MISS TURNER'S PUPILS APPEAR IN RECITAL

Musical folk, especially lovers of the violin, greeted the pupils of Miss Joy Turner at the Methodist church last Monday evening. The program was presented by a combination of talented pupils from Independence, Monmouth, Woodburn and Salem. Independence violin pupils taking part were Jacob Lindouer, Margaret Eddy, Martha Hill, Glen Burright, Lenore Myers. Carol Smith and Galena Kurze were unable to be present. Jacob Lindouer, as a "little farmer lad" in "Innocence" was certainly at home with the "fiddle on the bow." Tiny Margaret Eddy, one of the youngest pupils, deserves special mention for the excellent ease and intelligence shown in her interpretation of the "Evening Bells." She is a student of much promise. Martha Hill was exceptional and enjoyable in "Danse Rustique." She bowed with a firm and expressive touch and displayed artistic temperament in her number. Glen Burright very ambitiously rendered "Up In A Swing." His tones were full of appealing sweetness and excellent expression. Lenore Myers appeared only in the ensemble numbers. Miss Turner has achieved the wonderful in the ensemble work of the violin. Each pupil taking part had his piece committed perfectly adding much credit to their instructor. The trio accompanied by the muted violin ensemble made a decided "hit," but the youngsters could not be recalled. Miss Helen Cornelius, an Independence favorite, was the climax of the evening. Her numbers, "On The Lake," and "Il Trovatore," were not only executed with technical skill and real musical expression, but with individuality and sympathy, producing a brilliant interpretation. The audience clamored for more and was disappointed that applause did not succeed in bringing another number from the talented artist.

WALKER BROS. Aug. 6.

A WHITE ROSE LASSIE

Dedicated to Margaret Dunsmore Macy by John Lawrence, Sarnia, Ont., Canada. Mr. Lawrence is a brother-in-law of Dr. Dunsmore. Last summer he and Mrs. Lawrence visited the Macys who at that time were living in Salem.

I kenn'd a lassie,
A bonnie wee lassie,
She lived in Salem City wi' her Ma.
They talk of lovely flowers,
That grow in sylvan bowers,
But the White Rose of Salem beats them a'.

She's sweet's the fairest lily
That decks Willamette Valley,
She's the fairest flower in that
Vale that grows,
She's pure as the daisy,
The bonnie moutain daisie,
Margaret, my Salem White Rose.

She's her grandpa's special treasure,
He adores her beyond measure
She's the sweetest child her dear
grand-daddy knows,
He surely would be grievin'
Thinkin' life scare the living,
If he lost his bonnie Salem White
Rose.

And when in after years,
He has left this vale of tears,
And his usefu' life has drawn to a close,
I'll be very much mistaken,
If some ither hearts aint achin'
For a smile from my Salem White
Rose.
