SAFETY IN SETTING LADDERS

Only a Little Thought Necessary to Determine Just What is the Proper Angle.

When raising a ladder to sweep off a cornice, to hang a picture, or for any other purpose, one should know at just what angle to place it that it may be safest to him who has to stand upon it.

A series of experiments described in Safety News has demonstrated that the greatest degree of safety is obtained by placing the ladder about one-quarter its length from the wall. This gives an angle of 75 degrees. If the ladder be placed further from the wall it is likely to slip, and the weight of the workman may put too great a strain upon it. If it be placed close to the wall there is the possibility of the weight of the workman overbalancing it and making it fall backward; besides, as he nears the top, his feet are likely to have insufficient room when projecting between the rungs.

Safety News points out also that all ladders should have their feet shod with points or rubber in order that they may take a sure grip on the floor and not slip.

REALISM IN OPERA.

It is doubtful whether "I Pagliaccio" could be other than a masterpiece, considering the circumstances in which it was written, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. As a boy, Leoncavallo (whose death was recorded some time ago) was present at a suburban theater in Naples, when he saw a thrilling love drama enacted in real life on the stage, while as in the opera, the audience applauded wildly what they thought to be intense realism. Leoncavallo's father's valet was the rival lover, and was in the theater at the time. The actor sent for him and stabbed him behind the scenes. There was a further personal link in the drama. Leoncavallo's father was a judge, and it fell to his task to try the actor-murderer and to sentence him to 20 years' imprisonment.

MOUNTAIN TRADITIONS.

"Rip Van Winkle," said the teacher who keeps the class interested by telling stories, "went into the mountains, took a drink with some strange people and slept for 20 years."

"I don't doubt it," commented the tall, slim scholar. "There's no tellin' what some o' this moonshine lickin' will do to a man."

TOUGH YEAR ON 'EM.

"It seems like a mad world."

"It is. There is so much unrest about."

"Yes. With everybody seemingly intent on violence I fancy this is going to be a bad year for baseball umpires."

CURRENCY INFLATION.

The paper currency of 30 principal countries of the world at the beginning of the war aggregated a little over $7,000,000,000. At the end of the war, November, 1918, it was $40,000,000,000, and in December, 1919, it totaled $51,000,000,000, these figures being in round terms and exclusive of the currency issues of the bolshevik government, which alone are estimated at $34,000,000,000.

PREPONDANCE OF WOMEN "VOTERS." With 58,264 more women than men. North Carolina is next with a woman majority of 15,288, and South Carolina, with 10,307, is third. In Rhode Island women of voting age outnumber men by 3,196, and in Massachusetts by 1,292.
