Make the war gluttons give back their loot.

In the opinion of Marjorie many men economize on their wives' clothes.

William T. Vaughn of Portland is a candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket. We admire Billy for aiming high.

When one beholds our yards of hops, our fields of grain and our orchards of blossoms he feels like exclaiming, "Nature do your durnest, we need all you can strain out for us!"

This man Abraham, who is presumptuous enough to compete with Bob Stanfield for Republican senatorial honors, has the necessary nerve to crawl under a building and extinguish a bomb.

"Lets get to going toward glory," shouts an evangelist. Willing, but how are we going to change the route of the fellows who claim the country is going to hell and they must accompany it?

By the regularity in which Mr. Poindexter is being handed his hat in various parts of the country, the esteemed senator from Washington ought to soon be convinced that its time for him to go.

THE RHYMING SUMMARIST

Swain, the contest man, has been telling us About The Post auto race,
That the momentous hour has arrived
When all speed up and pace;
Pep and ginger are the cues
And the motto of the battle That now is on
From morn to dawn
With great enthuse and rattle.

We've been thinking that the girl who wins
And each has an equal show, Will pass a very pleasant summer
With her Max and beau; O'er hill and vale they'll glide along When nights are bright and mooney,
It will be bliss
And not amiss
To get a little spoony.

Ira D. Mix and Glen C. Smith
May goo-goo at the lady, And both forget for a time at least That they are sparking Sadie;
So add smiles and "hyp" to "never-give-up" Tho it makes you lank and thinner,
As that's the way
To make it pay
And come in first—a winner.

THE OREGON LOGANBERRY

(By Albert O. Yates.)
All hail to the berry, the rich loganberry.
King of the berries for eating;
It's jellies and pies create a surprise To the stranger it is a rare treating.

Its use as a juice each home can produce So easy of culture in raising:
As a choice market fruit it bears high repute, Far over, the world sings—in praising.

Without boast drink it's toast, and to those we love most,
In the juice that is purer than sherry;
For Oregon's fame it has won us a name,

The Oregon rich loganberry.
Then here's to the fruit that defies a dispute
As a pride to the Oregon farming; It's juice is so rare, there's none can compare With our wonderful rich logan-berry.

The name's a misnomer some people say, That's its Burbank's creation we are claiming:
That don't "cut the ice," its our
"clime" makes it nice,
And its Oregon's rich loganberry.
And its "logan" we go by, 'tis our our slogan to swear by,
A phenomenal record we gave it;
And for climate and soil
We "take up the foil"
And fight for our Oregon berry.

Economical Way of Staying Young

(Benton County Courier.) Monkey glands gave us all quite a start when we imagined that we might need some extra jazz soon as we felt that monkeys would be an expensive luxury to monkey with but now we are told that goat glands will answer the same purpose. No doubt we may soon discover that rabbit glands will also answer. Then we can step out and capture our own cotton tail and perhaps make the transfer of glands with the help of the hired man at a total expense of say 35 or 40 cents. It will be the skids for old age then and Father Time's sickle can be junked.

"Women as Mothers"

(Harvard, [Ill.], Independent.) Occasionally the magazines ring the bell. A recent magazine article is entitled "Women as Mothers." It coincides with our own ideas. We have always held that women make the best mothers the world has ever known.

Father's Hard Lot

(Delphi, [Ind.], Citizen-Times.) Brother's lost a button from his $14 shirt, Mother's sewing fasteners on her $40 skirt, Sister's nice and comfy in her $80
fur,
And father works like 60 for his $30 per.

This Ought To Please Everybody

(Greenfield, [Iowa], Free Press.) Latest news reports are that the strike germ is abroad in the land again. Men are out in New York and Chicago. Shoemakers making $75 a week want a 100 per cent raise. Will the government please give each person a million and a beautiful bungalow with steam heat, a movie show and a choochoo car.

Found Warming Pan Useful

Senator Hiram Johnson said at a dinner in New York:
"Through misgovernment civilization nearly came a cropper in the world war. Civilization will come a cropper yet—unless we all work together for government of the scientific, rational kind.
"It is sheer luck that the world gets on, misgoverned as it is. Yes, it is sheer luck of the Jonathan Dewsbury kind.
"Jonathan Dewsbury, a New England merchant, astonished his friends by sending a shipload of brass warming pans to Cuba, of all places.
But Jonathan's friends were still more astonished when they heard that the warming pans had sold like hot cakes to the Cuban sugar planters at a stiff price. The planters, you see, found them most convenient for skimming the rats off their mollasses vats, where those sweet-toothed creatures had a nasty habit of getting stuck while feeding."
"It takes a live fish to go up stream; any dead one can go down."

He Likes 'Em That Way

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Representative Bell of Georgia sent a number of eulogies on dead unent and received a warm letter of thanks for his trouble.
"Send me all of those eulogies that you can get," the correspondent wrote. "I'm always glad to hear of another dead congressman."

"It's a Lucky Day for You"

says the Good Judge

When you learn about the Real Tobacco Chew.

A small chew of rich tobacco lasts so much longer than the old kind.

You don't need a fresh chew so often. That's why it costs less to use.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

LOOK AT THE

LEG OF LAMB

we offer you for roasting.
Note its beautiful color, its firm texture. And its real lamb, too. No yearling or young mutton about it. And good as it looks, it will taste better. Each morsel will taste like more and each will be a treat. Won't cost you any more than common meat, either. Better try one today.
