WORLD'S POOREST CITY IS MADE RICHEST BY TOURIST TRAVEL

From the poorest republic in the world to the richest is what tourists travel did for Switzerland. That little republic practically unknown a century ago is now recognized the world over as a playground for tourists because its scenic beauties were capitalized.

Data showing what the tourist business has done for Switzerland has been prepared by Alfred A. Aya representing the Swift interests in Oregon and turned over to the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to be used in connection with its state-wide expansion campaign now in progress.

It has a direct bearing on the campaign by reason of the fact that one of the chief arguments being used by the State Chamber is that cities are spending huge sums to advertise their interests along civic industrial lines. In the article prepared by Mr. Aya showing the economic value of tourist travel he says:

"It is estimated that tourists annually spend more than $750,000,000 in the United States. Of this sum it is estimated Maine and Colorado receive close to $50,000,000; the New England states close to $100,000,000; Florida close to $200,000,000 and southern California close to $300,000,000—while in 1918 it was estimated that Oregon with scenery second to none in the world received less than $5,000,000 from this source.

"The best example in the world of the possibilities of the tourist business is Switzerland, with an area of 15,965 square miles, or about one-third larger than Harney county in eastern Oregon.

"The Swiss did not consciously begin development of the tourist business until about 100 years ago, starting with the single guest in the spare room until today the little republic has, according to the latest hotel guide, 959 hotels and doubles its population annually through the tourists. It is said the little village of St. Moritz has few over fifty native population, but 2700 beds for tourists."

Specific cities cited by the State to advertise their possibilities include Chamber that are spending huge sums San Francisco which is now raising a fund of $250,000. Seattle now engaged in raising $250,000 and New Orleans which put $100,000 into an advertising campaign.

A ROW OVER AN INDEPENDENCE GIRL

 the editor of the News and he replied as follows:

"We accept your challenge. Your views on beauty are nonsensical. Portland women have beautiful complexions because the climate is mild and moist. The Portland climate is neither dry nor salt. Portland is known throughout the world as the City of Roses. The roses bloom in our gardens and the blush of the rose is on every woman's cheek."

Then The Polk County Post butted in. It declared that if Ziegfeld really wished to see the "most beautiful salesgirl in America" he would have to get off the train in Independence and finished the declaration with this challenge:

"We have the same climate as Portland. We have the roses too and not only is the blush of the rose on every woman's cheek, but the nectar of the hop is a tonic to the dimples of fair maidens creating a beauty in conjunction with the blush of the rose that is unbelievable to man unless with his own eyes he has beheld it."

The editor of the News at once realizing that he would not be able to put over a Portland girl against such competition alleges that The Post's candidate is not eligible inasmuch as she is not a salesgirl. But she is a salesgirl just the same. While it's true she doesn't sell goods over the counter she waits upon the public in another way for so much per and does a good job of it. She is eligible.

As a matter of fact, the editor of the News is seeking to ascertain the identity of The Post's candidate that he may secure for her more profitable employment in Portland thus making her a resident of that city and the candidate of the News.

But The Post does not propose to be caught napping. No, sir! Our candidate outclasses anything in Portland and were we to speak her name, all would praise our judgment. Friends and beaux would crowd us off the walk boosting for her.

So it is that The Polk County Post and the Portland News are in a row over a girl.

P. S.: Ziegfeld's statement that

Dolores is the most beautiful creature alive we deny. Dolores is a ham.

TREASURE CAST UP BY SEA

British Coast Practically Patrolled at All Times by Parties in Search of It.

The seashore may sound a curious place on which to seek for treasure trove. But such is the case, nevertheless. Along the east coast of England, and the English channel, some parts of the Bristol channel, the Welsh coast, and the coasts of Ireland, one finds parties of treasure seekers. Wet and dry, summer and winter, they spend their time on the shore following the tide as it ebbs out to sea, and carefully, minutely examining the beach, and crevices of rock, and shallow pools. Some carry a rake, with two long iron prongs, others just a prod of wood or iron. With this they ferret among the gravel and sand, and crannies in the rocks, casting aside the seaweed, and exploring each spot very searchingly. Their rake or prod at last strikes something hard, there is a ring, a touch, of metal encountering metal, and a coin is brought to the surface. Sometimes it is only a copper, sometimes a shilling or a half-crown, but again, sometimes it is a gold coin struck with the head of some monarch who reigned two or more hundred years ago. At Whitby in the north of England, a case of gold sovereigns was found by one of these parties.

"So the baseball season is on again."

"Yes, and the husbands who couldn't possibly get home to dinner before seven o'clock, will be quitting their offices at three every afternoon."

FLYING FATALITIES.

Of the 74 flying fatalities in the United States air service during 1919, 83 per cent are attributed to the fault or carelessness of the pilot as the primary cause, and 8 per cent to the failure of the plane.

DEMOCRATIC CONTROL FOR STATE CHAMBER

Subscribers to Budget Will Have Voice in Matter of Expenditures.

"After I have subscribed to the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, what part will I have in the organization?"

This question is frequently heard in connection with the State Chamber expansion movement now in progress. The answer is that all subscribers will have a voice in saying how the money will be spent. By this and other methods the fundamental democracy of the organization is assured. Of course the Board of Directors,—to which every member is eligible,—will actually expend the funds of the organization; but they will be guided in their expenditures by the wishes of the subscribers.

To determine what the subscribers want the State Chamber to do, group meetings will be held in every center of population in the state, when all subscribers will be called together and asked to answer, in writing, the following questions:

1. What can the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce do to improve conditions of opportunities in your own line of business or profession?
2. What do you believe the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce should do to advance the interests of your own community?
3. What in your opinion as a citizen, is the thing of first importance for the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce to do for the good of the state as a whole?

After these group meetings have been held under the direction of the executive committee in charge of the campaign, each district will select one representative to attend a convention with the officers and directors of the State Chamber, and the answers to the questions will be formulated into a program of activities designed to unite the entire state on definite tasks.

The program of work will also control expenditures. When work is started on this program the directors will follow their present practice of submitting questions of wide importance by means of referendum.

The Directors represent every city and county in the state. Representation on the Board is arranged geographically and not based on population. Eastern Oregon is represented by five Directors, Western Oregon by five, Multnomah County by two, and there are three at large; making a total of fifteen, which avoids the possibility of control by any one section.

To sum up: The State Chamber will do what the subscribers themselves say should be done. It will function through a Board of Directors elected by delegates and officers, including an executive secretary elected by the Board. Voting will be done by constituent members. Individual subscribers help make up the program of activities and carry them to completion through committee service.
