REDS MADE TO WORK WHILE AWAITING DEPORTATION

Reds arrested in the late raids in Massachusetts are enjoying Uncle Sam's hospitality at Deer Island, Boston, while awaiting investigation or deportation. While there they are made to aid in the care and feeding of their anarchistic brethren. The photograph shows group of arrested radicals bringing food into one of the detention buildings on the island.

HARVARD'S MAN OF MYSTERY

Wesley Holland, Harvard's "man of mystery," has all Cambridge puzzled. Neither vault doors, steel boxes nor ice walls have yet been able to hold Holland as a prisoner. He is an electrician at the university and astounded the students when he made his way out of a steel box which they had specially constructed for the demonstration.

Church Crypt for Skulls.

Under the chance of the church at Hythe, Kent, England, is a very curious crypt. This crypt is used as a depository for a large quantity of human skulls and bones, which are believed to be those of Danes killed close by in battle before the Norman conquest. Most of the skulls are arranged on shelves, while the bones are piled up in a symmetrical heap. Such ghastly relics are rare in English churches, although they are to be found at several places on the continent.—From the Wide World Magazine.

TAKEN FROM EXCHANGES

A copy of "McFingal," a poem printed in Hartford, Conn., in 1782, and autographed by George Washington, brought $1,125 at Sotheby's auctions. A moderate trickle of water from an ordinary faucet will waste 150 gallons a day, or 54,750 gallons in a year.

The field of the farm tractor is constantly extending. A circular saw is now rigged up to it revolving horizontally and a large tree is cut down in a few minutes.

LAMBS FATTENED FOR MARKETING

From 3 to 5 Months Is About Right Age Under Ordinary Farm Conditions.

MAKE HIGHER RATE OF GAIN

During Heat of Summer They Are More Liable to Losses From Parasites—Breeder Also Gets Use of His Money Earlier.

Under ordinary farm conditions lambs should be made ready for market at from 3 to 5 months of age. When young they make a higher rate of gain and will put on the same amount of flesh for less cost than when they are older. Then, too, they will make but small gains during the heat of summer, and at this time parasites are most troublesome and they are thus more liable to losses from this cause. Risk of accidents is always higher when the lambs are held for a long time. More feed is saved for the breeding flock, and less labor is needed if the lambs are sold early. Better prices are obtained in the spring because of not having to meet the competition of the western lambs that are marketed during the summer and fall, and in addition the grower gets the use of his money sooner by pushing the lambs to a marketable condition as fast as possible.

Teaching Lambs to Eat.

Every effort should be made to keep the lambs growing from the start. The first essential is to teach them to eat. Liberal feeding of lambs dropped before pastures are ready is profitable under any ordinary grain prices. This is best done through the use of a small inclosure known as a "creep," to which the lambs have access at all times, but into which the ewes can not come. The creep should contain a rack for hay and a trough for grain, so arranged that the lambs can not get their feet into them.

All feed given, especially ground feed, should be clean, fresh, and free from mold. The lambs will begin to nibble at the feed when from 10 to 16 days of age. Pea-green alfalfa of the second or third cutting is one of the most relished feeds. Flaky, sweet bran probably ranks next. For the first few days these are the ideal feeds. A Letter from Bossy

If a cow could speak she would talk about her health as people do—because cows suffer from ailments, little and big, same as human beings.

The most common cow ailments, such as Abortion, Retained Afterbirth, Lost Appetite, Bunches, Scours, etc., result from a diseased condition of the digestive or genital organs. Any of these diseases and many others can be successfully treated or prevented by using Kow-Kure, the great cow medicine.

Feed dealers and druggists sell it—60c. and $1.20 packages. Free book, "The Home Cow Doctor," sent on request.

first will make it more palatable. Linseed meal is also good when mixed with bran. Until the lambs are 5 to 6 weeks old all their feed should be course ground or crushed.

Corn Ration for Lambs.

The Ohio experiment station has found that for young lambs that are to be marketed a grain ration of corn is of about the same value as one of corn 5 parts, oats 2 parts, bran 2 parts and oil. Oil meal is especially relished by lambs at this time and would be especially valuable in promoting growth rather than fat.

Such feeds as middlings are too floury for extensive use. Rye is less palatable than oats or barley. Soy beans may replace the linseed meal if they cost less. Cleanliness is an important factor in keeping the lambs growing. Always feed to an empty trough, and if it becomes soiled scrub it out with lime water.

SERIOUS NEW PEST OF WHEAT

Eelworm Has Done Much Damage in Virginia and Other States—Plant Only Clean Seed.

The eelworm is a serious new pest of wheat which has recently done much damage in Virginia, and to a lesser extent in West Virginia, Maryland and California. The disease may be recognized in the threshed grain by the presence of hard, dark-colored galls, about one-half the size of a wheat kernel, which are easily overlooked or mistaken for bunt, cockle seed or bin-burnt wheat. Plant only clean seed wheat from fields which have not been infested. The loss in some Virginia fields amounted to as much as 40 per cent.

HORSERADISH IS GOOD CROP

Quite Profitable if Farmer Can Prepare Grated Article and Sell at Retail.

Horseradish is a profitable crop to grow if one can prepare the grated article and sell it to retail customers. In this way the entire profits remain with the grower. The preparing and bottling may be done during the winter when outside work is at a standstill.

A fly on a windowpane will crawl to the top, fly back to the bottom and crawl up again. This order is seldom reversed. It is on record that a fly crawled up a windowpane thirty-two times, returning each time to the same place.

SAYS CORNS LIFT

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callous stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callous loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.
