, Latah, Towal, Sol Duc, Twisp.

AIRLIE

Hugh Williams, who returned from the hospital last Sunday, is gaining in health rapidly.

Mrs. G. A. Conn gave an excellent address to the students of the Airlie school Monday morning in the assembly. She talked of her trip thru Yellowstone National park. Having

TELL

US

WHAT

YOU

WANT

IN

JEWELRY

We will try our best to please you. If you cannot find exactly what you want in our magnificent stock, we will be glad to secure it for you. Or if you have ideas of your own for making up something original, let us help you. We can manufacture it for you in our own shop. We specialize in fine diamonds and diamond jewelry and carry a beautiful assortment at popular prices.

HARTMAN BROS. CO.
JEWELERS & OPTICIANS
Salem Oregon

a map of the park on the board she pointed out the places of interest and explained the details of her trip. She warned all who should visit the park to leave the bears alone.

Notice of Dissolution

Notice is hereby given that the firm of Smith & Smith has been dissolved, Oliver Smith retiring. The business will be conducted in the future under the name of Smith & Son. All accounts due Smith & Smith are payable to Smith & Smith. Dated November 14, 1919. SMITH & SMITH.

Notice That Certain Street Improvement Bonds Will Be Paid

Notice is hereby given that there is sufficient funds in the Street Improvement Fund of the City of Independence, Oregon, to take up for payment and cancellation Bonds Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 bearing date December 1, 1914.

That on December 1, 1919, each of said bonds will be taken up and cancelled and paid in full, principal and interest to said date and thereafter said bonds will cease to bear interest.

Dated November 1, 1919. C. W. IRVINE, City Treasurer,

MISS DORIS KENYON

Star of "The Great White Trail," a story of the North, the Thanksgiving Day Matinee Offering at the Isis.