

VOTE FOR
Frank O. Lowden
 Governor of Illinois
 in the Republican Primaries May 21

If nominated for President, Governor Lowden will, in the opinion of the leaders, unite all factions of the party. He is perhaps the only candidate mentioned acceptable to the old leaders as well as to the Progressive element. He has succeeded in uniting all elements in the Republican party in Illinois, and even the Democratic state convention, in 1918, unanimously passed a resolution commending Governor Lowden for his patriotism and splendid business administration, an unusual action heretofore unheard of by an opposite political party in the history of Illinois, or any other state, for that matter.

ROYAL ACCUSE CALUMET OF DECEIVING INDEPENDENCE

The Royal Baking Powder Co. doesn't like the arguments agents canvassing in Independence for Calumet baking powder; in fact they accuse the Calumet representatives of making erroneous statements about Royal. So the Royals came here and obtained testimony from women who heard the Calumeters tell their story. Something is liable to "rise" from it.

visit to Philadelphia and Independence Hall where she had a most satisfying look at the "Old Liberty Bell." She remarked, "When I saw it as they were taking it thru the West, I never thought I'd stand in old Independence Hall and get a good look at it and even get to touch it." At Cincinnati and Louisville she visited relatives. At the latter place she was impressed with Southern hospitality and "nigger servants." She made a run to the "Windy City," Kansas City, Brigham Young's town, Salt Lake City, and Denver, the mile high city. At Los Angeles she enjoyed the side trips and San Francisco did not escape her, while Independence represented the end of a perfect pleasure trip.
